Tanganyika Rifles Mutiny, January 1964 Tanzania People's Defence Forces, 1998      Tanganyika Rifles Mutiny Tanzania. Peoples Defence Force, 1993 The 1964 mutiny of the army in the then Tanganyika has remained an enigma Was it a mutiny or a coup Was it a worker s strike Who was the principal actor who ruled the country during that week where was the President and who called in the British Commandos to quell the mutiny These questions are faced squarely and it is argued that the colonial military establishments inherited at independence were quasi mercenary armies modelled on the British command structure And despite other influences the military intervention was a rebellion against the British command structure The imperialist dimension of the issue is emphasised including the irony of Tanganyika seeking the aid of the former imperial power to force their own troops to submit to African rule      Dissent, Protest and Dispute in Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel Mbah, 2016-12-19 This book provides unique and detailed perspectives on different aspects of dissent protest and disputes and how these have in turn continued to pose challenges in Africa The contributors argue that dissent protest and most forms of disputes in Africa are the result of daily challenges that its people have faced and continue to encounter to this day These challenges include amongst others demands for transparency good governance and accountability waves of instability that have created insecurity in most parts of the continent an unsustainable level of youth unemployment rapid population growth a continent wide healthcare and poverty crises and numerous environmental challenges The chapters elevate the debates on dissent protest and disputes conflict in Africa by adding new ideas and introducing new and useful interpretations The book s strength lies in the contributors ability to conflate colonial and postcolonial tendencies to show how challenges of the past are not so different from those of today while also presenting important historical issues from various scholarly perspectives Dissent Protest and Dispute in Africa will be of interest for students and scholars of African history politics and culture as well as those interested in social movements and civil society

The Dar Mutiny of 1964 Tony Laurence, 2010 Originally published Brighton England Book Guild 2007      Dancing with Destiny Urmila Jhaveri, 2014-02-10 Our forefathers from India sailed by dhow to Africa in search of adventure and greener pastures Often these young pioneers arrived in East Africa as teenagers with stars shining in their eyes and little else in their pockets And all of them have a fascinating story to tell My parents were also one such family I grew up in Dar es Salaam and got married and we personally participated in momentous events taking place in Tanzania I have endeavored to draw a word picture of our experiences and present this memoir as my tribute to all those who are young at heart      Generations Past Andrew Burton, Hélène Charton-Bigot, 2010-09-15 Contemporary Africa is demographically characterized above all else by its youthfulness In East Africa the median age of the population is now a striking 17.5 years and more than 65 percent of the population is age 24 or under This situation has attracted growing scholarly attention resulting in an important and rapidly expanding literature on the position of youth in African societies While the scholarship examining the contemporary role of youth in African societies is rich and growing the historical dimension has been largely neglected in the literature thus far Generations Past seeks to address this gap through a wide ranging selection of essays that covers an array of youth related themes in historical perspective Thirteen chapters explore the historical dimensions of youth in nineteenth twentieth and twenty first century Ugandan Tanzanian and Kenyan societies Key themes running through the book include the analytical utility of youth as a social category intergenerational relations and the passage of time youth as a social and political problem sex and gender roles among East African youth and youth as historical agents of change The strong list of contributors includes prominent scholars of the region and the collection encompasses a good geographical spread of all three East African countries
