Tapa from Tonga Donna Sue Thomas,Peter Thomas,Miniature Book Society. Grand Conclave,1993 Sinuous Objects Anna-Karina Hermkens,Katherine Lepani,2017-08-18 Some 40 years ago Pacific anthropology was dominated by debates about women s wealth These exchanges were generated by Annette Weiner s 1976 critical reappraisal of Bronis aw Malinowski s classic work on the Trobriand Islands and her observations that women s production of wealth banana leaf bundles and skirts for elaborate transactions in mortuary rituals occupied a central role in Trobriand matrilineal cosmology and social organisation This volume brings the debates about women s wealth back to the fore by critically revisiting and engaging with ideas about gender and materiality value relationality and the social life and agency of things The chapters interspersed by three poems evoke the sinuous materiality of the different objects made by women across the Pacific and the intimate relationship between these objects of value and sensuous gendered bodies In the Epilogue Professor Margaret Jolly observes how the volume also trace s a more abstract sinuosity in the movement of these things through time and place as they coil through different regimes of value The eight chapters trace winding paths across the contemporary Pacific from the Trobriands in Milne Bay to Maisin Wanigela and Korafe in Oro Province Papua New Guinea through the islands of Tonga to diasporic Tongan and Cook Islander communities in New Zealand This comparative perspective elucidates how women s wealth is defined valued and contested in current exchanges bride price debates church settings development projects and the challenges of living in diaspora Importantly this reveals how women themselves preserve the different values and meanings in gift giving and exchanges despite processes of commodification that have resulted in the decline or replacement of women s wealth

Small,2011-11-15 In Voyages Cathy A Small offers a view of the changes in migration globalization and ethnographic fieldwork over three decades The second edition adds fresh descriptions and narratives in three new chapters based on two more visits to Tonga and California in 2010 The author whose role after thirty years of fieldwork is both ethnographer and family member reintroduces the reader to four sisters in the same family two who migrated to the United States and two who remained in Tonga and reveals what has unfolded in their lives in the fifteen years since the first edition was written The second edition concludes with new reflections on how immigration and globalization have affected family economy tradition political life identity and the practice of anthropology

Unwrapping Tongan Barkcloth Fanny Wonu Veys,2017-01-26 Tongan barkcloth made from the inner bark of the paper mulberry tree still features lavishly in Polynesian ceremonies all over the world Yet despite the attention paid to this textile by anthropologists and art historians alike little is known about its history Providing a unique insight into Polynesian material culture this book explores barkcloth s rich cultural history and argues that its manufacture decoration and use are vehicles of creativity and female agency Based on twelve years of extensive ethnographic and archival research the book uncovers stories of ceremony gender the senses religion and nationhood from the 17th century up to the present day Placing the materiality of textiles at the heart of Tongan culture Veys reveals not only how barkcloth was and continues to be made but also how it defines what it means to be Tongan Extending the study to explore the place of barkcloth in the European imagination she examines international museum collections of Tongan barkcloth from the UK and Italy to Switzerland and the USA addressing the bias of the European gaze and challenging

Pacific Tapa Roger Neich,Mick Pendergrast,2005-01-31 Auckland Museum's collection of tapa cloth from around the Pacific is one of the most extensive in the world and it forms the basis of this comprehensive survey

Islanderers of the South Paul van der Grijp,2021-08-16 Islanders of the South is an ethnography of the kingdom of Tonga in the South Pacific This is the first book to examine the interplay of Polynesian and Western ideas within contemporary social and economic practices not from the point of view of Tongan aristocracy but from that of the common people The first describes contemporary Tongan society and the main means of subsistence agriculture fishing and manufacturing An analysis of the kinship system with its economic political and ideological dimensions is intertwined with a discussion of Tongan attitudes on life and death marriage and divorce social rights and obligations migration and remittances Later chapters deal with the crucial questions of land ownership and the circulation of gifts A large number of genealogies biographies and case studies help convey how Tongans live together and how they experience their relationship to nature Effects on Tonga of global developments predominantly capitalist in nature are expressed in the commercialization of the means of subsistence bringing about changes often regarded as progress The author raises doubts about this ideology of progress by referring to aspects of nature and culture in Tonga which are disappearing Up to now Tongans have largely been able to preserve the circulation of gifts and economic self sufficiency
