The Neat House Gardens Early Market Gardening Around London:

The Neat House Gardens Malcolm Thick, 1998 This book thus extends far beyond an obscure corner of seventeenth century London to demand the attention of the historian The Gardens of the British Working Class Margaret Willes, 2014-04-29 This magnificently illustrated people's history celebrates the extraordinary feats of cultivation by the working class in Britain even if the land they toiled planted and loved was not their own Spanning more than four centuries from the earliest records of the laboring classes in the country to today Margaret Willes's research unearths lush gardens nurtured outside rough workers cottages and horticultural miracles performed in blackened yards and reveals the ingenious sometimes devious methods employed by determined obsessive and eccentric workers to make their drab surroundings bloom She also explores the stories of the great philanthropic industrialists who provided gardens for their workforces the fashionable rich stealing the gardening ideas of the poor alehouse syndicates and fierce rivalries between vegetable growers flower fanciers cultivating exotic blooms on their city windowsills and the rich lore handed down from gardener to gardener through generations This is a sumptuous record of the myriad ways in which the popular cultivation of plants vegetables and flowers has played and continues to play an integral role in everyday British life England's Magnificent Gardens Roderick Floud, 2021-06-15 An altogether different kind of book on English gardens the first of its kind a look at the history of England's magnificent gardens as a history of Britain itself from the seventeenth century gardens of Charles II to those of Prince Charles today In this rich revelatory history Sir Roderick Floud one of Britain's preeminent economic historians writes that gardens have been created in Britain since Roman times but that their true growth began in the seventeenth century by the eighteenth century nurseries in London took up 100 acres with ten million plants that were worth more than all of the nurseries in France combined Floud's book takes us through more than three centuries of English history as he writes of the kings queens and princes whose garden obsessions changed the landscape of England itself from Stuart Georgian and Victorian England to today's Windsors Here are William and Mary who brought Dutch gardens and bulbs to Britain William who twice had his entire garden lowered in order to see the river from his apartments and his successor Queen Anne who like many others since vowed to spend little on her gardens and instead spent millions Floud also writes of Frederick Prince of Wales the founder of Kew Gardens who spent more than 40 000 on a single twenty five foot tulip tree for Carlton House Queen Victoria who built the largest most advanced and most efficient kitchen garden in Britain and Prince Charles who created and designed the gardens of Highgrove inspired by his boyhood memories of his grandmother's gardens We see Sarah Duchess of Marlborough who created a magnificent garden at Blenheim Palace only to tear it apart and build a greater one Deborah Duchess of Devonshire the savior of Chatsworth's 100 acre garden in the midst of its 35 000 acres and the gardens of lesser mortals among them Gertrude Jekyll and Vita Sackville West both notable garden designers and writers We see the designers of royal estates among them Henry Wise William Kent Humphrey Repton and the greatest of all English gardeners Capability Brown who created the 150 acre lake of Blenheim Palace earned millions annually and designed more than 170 parks many still in existence today We learn how gardening became a major catalyst for innovation central heating came from experiments to heat greenhouses with hot water pipes how the new iron industry of industrializing Britain supplied a myriad of tools mowers pumps and the boilers that heated the greenhouses and finally Floud explores how gardening became an enormous industry as well as an art form in Britain and by the nineteenth century was unrivaled anywhere in the world The Making of the English Gardener Margaret Willes,2011-08-30 The people and publications at the root of a national obsession Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand Joanna Boileau,2017-07-27 This book offers a fresh perspective on the Chinese diaspora It is about the mobilisation of knowledge across time and space exploring the history of Chinese market gardening in Australia and New Zealand It enlarges our understanding of processes of technological change and human mobility highlighting the mobility of migrants as an essential element in the mobility and adaptation of technologies Truly multidisciplinary Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand incorporates elements of economic agricultural social cultural and environmental history along with archaeology to document how Chinese market gardeners from subtropical southern China adapted their horticultural techniques and technologies to novel environments and the demands of European consumers It shows that they made a significant contribution to the economies of Australia and New Zealand developing flexible strategies to cope with the vagaries of climate and changing business and social environments which were often hostile towards Asian immigrants Chinese Market Gardening in Australia and New Zealand will appeal to students and scholars in the fields of the Chinese diaspora in particular the history of the Chinese in Australasia the history of technology horticultural and garden history and environmental history as well as Asian studies more generally The Winter Harvest Handbook Eliot Coleman,2009-03-31 Eliot Coleman offers clear concise details on greenhouse construction maintenance planting schedules crop management harvesting practices marketing methods in this guide Market Gardening Ronald Webber,1972 Sir Hugh Plat Malcolm Thick,2010 The first biography of an important Tudor scientist Medicine, Madness and Social History Roy Porter,2007-06-15 Honoring and extending the work of historian Roy Porter this volume offers lively accessible and often topical chapters presenting original research on the social history of medicine madness and the Enlightenment Journal of the Royal Horticultural Society of London Royal Horticultural Society (Great Britain),1945 Volumes for 1869 1952 include Extracts from the proceedings of the Royal Horticultural Society The Fruit, Herbs and Vegetables of Italy Giacomo Castelvetro,2012 This early 17th century book was written by the Italian refugee Giacomo Castelvetro The Garden [London] ,1892 Journal of Horticulture and Practical Gardening ,1888 The Index Library ,2014 For list of publications see covers pt 28 30 April June 1890 p x pt 82 December 1900 p iii iv Royal Historical Society Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History: Publications of 1998 Austin Gee,1999-10-28 The Royal Historical Society s Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History
