The Making Of The Mexican Border:

The Making of the Mexican Border Juan Mora-Torres, 2001-10 In this history of the state of Nuevo Le n Juan Mora Torres explores how 19th century economic and political conditions transformed northern Mexico into a region with distinct features that set it apart from the interior of Mexico arguing the years between the establishment of the U S Mexico boundary in 1848 and the outbreak of the Mexican Revolution in 1910 constitute a critical period in Mexican history

River of Hope Omar S. Valerio-Jiménez, 2013-01-16 In River of Hope Omar S Valerio Jim nez examines state formation cultural change and the construction of identity in the lower Rio Grande region during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries He chronicles a history of violence resulting from multiple conquests of resistance and accommodation to state power and of changing ethnic and political identities The redrawing of borders neither began nor ended the region s long history of unequal power relations Nor did it lead residents to adopt singular colonial or national identities Instead their regionalism transnational cultural practices and kinship ties subverted state attempts to control and divide the population Diverse influences transformed the borderlands as Spain Mexico and the United States competed for control of the region Indian slaves joined Spanish society Mexicans allied with Indians to defend river communities Anglo Americans and Mexicans intermarried and collaborated and women sued to confront spousal abuse and to secure divorces Drawn into multiple conflicts along the border Mexican nationals and Mexican Texans tejanos took advantage of their transnational social relations and ambiguous citizenship to escape criminal prosecution secure political refuge and obtain economic opportunities To confront the racialization of their cultural practices and their increasing criminalization tejanos claimed citizenship rights within the United States and in the process created a new identity Published in cooperation with the William P Clements Center for Southwest Studies Southern Methodist University The Making of the Mexican Border Juan

Mora-Torres, 2010-01-01 The issues that dominate U S Mexico border relations today integration of economies policing of boundaries and the flow of workers from south to north and of capital from north to south are not recent developments In this insightful history of the state of Nuevo Le n Juan Mora Torres explores how these processes transformed northern Mexico into a region with distinct economic political social and cultural features that set it apart from the interior of Mexico Mora Torres argues that the years between the establishment of the U S Mexico boundary in 1848 and the outbreak of the Mexican Revolution in 1910 constitute a critical period in Mexican history The processes of state building emergent capitalism and growing linkages to the United States transformed localities and identities and shaped class formations and struggles in Nuevo Le n Monterrey emerged as the leading industrial center and home of the most powerful business elite while the countryside deteriorated economically politically and demographically By 1910 Mora Torres concludes the border states had already assumed much of their modern character an advanced capitalist economy some of Mexico s most powerful business groups and a labor market dependent on massive migrations from central Mexico Catarino Garza's Revolution
