African Perspectives on South-South Migration Meron Zeleke, Lahra Smith, 2024-04-01 This book investigates the diverse and dynamic forms of migration within Africa Centring themes of agency resource flows and transnational networks the book examines the enduring appeal of the Global South as a place of origin transit and destination Popular media government pronouncements and much of the global research discourse continue to be oriented towards migration from the Global South to the Global North despite the fact that the vast majority of migration is South South This book moves beyond these mischaracterisations and instead distinctly focuses on the agency of African migrants and the creative strategies they employ while planning their routes within and across the African continent Case studies explore the flow of resources such as people money skills and knowledge throughout the continent while also casting a light on the lived experiences of migrants as they negotiate their sometimes precarious and vulnerable positions Underpinned by intensive empirical studies this book challenges prevailing narratives and provides a new way of thinking about South South Migration Composed by a majority of scholars from the Global South the book will be crucial reading for researchers students and policy makers with a focus on South South Migration Migration and Inequalities Migration and Development and Refugee and Humanitarian Studies

Toward Better Infrastructure Riham Shendy, 2011-07-05 Examining innovative ways to address Africa's infrastructure deficit is at the heart of this analysis Africa's infrastructure stock and quality is among the least developed in the world a challenge that significantly hinders economic development It is estimated that the finance required to raise infrastructure in Sub Saharan Africa SSA to a reasonable level within the next decade is at US 93 billion per year with two thirds of this amount needed for capital expenditures With the existing spending on infrastructure being estimated at US 45 billion per annum and after accounting for potential efficiency gains that could amount to US 17 billion Africa's infrastructure funding gap remains around US 31 billion a year One approach to address this challenge is by facilitating the increase of private provision of public infrastructure services through public private partnerships PPPs This approach which is a relatively new arrangement in SSA is multifaceted and requires strong consensus and collaboration across both public and private sectors There are several defined models of PPPs Each type differs in terms of government participation levels risk allocations investment responsibilities operational requirements and incentives for operators Our definition of PPPs assumes transactions where the private sector retains a considerable portion of commercial and financial risks associated with a project In more descriptive terms among the elements defining the notion of PPPs discussed in this study are a long term contract between a public and private sector party the design construction financing and operation of public infrastructure by the private sector payment over the life of the PPP contract to the private sector party for the services delivered from the asset and the facility remaining in public ownership or reverting to public sector ownership at the end of the PPP contract The observations and policy recommendations that follow draw on ongoing World Bank Group PPP engagements in these countries including extensive consultations with key public and private sector stakeholders involved in designing financing and implementing PPPs The study is structured around the most inhibiting constraints to developing PPPs as shared by all six countries
