Tangled Sheets And Other Stories:

Singularity and Other Stories Melanie Tem, 2018-02-28 Singularity gathers award winning writer Melanie Tem's most important short fiction highlighting her diversity and mastery of her art. The sixty stories collected here range from Sitting with the Driver a western with a dark woman at its center to Little Shit a contemporary tale of a woman who uses her deceptive appearance and psychic power to trap those who prey on the helpless. The child in Corn longs not only to become a part of an alien family but also to become an alien. And in the title tale a man studies singularities and string theory to both understand and blind himself to the truth about the woman he loves. Although the story is not science fiction its exploration of physics is as rigorous as that found in the best sf. Here you will find no triumphant warriors no powerful and beautiful protagonists no monsters from beyond the dark cold void or madmen bent on conquest. Tem's characters are mothers and siblings orphans and lonely seniors. Her stories are often about family and always about relationships. Even though Kelly is the only character in Iced in the bitter truth that lies at the story's heart is that she is doomed by her failure to maintain relationships. Melanie Tem's stories are often haunted by ghosts and monsters ghosts and monsters revealed as all too human. In Singularity she explores the love and terror that lie deep within all of us. Damage & Other Stories

Poornima Manco, 2020-01-04 Are damaged people destined to inflict damage? A young boy sidelined for being different an artist unable to distance herself from her past a famed actress past her prime a Casanova who plays women but is acutely aware of his loneliness. These are some amongst the various tales of damaged people seeking escape fulfilment or acceptance. Some long some short these sixteen stories have common themes of unhappy marriages of secrets and lies pleasure and guilt of children letting down parents and vice versa of women of a certain age and whether they've still got it of entitled and misogynistic men and of the hypocrisy and double standards within Indian society. With original and unexpected angles these tales explore the darkness that underpins the often ordinary lives of people. Thought provoking intense and evocative these stories will transport you into the heart of India where tradition and modernity collide often with devastating results. The Naked Song and Other Stories

Mandla Langa, 1996 The Middleman Bharati Mukherjee, 2007-12-01 A National Book Critics Circle Award winner and New York Times Notable Book intelligent versatile profound stories of migration in America. The Washington Post Book World Illuminating a new world of people in migration that has transformed the essence of America these collected stories are a dazzling display of the vision of this critically acclaimed contemporary writer. An aristocratic Filipina negotiates a new life for herself with an Atlanta investment banker. A Vietnam vet returns to Florida a place now more foreign than the Asia of his war experience. An Indian widow tries to explain her culture's traditions of grieving to her well intentioned friends. And in the title story an Iraqi Jew whose travels have ended in Queens suddenly finds himself an unwitting guerrilla in a South American jungle. Passionate comic violent and tender these stories draw us into a cultural fusion in the midst of its birth pangs expressing a consummated romance with the American language. The New York

Times Book Review Dancing Girls and Other Stories Margaret Atwood, 2010-12-17 Dancing Girls is Margaret Atwood's highly praised first collection of short fiction. In it she explores the dark intricacies of the mind, the complexities of human relationships, and the clashes between cultures. In the stories, the mundane and the bizarre intersect in unexpected ways: ex-wives indulge in an odd feast at a psychiatrist's funeral; a young student is pursued by an obsessed immigrant; an old woman stores up supplies against an impending cataclysm. The fourteen stories range in setting from Canada to England, from Mexico to the United States, and portray characters who touch us and arouse in us compassion and understanding. In this astonishing collection, Margaret Atwood maps human motivation we scarcely know we have. Killing Time and Other Stories Joel Townsley Rogers, 2007-11 From THE JURY BOX Jon Breen's critical column in ELLERY QUEEN Mystery Magazine Joel Townsley Rogers' Killing Time and Other Stories, with introduction and afterword by Alfred Jan Ramble House, Six longish pulp stories dating from 1934 to 1947 represent an undervalued writer. The title story about a disabled World War II veteran trying to break into mystery writing offers affectionate parody and fair play detection, while the magazine version of the classic The Red Right Hand captures its offbeat flavor only slightly less effectively than at full length. The outre plots often involve coincidence, though not to the fantastical extent of Harry Stephen Keeler, whose complete works are offered by Ramble House. An indispensable companion is the earlier Rogers collection Night of Horror and Other Stories, Ramble House including the much anthologized minor classic The Murderer and a Rogers bibliography compiled by son Tom Rogers, expanded by Francis M. Nevins. And here's what four of America's favorite authors about town have to say about Ramble House's two Joel Townsley Rogers collections: NIGHT OF HORROR and KILLING TIME. Rogers was the real deal, author of a true masterpiece, The Red Right Hand, and a pulp man who could and did do it all. If you want the strong heady thrill of genuine pulp, and not the pale imitation that came later, latch on to both of these collections immediately. Ed Gorman Killing Time collects six pulp novellas by Joel Townsley Rogers, including the original version of the classic The Red Right Hand along with a story about a pulp writer and a story with a character named Captain Sparrow, whom I like to think is a distant cousin to the famous Pirate of the Caribbean. Highly recommended. Bill Crider The six tales gathered here are among Joel Townsley Rogers' most accomplished pulp magazine contributions of the 30s and 40s: cleverly plotted, highly atmospheric, suspenseful, and dripping with menace. The original magazine version of his classic crime novel The Red Right Hand and Alfred Jan's insightful analyses of Rogers' work are the highlights. Killing Time is a must for every connoisseur of vintage crime fiction. Bill Pronzini Ramble House has specialized in bringing neglected and sometimes alternative geniuses back into print. First came the great Harry Stephen Keeler, then the so clever Norman Berrow. More recently, Ramble House has been sparking the rehabilitation of Joel Townsley Rogers, a versatile and prolific author who seemed to be totally forgotten, save for one novel, The Red Right Hand. Killing Time is the second Ramble House collection of Rogers' shorter fiction, and every story in it, from the 1934 Murder of the Dead Man to the 1947 title story, hits with a wallop and a sting. Bravo, Bravissimo! Richard A.

When Things Get Back to Normal and Other Stories

Constance Pierce, 1986 In a tone at once comic gothic and deceptively pastoral the stories in this collection continue the tradition of Hawthorne Poe and James Americans pursuing a dialectic with Europe but in a late 20th century context Constance Pierce's characters with their fetishes for food and property hide their eyes with daydreams hallucinations and enormous feats of rationale in their longing to return to the happy normal state they tell themselves they once enjoyed but which likely never existed at all Subtly questioning their characters' illusions and nostalgia these stories set in such territory as World War II Germany the French countryside and Long Island Sound address the often nebulous relationships between private and public life old and new ideas fantasy and reality
