

Hello Friends!
Can you guess why my friends on this page are wearing helmets? They're going outside to ride their bicycles, and the helmets will help keep them safe. In this issue of my magazine, we'll visit a fire station, play a game of stop and go, and see what happens when Baby Bop wants to cross the street.
Playing safely is so important.
If you follow the rules with BJ, Baby Bop, and me, we'll have a stu-u-perbulous spring!

Love,
Barney

Vacuum Tube Valley, 2000 On the Backs of Tortoises Elizabeth Hennessy, 2019-10-29 An insightful exploration of the iconic Gal pagos tortoises and how their fate is inextricably linked to our own in a rapidly changing world Finalist for the 2020 E O Wilson Literary Science Writing Award sponsored by PEN America Literary Awards The Gal pagos archipelago is often viewed as a last foothold of pristine nature For sixty years conservationists have worked to restore this evolutionary Eden after centuries of exploitation at the hands of pirates whalers and island settlers This book tells the story of the islands namesakes the giant tortoises as coveted food sources objects of natural history and famous icons of conservation and tourism By doing so it brings into stark relief the paradoxical and impossible goal of conserving species by trying to restore a past state of prehistoric evolution The tortoises Elizabeth Hennessy demonstrates are not prehistoric but rather microcosms whose stories show how deeply human and nonhuman life are entangled In a world where evolution is thoroughly shaped by global history Hennessy puts forward a vision for conservation based on reckoning with the past rather than trying to erase it Fresh insightful Hennessy s melding of human and natural history makes for thought provoking reading Booklist starred review Gripping well researched and thought provoking whether you re well versed in the intricacies of conservation or have

Post-Arab Spring Narratives Abida Younas,2023-04-15 This book looks at eight post Arab Spring novels in the context of Gilles Deleuze s and Felix Guattari s theory of minor literature Ahdaf Soueif Hisham Matar Karim Alrawi Youssef Rakha Yasmine El Rashidi Omar Rober Hamilton Saleem Haddad and Nada Awar Jarrar all focus on the Arab world in their work on the lives of ordinary and minority peoples and on the revolutions of their respective nations This volume shows how these contemporary Anglo Arab novelists exhibit linguistic experimentation akin to Deleuze s and Guattari s theory of deterritorialization but in a way that is unique to Anglo Arab writing The selected novelists repudiate the use of metamorphosis which is usually an essential part of the deterritorialization of a major language Instead their writings enact the minor practice of linguistic deterritorialization by using metaphor and by incorporating contemporary modes of protest like popular slogans tweets and chants These authors challenge the conventions of minor literature and by adopting this mode of deterritorialization foreground the experiences of officially silenced voices

Modernism and Homer Leah Culligan Flack, 2015-09-16 This comparative study crosses multiple cultures traditions genres and languages in order to explore the particular importance of Homer in the emergence development and promotion of modernist writing It shows how and why the Homeric epics served both modernist formal experimentation including Pound's poetics of the fragment and Joyce's sprawling epic novel and sociopolitical critiques including H D's analyses of the cultural origins of twentieth century wars and Mandelstam's poetic defiance of the totalitarian Stalinist regime The book counters a long critical tradition that has recruited Homer to consolidate champion and more recently chastise an elitist masculine modernist canon Departing from the tradition of reading these texts in isolation as mythic engagements with the Homeric epics Leah Flack argues that ongoing dialogues with Homer helped these writers to mount their distinct visions of a cosmopolitan post war culture that would include them as artists working on the margins of the Western literary tradition

The Explanation For Everything Paul Morrison, 2002-02-01 The claim I'm straight is the psychosexual analogue of The check is in the mail if you need to say it your credit or creditability is already in doubt So begins Paul Morrison's dazzling polemic which takes as its point of departure Foucault's famous remark that sex is the explanation for everything Combining psychoanalytic literary and queer theory The Explanation for Everything seeks to account for the explanatory power attributed to homosexuality and its relationship to compulsory heterosexuality In the process Morrison presents a scathing indictment of psychoanalysis and its impact on the study of sexuality In bold but graceful leaps Morrison applies his critique to a diversity of examples subjectivity in Oscar Wilde the cultural construction and reception of AIDS the work of Robert Mapplethorpe the practice of bodybuilding and the contemporary reception of the sexual politics of fascism Analytical witty and astute The Explanation for Everything will challenge and amuse establishing Paul Morrison as one of our most exciting cultural critics

Teaching Through the Ill Body Marla Morris, 2008-01-01 This book raises questions around pedagogy and illness Morris explores two large issues that run through the text What does the ill body teach What does the teacher do through the ill body The body has something to teach while teaching through the ill body This book is theoretically framed by connections between spirituality and aesthetics As the great spiritual traditions teach our responsibility as teachers is to help others especially those who are marginalized What is lacking in our educational discourse is a discussion of the responsibility we all have to help those who get sick and not marginalize them More specifically pedagogical and curricular questions are fleshed out through working in the area of curriculum studies depth psychology and the medical humanities These three disciplines have something in common autobiography But in the field of curriculum studies autobiographies pathographies of sickness are few and far between This book is meant to fill that gap in the educational literature This pathography is a study that explores the mysteries of suffering storytelling memory and poesis Compassion woundedness vulnerability testimony and authenticity are all issues Morris raises here Teachers scholars depth psychologists and medical educators might be particularly interested in this intensely felt narrative about what it is like for teachers to teach while suffering from chronic illness

