Caring for People with Learning Disabilities Chris Barber, 2015-03-15 From the Foreword by Cecilia Anim OBE RCN President 2015 2018 an enjoyable touching and inspirational read for all those involved in the lives of people with learning disabilities Caring for People with Learning Disabilities is a concise introduction to the subject which covers all aspects of the care and support of the learning disabilities patient for the non specialist All people with learning disabilities are entitled to the same high standard of care as people who do not have a learning disability and to have their health and care needs met in full The vast majority of student nurses practising nurses and healthcare professionals are not learning disability specialists but they still need to provide care for patients with learning disabilities often for health needs that are not related to the person's disability. The book covers a wide range of issues and aims to improve knowledge and understanding of what learning disability is and what it means to live with a learning disability. Provide practical advice and suggestions to improve the quality of care provided to people with learning disabilities. Written in a jargon-free style, the book has numerous practical examples and case studies to help the reader frame the special requirements of the learning disabilities patient in the healthcare setting. This book will help nurses and carers improve their understanding of learning disability and provide the high quality care to which people with learning disabilities are entitled. Learning Disabilities Chris Barber, 2022-04-08

Learning Disabilities is an accessible introductory textbook that will help to improve the quality of care provided to people with learning disabilities. It is aimed primarily at nursing and healthcare students who are not in the learning disabilities field of practice but are seeking to understand learning disability and become rounded practitioners. Through clear explanations, examples, and activities, the book will help you to recognise support and care for people with learning disabilities whenever you meet them in your practice. You will learn: What learning disability is and how it interacts with physical and mental health; What the role of the nurse or carer is and how to care for and provide support to people with learning disabilities; About legal issues around learning disability including discrimination, capacity, and consent; How to support people with a learning disability who are experiencing ageing and suffering bereavement; About spirituality and sexuality in relation to people with a learning disability; How to support the informal unpaid caregivers who provide daily care to a person with a learning disability and how to recognise and utilise their experience and knowledge. Written by a highly experienced author, academic, and caregiver, this book will help you to improve your understanding of learning disability and to provide the high quality care to which people with learning disabilities are entitled. Barr,Bob Gates,2018-11-22 Fully updated to meet current guidelines and standards of practice this handbook provides concise and practical information for intellectual and learning disability nurses Small enough to slip into a bag for daily reference but still highly detailed this is an invaluable resource for everyone working in the field Nursing in Criminal

Justice Services Ann Norman,Elizabeth Walsh,2014-09-29 At some point in their careers most nurses encounter patients who are directly or indirectly involved with the criminal justice system whether on hospital wards where prisoners are receiving treatment whilst guarded by prison officers in schools where children have a parent in prison or in a GP practice where patients have substance misuse issues This thought provoking book offers an understanding of the challenges and opportunities of caring for those in contact with criminal justice Written by a range of experts in the field Nursing in Criminal Justice Services takes the reader along the health and justice pathway from initial patient contact with nurses in police stations to nursing care in courts through prison nursing services and finally into the work of the multi disciplinary team in the community where nurses work alongside the probation services. It also addresses some of the broader issues facing nurses working in criminal justice settings including governance, legislation, professional development and the need to reflect on practice. Importantly, the authors challenge some frequently held beliefs about people in criminal justice settings where staff have to manage the competing priorities of providing care and ensuring security. They show how at its best this type of nursing can provide safe, compassionate care for vulnerable and often frightened people, leading to hugely improved outcomes for offenders and ultimately society as a whole.

Contents include:

- Recovery and redemption
