Spotlight on Post-war Europe Michael Gibson, 1986 Bulletin, 1995 Modern Europe, 1789-Present Asa Briggs, Patricia Clavin, 2014-06-06 Now covering the whole of Europe from the French Revolution to the present day this major new edition has been completely revised and brought up to date The approach embraces the whole continent from both national and regional perspectives and combines political survey with grass roots people history Bringing this history vividly to life the authors use a very broad range of sources including memoirs archives letters songs and newspapers In particular there is new treatment of the following themes Religion and the modern Papacy Immigration in Europe and relationships between minority and majority groups UNESCO The European Bill of Rights The seeds of conflict in Bosnia and Croatia Europe's relations with the wider world with particular attention to the Middle East and Japan New East-bloc Evidence on the Cold War in the Third World and the Collapse of Détente in the 1970s, 1996 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books, 1986 to 1987 British Library, 1988 The Routledge Handbook of Soviet and Russian Military Studies Alexander Hill, 2025-02-24 This handbook brings together historical and contemporary essays about Soviet and Russian military studies to offer a comprehensive volume on the topic Comprising essays written by acknowledged specialists the handbook examines the development of the Russian and Soviet armed forces from the Napoleonic Wars all the way through to the course and conduct of the Special Military Operation in Ukraine Divided into thematic and chronological sections the volume looks at wars fought by the Tsarist regime through to the First World War the Soviet Union's Great Patriotic War from 1941 to 1945 the Cold War including the Soviet war in Afghanistan and Russia's post Soviet wars and military development In addition the volume also includes a section that analyses a number of overarching themes including the development of Russian and Soviet airpower partisan warfare counterinsurgency and the role of women in Russian and Soviet armed forces The volume concludes with an essay looking at whether using the historical material and material on the conduct of the war in Ukraine we can reasonably talk of a Russian way of war This volume will be of considerable interest to students of the Soviet Union and Russia strategic studies and military history

How Claims Spread Joel Best, Best's anthology examines for the first time how diverse social issues road rage the metric system gun control and abortion are among those included migrate across national boundaries modifying themselves from place to place as a result of different claims claimsmakers and policy responses This unique collection assembled from new research by an international group of social problems scholars will fill a gap in undergraduate and graduate level studies in the constructionist analyses of social problems as well as in political science public policy and criminology Claims concerning one social problem often influence those about another claimsmakers borrow rhetoric and tactics from one another In some cases experienced claimsmakers join efforts to call attention to other social problems compelling images e.g. the threatened child or random violence link claims about different problems and reactions to one set of claims These case studies describe very different processes ranging from deliberate attempts to disseminate social problem claims to developments that were more inadvertent from successes in which social problem constructions spread to new countries to failures in which claims were sown but failed to take root They are intended to suggest that the diffusion of social problems is neither simple nor automatic Joel Best is professor and chair Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice University of Delaware He has served as an editorial advisor for Aldine that has produced fifty titles Rethinking European Social Democracy and Socialism Alan Granadino, Stefan Nygård, Peter Stadius, 2022-03-21 With a combined focus on social democrats in Northern and Southern Europe this book crucially broadens our understanding of the transformation of European social democracy from the mid 1970s to the early 1990s In doing so it revisits the transformation of this ideological family at the end of the Cold War and before the launch of Third Way politics and examines the dynamics and power relations at play among European social democratic parties in a context of nascent globalisation The chronological methodological and geographical approaches adopted allow for a more nuanced narrative of change for European social democracy than the hitherto dominant centric perspective This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of social democracy the European Centre left political parties ideologies and more broadly to comparative politics and European politics and history The Introduction chapter of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Two Strategies for Europe Frédéric Bozo, Susan Emanuel, 2002-07-15 This timely book explores the often stormy French U S relationship and the evolution of the Atlantic Alliance under the presidency of Charles de Gaulle 1958-1969 The first work on this subject to draw on previously inaccessible material from U S and French archives the study offers a comprehensive analysis of Gaullist policies toward NATO and the United States during the 1960s a period that reached its apogee with de Gaulle's dramatic decision in 1966 to withdraw from NATO's integrated military arm This launched the French policy of autonomy within NATO which has since been adapted without having been abandoned De Gaulle's policy often has been caricatured by admirers and detractors alike as an expression of nationalism or anti Americanism Yet Frederic Bozo argues that although it did reflect the General's quest for grandeur it also and perhaps more important stemmed from a genuine strategy designed to build an independent Europe and to help overcome the system of blocs Indeed the author contends de Gaulle's actions forced NATO to adapt to new strategic realities Retracing the different phases of de Gaulle's policies Bozo provides valuable insight into current French approaches to foreign and security policy including the recent attempt by President Chirac to redefine and normalize the France NATO relationship As the author shows de Gaulle's legacy remains vigorous as France grapples with European integration a new role within a reformed NATO and relations with the United States