International Assistance to the Palestinians after Oslo Anne Le More, 2008-03-31 Why has the West disbursed vertiginous sums of money to the Palestinians after Oslo What have been donors motivations and above all the political consequences of the funds spent Based on original academic research and first hand evidence this book examines the interface between diplomacy and international assistance during the Oslo years and the intifada By exploring the politics of international aid to the Palestinians between the creation of the Palestinian Authority and the death of President Arafat 1994 2004 Anne Le More reveals the reasons why foreign aid was not more beneficial uncovering a context where funds from the international community was poured into the occupied Palestinian territory as a substitute for its lack of real diplomatic engagement This book also highlights the perverse effects such huge amounts of money has had on the Palestinian population and territory on Israeli policies in the occupied Palestinian territory and not least on the conflict itself particularly the prospect of its resolution along a two state paradigm International Assistance to the Palestinians after Oslo gives a unique narrative chronology that makes this complex story easy to understand These features make this book a classic read for both scholars and practitioners with lessons to be learned beyond the Israeli Palestinian conflict Maupassant's Fiction and the Darwinian View of Life Laurence A.

Gregorio,2005 The Naturalists wrote from a scientific point of view and no science had more currency in society in the late nineteenth century than Darwin's theory of evolution Until now this motif in Guy de Maupassant has escaped critical attention Maupassant's Fiction and the Darwinian View of Life examines evolutionary theory in the literature in a way accessible to students of literature and science alike It first explains the theoretical basis and Maupassant's affinity for it then studies one short story La Ficelle in its entirety proposing a new and interesting interpretation based on evidence read through a Darwinian lens The remaining chapters organize a lively Darwinian reading of Maupassant according to topics such as natural selection heredity and materialism The book shows that Darwinism and the economic variety of Social Darwinism figure significantly in Maupassant's fiction It is a must for students and teachers of Naturalism and Darwinism across the liberal arts Rethinking 'Mixed Race' David Parker,Miri Song,2001-05-20 One of the fastest growing ethnic populations in many Western societies is that of people of mixed descent However when talking about multicultural societies or mixed race the discussion usually focuses on people of black and white heritage The contributors to this collection rectify this with a broad and pluralistic approach to the experiences of mixed race people in Britain and the USA The contributors argue that people of mixed descent reveal the arbitrary and contested logic of categorisation underpinning racial divisions Falling outside the prevailing definitions of racialised identities their histories and experiences illuminate the complexities of identity formation in the contemporary multicultural context The authors examine a range of issues These include gender transracial and intercountry adoptions in Britain and the US interracial partnering and marriage mixed race and family in the English African diaspora theorising of mixed race that transcends the black white binary and includes explorations of mixtures among non white minority groups and the social and political evolution of multiracial panethnicity Gender and Genre C. Hudgins,L. Kane,2001-06-01 Critical and popular debate about Mamet's work often centers on whether we should read his misogynist unloving characters as reflecting his own misogyny or should recognize a Mametian irony in his memorable depictions Irony is intimately related to issues of genre and to audience expectations In turn Mamet's celebrity colors responses to his work The essays in this collection approach these controversial topics of gender and genre with verve ranging from those which cast Mamet as a macho misogynist to those which understand his work as deeply ironic and even feminist Topics include plays from the early Sexual Perversity in Chicago to the recent Jolly two films House of Games and Homicide and Mamet's first novel The Village Ralph Ellison's Invisible Theology M. Cooper Harriss, 2017-05-02 Examines the religious dimensions of Ralph Ellison's concept of race Ralph Ellison's 1952 novel Invisible Man provides an unforgettable metaphor for what it means to be disregarded in society While the term invisibility has become shorthand for all forms of marginalization Ellison was primarily concerned with racial identity M Cooper Harriss argues that religion too remains relatively invisible within discussions of race and seeks to correct this through a close study of Ralph Ellison's work Harriss examines the religious and theological dimensions of Ralph Ellison's concept of race through his evocative metaphor for the experience of blackness in America and with an eye to uncovering previously unrecognized religious dynamics in Ellison's life and work Blending religious studies and theology race theory and fresh readings of African American culture Harriss draws on Ellison to create the concept of an invisible theology and uses this concept as a basis for discussing religion and racial identity in contemporary American life Ralph Ellison's Invisible Theology is the first book to focus on Ellison as a religious figure and on the religious dynamics of his work Harriss brings to light Ellison's close friendship with theologian and literary critic Nathan A Scott Jr and places Ellison in context with such legendary religious figures as Reinhold and Richard Niebuhr Paul Tillich and Martin Luther King Jr He argues that historical legacies of invisible theology help us make sense of more recent issues like drone warfare and Clint Eastwood's empty chair Rich and innovative Ralph Ellison's Invisible Theology will revolutionize the way we understand Ellison the intellectual legacies of race and the study of religion

Textual Layering Apostolos Lampropoulos, Maria Margaroni, Christakis Chatzichristou, 2017-02-27 Textual Layering Contact Historicity Critique sets out to rethink our relation to textual tradition against the background of several contemporary developments including the emergence of digital culture the increasing spectacularization of psychic as well as social life the renegotiation of historical thinking and the precarious position of the theoretical humanities within academia To this end the volume re-invests the concept of layering a concept currently used in a wide range of fields including metaphor studies and linguistics cybernetics the social sciences art and architecture Drawing on existing definitions of layering the chapters in this book return to and re-appraise some of the most crucial concerns in the post 1960s theoretical scene that is concerns over the strained interplay between writing and the body textuality and history critique difference and the feminine memory trace and the immemorial The aim of the diverse often polemical analyses carried out in this volume is to reactivate the critical force of textual tradition today through a renewed appreciation of its historical embeddedness its libidinal sources as well as its complex economy of separation and contact diachronicity and synchronicity re-layering and de-layering This collection will be of interest to scholars of continental philosophy literary theory gender studies architecture
