Anderson, Kecia Hayes, Joe Kincheloe, Karel Rose, 2006-03-30 Maintaining that urban teaching and learning is characterized by many contradictions this work proposes that there is a wide range of social cultural psychological and pedagogical knowledge urban educators must possess in order to engage in effective and transformative practice It is necessary for those teaching in urban schools to be scholar practitioners rather than bureaucrats who can only follow rather than analyze understand and create Ten major sections cover the myriad issues of urban education as it exists today Societies and Cities in the Age of Instant Access Harvey J. Miller, 2007-05-08 We are on the verge of what many are calling the second information revolution based on ubiquitous access to both computing and information Handheld communication devices will become portable and even wearable remote control devices for both the social and physical worlds At the same time access to information will likely flourish with an explosion in the volumes of data collected and distributed by these new devices volumes of information about people delivered to more and more people in new ways The technologies of instant access have potential to transform dramatically our lives cities societies and economies much like the railroad telephone automobile and Internet changed our world in the previous ages This book contains chapters by leading international experts who discuss issues surrounding the impact of instant access on cities daily lives transportation privacy social and economic networks community and education The Bengal Borderland Willem van Schendel, 2005 The Bengal Borderland constitutes the epicentre of the partition of British India Yet while the forging of international borders between India Pakistan Bangladesh and Burma the Bengal Borderland has been a core theme in Partition studies these crucial borderlands have remarkably been largely ignored by historians Writing and Translating Francophone Discourse Paul F. Bandia, 2014-01-01 This book is a much needed contribution to interdisciplinary research on the intersection of French and Francophone Studies and Translation Studies It highlights the symbiotic relationship between the two disciplines whereby theories and concepts developed in translation studies provide useful models and paradigms for studying francophone literature while major concepts that hold sway in the francophone world provide a solid basis for elucidating and understanding translation phenomena The book is at once a contribution to the growing field of postcolonial francophone studies and the sub area of postcolonial translation theory Contributors are experts from a variety of disciplines and hail from various regions across the globe What unites them is their interest in translation and its conceptualization both as an interlinguistic practice and a metaphor for intercultural communication and transcultural relations The contributions draw on literature film historical documents and critical theories by French and francophone thinkers highlighting the significance of translation for African Caribbean and migrant francophone discourse

Licensing Geographic Data and Services National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Earth Sciences and Resources, Committee on Licensing Geographic Data and Services, 2004-11-13 Geographic data are used in all sectors of society to support a huge range of applications ranging from emergency response to land use planning to location based services In the past government agencies typically acquired ownership of such data from private sector and other data producers and distributed these data without restriction Licensing whereby the producer may restrict redistribution has emerged as an alternative business model that agencies must now consider among a suite of procurement options The report highlights licensing perspectives and experiences of major stakeholder groups and examines the pros and cons of licensing It concludes that licensing may be a viable option in some instances and advises agencies on how to best serve societal interests

The Power of Knowledge Jeremy Black, 2014-01-14 Information is power For more than five hundred years the success or failure of nations has been determined by a country's ability to acquire knowledge and technical skill and transform them into strength and prosperity Leading historian Jeremy Black approaches global history from a distinctive perspective focusing on the relationship between information and society and demonstrating how the understanding and use of information have been the primary factors in the development and character of the modern age Black suggests that the West's ascension was a direct result of its institutions and social practices for acquiring employing and retaining information and the technology that was ultimately produced His cogent and well reasoned analysis looks at cartography and the hardware of communication armaments and sea power mercantilism and imperialism science and astronomy as well as bureaucracy and the management of information linking the history of technology with the history of global power while providing important indicators for the future of our world
