The Male Response:

The Male Response Brian Wilson Aldiss, 1966 Sport, Sexualities and Queer/Theory Jayne Caudwell, 2007-01-24 The first book focusing exclusively on this subject Sport Sexualities and Queer Theory captures the newest and best writing on an emerging focus of study that brings in perspectives from a number of disciplines including sports studies gender studies sociology cultural studies lesbian and gay studies and queer studies An accessible introduction to this dynamic field this is an explorative analysis of lesbian gay transgender transsexual and intersex people s experiences of sport as well as a rigorous theoretical consideration of sociological and political issues Bringing together in a single source an exciting array of contributions this is an ideal source of inspiration for anyone involved in this rapidly growing field and fills a need for an excellent introduction to the main themes and issues The Transmisssion of Arbitrary Environmental Information Between Bottle-nose Dolphins Jarvis Rulon Bastian, 1967 The Male Dancer Ramsay Burt, 2003-09-02 In this challenging and lively book Ramsay Burt examines the representation of masculinity in twentieth century dance Taking issue with formalist and modernist accounts of dance which dismiss gender and sexuality as irrelevant he argues that prejudices against male dancers are rooted in our ideas about the male body and male behaviour Building upon ideas about the gendered gaze developed by film and feminist theorists Ramsay Burt provides a provocative theory of spectatorship in dance He uses this to examine the work of choreographers like Nijinsky Graham Bausch while relating their dances to the social political and artistic contexts in which they were produced Within these re readings he identifies a distinction between institutionalised modernist dance which evokes an essentialist heroic hypermasculinity one which is valorised with reference to nature heterosexuality and religion and radical avant garde choreography which challenges and disrupts dominant ways of representing masculinity The Male Dancer will be essential reading for anyone interested in dance and the cultural construction of gender The Transmission of Arbitrary Environmental Information Between Bottle-nose Dolphins Jarvis Bastian, 1967 An investigation was made of the capacity of a pair of bottle nose dolphins to perform a cooperative task which required the acoustical transmission of information about an arbitrary visual event in the environment of one of the animals Each animal was first trained to press one of two paddles depending upon the state of a light signal Next while housed in adjacent enclosures they were required to coordinate their actions in a fixed sequence and within fixed time limits Then the light signal to the animal required to respond first was removed and visual contact with the other animal and its light was eliminated The pair continued to perform successfully as long as they were in acoustical contact and the light signal to the one animal was provided Their performance success was found to depend directly upon the emission of pulse trains by the animal receiving the light signal although it was also found to be indirectly connected with that animal s emission of whistle signals The specific nature of this dependency could not be determined Author Blood Magic Thomas C. T. Buckley, Alma Gottlieb, 1988 Examining cultures as diverse as long house dwellers in North Borneo African farmers Welsh housewives and postindustrial American workers this volume dramatically redefines the anthropological study of menstrual customs It challenges the widespread image of a universal menstrual taboo as well as the common assumption of universal female subordination which underlies it Contributing important new material and perspectives to our understanding of comparative gender politics and symbolism it is of particular importance to those interested in anthropology women s studies religion and comparative health systems Comparative Literature: Theory, Method, Application Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek,2024-12-09

This book serves several purposes all very much needed in today s embattled situation of the humanities and the study of literature First in Chapter One the author proposes that the discipline of Comparative Literature is a most advantageous approach for the study of literature and culture as it is a priori a discipline of cross disciplinarity and of international dimensions After a Manifesto for a New Comparative Literature he proceeds to offer several related theoretical frameworks as a composite method for the study of literature and culture he designates and explicates as the systemic and empirical approach Following the introduction of the proposed New Comparative Literature the author applies his method to a wide variety of literary and cultural areas of inquiry such as Literature and Cultural Participation where he discusses several aspects of reading and readership Chapter Two Comparative Literature as and Interdisciplinarity Chapter Three where he deals with theory and application for film and literature and medicine and literature Cultures Peripherality and Comparative Literature Chapter Four where he proposes a theoretical designation he terms inbetween peripherality for the study of East Central European literatures and cultures as well as ethnic minority writing Women s Literature and Men Writing about Women Chapter Five where he analyses texts written by women and texts about women written by men in the theoretical context of Ethical Constructivism The Study of Translation and Comparative Literature Chapter Six where after a theoretical introduction he presents a new version of Anton Popovic s dictionary for literary translation as a taxonomy for the study of translation and The Study of Literature and the Electronic Age Chapter Seven where he discusses the impact of new technologies on the study of literature and culture The analyses in their various applications of the proposed New Comparative Literature involve modern and contemporary authors and their works such as Dorothy Richardson Margit Kaffka Mircea Cartarescu Robert Musil Alfred Döblin Hermann Hesse Peter Esterházy Dezső Kosztolányi Michael Ondaatje Endre Kúkörelly Else Seel and others The Voices of Nature Nicolas Mathevon,2025-03-25 Songs barks roars hoots squeals and growls exploring the mysteries of how animals communicate by sound What is the meaning of a bird s song a baboon s bark an owl s hoot or a dolphin s clicks In The Voices of Nature Nicolas Mathevon explores the mysteries of animal sound Putting readers in the middle of animal soundscapes that range from the steamy heat of the Amazon jungle to the icy terrain of the Arctic Mathevon reveals the amazing variety of animal vocalizations He describes how animals use sound to express emotion to choose a mate to trick others to mark their territory to call for help and much more What may seem like random chirps squawks and cries are actually signals that like our human words allow animals to carry on conversations with others Mathevon explains how the science of bioacoustics works to decipher the ways animals make and hear sounds what information is encoded in these sound signals and what this information is used for in daily life Drawing on these findings as well as observations in the wild Mathevon describes among many other things how animals communicate with their offspring how they exchange information despite ambient noise how sound travels underwater how birds and mammals learn to vocalize and even how animals express emotion through sound Finally Mathevon asks if these vocalizations complex and expressive as they are amount to language For readers who have wondered about the meaning behind a robin's song or cicadas relentless tchik tchik tchik this book offers a listening guide for the endlessly varied concert of nature
