Music in Lubavitcher Life Ellen Koskoff, 2000-11-06 Music in Lubavitcher Life illuminates the world of the Lubavitcher Hasidim a community of ultra orthodox Jews centered in the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn New York Drawing primarily on twenty years of close study of the Lubavitcher community Ellen Koskoff combines lively anecdotes with historical background and musical analysis to reveal music making among the Lubavitchers as a gateway to their ideas about the nature of human spirituality human social interaction and God

Lubavitcher music centers on the nigunim a body of paraliturgical folk and popular melodies that Lubavitchers regard as a primary form of spiritual communication with the divine For a song to be included in the repertory of nigunim it must conform to Hasidic religious and aesthetic principles If brought in from the outside it must be purified stripped of its coarse outer shell usually the text and recomposed in accordance with coded musical structures including certain melody types ornamentation and formal organization

Performance of nigunim adheres among other things to a process associated with the spirituality of the great Hasidic leaders of the past

Along with vivid descriptions of musical performance in religious contexts and private gatherings Koskoff details the musical sounds and structures that symbolize Lubavitcher social relations In particular she examines the differences between Lubavitcher women s and men s music making and the underlying beliefs and assumptions that give rise to gendered musical behaviors such as the dictum that prohibits men from hearing a woman sing

An insightful portrait of a distinctive community s musical and religious life Music in Lubavitcher Life is also a candid view of ethnographic research and of fieldwork s illusory objectivity
