A Hanging Offense Buckner Melton, 2007-11-01 Mutiny on the Bounty is one of history's greatest naval stories yet few know the similar tale from America's own fledgling navy in the dying days of the Age of Sail a tale of mutiny and death at sea on an American warship In 1842 the brig of war Somers set out on a training cruise for apprentice seamen commanded by rising star Alexander Mackenzie Somers was crammed with teenagers Among them was Acting Midshipman Philip Spencer a disturbed youth and a son of the U S Secretary of War Buying other crew members loyalty with pilfered tobacco and alcohol Spencer dreamed up a scheme to kill the officers and turn Somers into a pirate ship In the isolated world of a warship a single man can threaten the crew's discipline and the captain's authority But one of Spencer's followers warned Mackenzie who arrested the midshipman and chained him and other ringleaders to the quarterdeck Fearing efforts to rescue the prisoners officers had to stay awake in round the clock watches Steering desperately for land sleep deprived and armed to the teeth battling efforts to liberate Spencer Somers's captain and officers finally faced a fateful choice somehow keep control of the vessel until reaching port still hundreds of miles away or hang the midshipman and his two leading henchmen before the boys could take over the ship The results shook the nation A naval investigation of the affair turned into a court martial and a state trial and led to the founding of the Naval Academy to provide better officers for the still young republic Mackenzie's controversial decision may have inspired Herman Melville's great work Billy Budd The story of Somers raises timeless questions still disturbing in twenty first century America the relationship between civil and military law the hazy line between peace and war the battle between individual rights and national security and the ultimate challenge of command at sea

Welsh prisoners in the prison estate Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Welsh Affairs Committee, 2007-06-06 The Committee undertook this inquiry to address concerns about the imprisonment of Welsh prisoners outside Wales At present there are only four prisons in Wales all in the South and there is little provision for juveniles and no prisons for women The overcrowding means that Welsh prisoners have a reduced chance of serving their sentence near home and reduces the chances of successful resettlement on release The Committee believe there should be new prison places in North Wales separate provision for young offenders and a new approach to women prisoners along the lines suggested by Baroness Corston The report also address concerns about support services for mental illness amongst prisoners the amount of Welsh language provision and education services

Cannibal Talk Gananath Obeyesekere, 2005-06-06 In this radical reexamination of the notion of cannibalism Gananath Obeyesekere offers a fascinating and convincing argument that cannibalism is mostly cannibal talk a discourse on the Other engaged in by both indigenous peoples and colonial intruders that results in sometimes funny and sometimes deadly cultural misunderstandings Turning his keen intelligence to Polynesian societies in the early periods of European contact and colonization Obeyesekere deconstructs Western eyewitness accounts carefully examining their origins and treating them as a species of fiction writing and seamen's yarns Cannibalism is less a social or cultural fact than a mythic representation of European writing that reflects much more the realities of European societies and their fascination with the practice of cannibalism he argues And while very limited forms of cannibalism might have occurred in Polynesian societies they were largely in connection with human sacrifice and carried out by a select community in well defined sacramental rituals Cannibal Talk considers how the colonial intrusion produced a complex self fulfilling prophecy whereby the fantasy of cannibalism became a reality as natives on occasion began to eat both Europeans and their own enemies in acts of conspicuous anthropophagy