Anti-liberal Europe Dieter Gosewinkel, 2015 The history of modern Europe is often presented with the hindsight of present day European integration which was a genuinely liberal project based on political and economic freedom Many other visions for Europe developed in the 20th century however were based on an idea of community rooted in pre modern religious ideas cultural or ethnic homogeneity or even in coercion and violence They frequently rejected the idea of modernity or reinterpreted it in an antiliberal manner Anti liberal Europe examines these visions including those of anti modernist Catholics conservatives extreme rightists as well as communists arguing that antiliberal concepts in 20th century Europe were not the counterpart to but instead part of the process of European integration

The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Assoc Prof Catherine Dossin, 2015-03-28 This book challenges the perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition In her transnational and interdisciplinary study Dossin analyses changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors

The Encyclopedia of the Cold War Spencer C. Tucker, 2007-09-12 A comprehensive five volume reference on the defining conflict of the second half of the 20th century covering all aspects of the Cold War as it influenced events around the world The conflict that dominated world events for nearly five decades is now captured in a multivolume work of unprecedented magnitude from a publisher widely acclaimed for its authoritative military and historical references Under the direction of internationally known military historian Spencer Tucker ABC CLIO s The Encyclopedia of the Cold War A Political Social and Military History offers the most current and comprehensive treatment ever published of the ideological conflict that not so long ago enveloped the globe From the Second World War to the collapse of the Soviet Union The Encyclopedia of the Cold War provides authoritative information on all military conflicts battlefield and surveillance technologies diplomatic initiatives important individuals and organizations national histories economic developments societal and cultural events and more The nearly 1 300 entries plus topical essays and an extraordinarily rich documents volume draw heavily on recently opened Russian Eastern European and Chinese archives The work is a definitive cornerstone reference on one of the most important historical topics of our time

State Construction and Art in East Central Europe, 1918-2018 Agnieszka Chmielewska, Irena Kossowska, Marcin Lachowski, 2022-09-19 This volume offers a comprehensive perspective on the relationship between the art scene and agencies of the state in countries of the region throughout four consecutive yet highly diverse historical periods from the period of state integration after World War I through the communist era post 1945 and the time of political transformation after 1989 to the present day globalisation including counter reactions to westernisation and cultural homogenisation With twenty three theoretically and or empirically oriented articles by authors from sixteen countries East Central Europe and beyond including the United States and Australia the book discusses interconnections between state policies and artistic institutions trends and the art market from diverse research perspectives The contributors explore subjects such as the impact of war on the formation of national identities the role of artists in image building for the new national states emerging after 1918 the impact of political systems on artists attitudes the discourses of art history museum studies monument conservation and exhibition practices The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural politics cultural history and East Central European studies and history

The Rise of Radio Astronomy in the Netherlands Astrid Elbers, 2016-11-23 Radio astronomy was born during the Second World War but as this book explains the history of early Dutch radio astronomy is in several respects rather anomalous in comparison to the development of radio astronomy in other countries The author describes how these very differences led the Netherlands to become one of the world leaders in radio astronomy Dominated by the Leiden astronomer Jan Hendrik Oort the field embarked on an era of success and to this day the country still holds a leading position To tell this story the book focuses on three key events in the period 1940 1970 namely the construction of the radio telescopes in Kootwijk 1948 in Dwingeloo 1956 and in Westerbork 1970 These projects show that Dutch radio astronomers must not be seen as merely scientists but also as strategic lobbyists networkers and organizers in a specific political and economic context It was in the process of planning designing and constructing these instruments that the interests of the astronomers industrial partners politicians and lobby groups merged to create today s existing research centers for radio astronomy British Books in Print , 1979

