The Endlight Event A New Ice Age Is Comingtomo:

An Ice Age Is Coming Susan Thomas, 2018-04-17 The Earth is now on the brink of entering a cataclysmic Ice Age Compelling evidence indicates that the warm twelve thousand year long Holocene interglacial will soon be coming to an end The Earth will soon return to ice age conditions This will be a major ice age and not the mini ice age that has been widely discussed in the media During the last major ice age much of the land mass of Great Britain was buried beneath ice The ice sheet was a mile thick in places Every 100 000 years our Earth enters a new ice age covering vast tracts of the northern land masses including America and Great Britain The Northern Hemisphere due to its large land mass is inherently more vulnerable to an ice age as snow settles on the ground The warning signs that are pointing to a new glaciation event in the Northern Hemisphere will be explored in this book The mother of all ice ages may arrive by the year 2050
