Taste Of Toronto:

Couture & Commerce Alexandra Palmer, Royal Ontario Museum, 2001 The 1950s were the golden years of haute couture captured by iconic images of glamorous models wearing dramatic clothes Yet the real women who wore these clothes adapted them to suit their own tastes altered them to extend their life and often could not bear to part with them long after the dresses had outlived their use This gorgeously illustrated book demonstrates why so many of these designs are still in existence and why we are fascinated by them fifty years later Couture and Commerce investigates how and why postwar couture fashion was important in its own day The Paris couture houses survived due to the enthusiasm of the North American fashion press and commercial buyers Alexandra Palmer traces the European haute couture trade with North America by following actual surviving couture dresses from the design house sketch through the model used in New York fashion shows and as a template for copies and knock offs and finally to the consumer Couture and Commerce is a remarkable mixture of accessible text color photographs of the original garments design house sketches and photographs retailers advertisements and society page images Weaving together analysis of the clothes and interviews with those who traded sold and wore couture Alexandra Palmer vividly recreates the 1950s fashion world Canadian Engineer ,1927 The Canadian Engineer ... ,1926 Concrete Toronto Michael McClelland, Graeme Stewart, 2007 In the sixties architecture fell in love with concrete Architecture has since shifted its fondness to glass and steel and concrete buildings have fallen out of favor and into disrepair But they represent an exciting era of faith in architecture and technical innovation that has yet to be documented Concrete Toronto acts as a guidebook to the city's extensive concrete heritage Architects journalists professors concrete experts and even the original architects use a wealth of new and archival photos drawings interviews articles and case studies to celebrate Toronto's concrete past The Sanitary Record and Journal of Sanitary and Municipal Engineering ,1911 Engineering and Contracting ,1926 The Taste of Empire Lizzie Collingham, 2017-10-03 A history of the British Empire told through twenty meals eaten around the world In The Taste of Empire acclaimed historian Lizzie Collingham tells the story of how the British Empire's quest for food shaped the modern world Told through twenty meals over the course of 450 years from the Far East to the New World Collingham explains how Africans taught Americans how to grow rice how the East India Company turned opium into tea and how Americans became the best fed people in the world In The Taste of Empire Collingham masterfully shows that only by examining the history of Great Britain's global food system from sixteenth century Newfoundland fisheries to our present day eating habits can we fully understand our capitalist economy and its role in making our modern diets American Journal of Public Health ,1916 Public Health Engineering Abstracts United States. Public Health Service, 1927 Public Health Engineering Abstracts ,1927