The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Catherine Dossin, 2016-03-03 In The Rise and Fall of American Art 1940s 1980s Catherine Dossin challenges the now mythic perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition Dossin reconstructs the concrete factors that led to the shift of international attention from Paris to New York in the 1950s and documents how peripheries such as Italy Belgium and West Germany exerted a decisive influence on this displacement of power As the US economy sank into recession in the 1970s however American artists and dealers became increasingly dependent on the support of Western Europeans and cities like Cologne and Turin emerged as major commercial and artistic hubs a development that enabled European artists to return to the forefront of the international art scene in the 1980s Dossin analyses in detail these changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors Her transnational and interdisciplinary study provides an original and welcome supplement to more traditional formal and national readings of the period Russia in a Changing World

Glenn Diesen, Alexander Lukin, 2020-04-16 This book explores Russia s efforts towards both adapting to and shaping a world in transformation Russia has been largely marginalized in the post Cold War era and has struggled to find its place in the world which means that the chaotic changes in the world present Russia with both threats and opportunities The rapid shift in the international distribution of power and emergence of a multipolar world disrupts the existing order although it also enables Russia to diversify its partnerships and restore balance Adapting to these changes involves restructuring its economy and evolving the foreign policy The crises in liberalism environmental degradation and challenge to state sovereignty undermine political and economic stability while also widening Russia's room for diplomatic maneuvering This book analyzes how Russia interprets these developments and its ability to implement the appropriate responses Black France, White Europe Emily Marker, 2022-10-15 Winner of the George Louis Beer Prize Black France White Europe illuminates the deeply entangled history of European integration and African decolonization Emily Marker maps the horizons of belonging in postwar France as leaders contemplated the inclusion of France's old African empire in the new Europe in the making European integration intensified longstanding structural contradictions of French colonial rule in Africa Would Black Africans and Black African Muslims be French If so would they then also be European What would that mean for republican France and united Europe more broadly Marker examines these questions through the lens of youth amid a surprising array of youth and education initiatives to stimulate imperial renewal and European integration from the ground up She explores how education reforms and programs promoting solidarity between French and African youth collided with transnational efforts to make young people in Western Europe feel more European She connects a particular postwar vision for European unity which coded Europe as both white and raceless Christian and secular to crucial decisions about what should be taught in African classrooms and how many scholarships to provide young Africans to study and train in France That vision of Europe also informed French responses to African student activism for racial and religious equality which ultimately turned many young francophone Africans away from France irrevocably Black France White Europe shows that the interconnected history of colonial and European youth initiatives is key to explaining why despite efforts to strengthen ties with its African colonies in the 1940s and 1950s France became more European during those years After Empires Giuliano Garavini, 2012-10-25 After Empires describes how the end of colonial empires and the changes in international politics and economies after decolonization affected the European integration process Until now studies on European integration have often focussed on the search for peaceful relations among the European nations particularly between Germany and France or examined it as an offspring of the Cold War moving together with the ups and downs of transatlantic relations But these two factors alone are not enough to explain the rise of the European Community and its more recent transformation into the European Union Giuliano Garavini focuses instead on the emergence of the Third World as an international actor starting from its initial economic cooperation with the creation of the United Nations Conference for Trade and Development UNCTAD in 1964 up to the end of unity among the countries of the Global South after the second oil shock in 1979-80 Offering a new less myopic way to conceptualise European history more globally the study is based on a variety of international archives government archives in Europe the US Algeria Venezuela international organizations such as the EC UNCTAD and the World Bank political and social organizations such as the Socialist International labour archives and the papers of oil companies and traces the reactions and the initiatives of the countries of the European Community but also of the European political parties and public opinion to the rise and fall of the Third World on the international stage The Marine Corps Gazette, 1970
