The Making Of Ireland

Landscapes In Geology

and contains some of the most impressive unspoilt scenery in western Europe. From conical white quartzite mountains of Megal in the north to the ragged clutching gers of the Skelling Rocks in the south, the constant changes of light and shade alter these vistas moment by moment. This country was forged on the anvil of time in a way which reflects the constantly changing patterns and configurations in the history of the planet. The rocks of Ireland contain the clues to its past, every piece of rock acts as a sort of fossilized video film, a record of the events which have contributed to the creation of the country. These events include the birth and death of mighty oceans, great desert dunes
