SPSS for Windows Marija J. Norušis, 1992-01-01 Team Performance in Health Care Gloria D. Heinemann, Antonette M. Zeiss, 2012-12-06 The idea of teamwork in health care emerged at several times during the 20th century as the result of shifts in the nature and demands of health care and societal needs. Examples include medical and surgical teams serving the military in World War II, primary care teams staffing Community Health Centers created by President Johnson's War On Poverty, and geriatric care teams established to serve the rapidly growing number of aging citizens. Collaborative teamwork surfaced as a rational solution to health care needs, but political and economic consensus to support widespread implementation was lacking. The increasing complexity of providing health care seemed best served by the skills and efforts of interdisciplinary teams, but such care was viewed as expensive, so the evaluation of its effectiveness became essential. There were major problems in conducting such evaluation, however. First, no clear theory guided the concept and practice of teamwork. Early attempts to employ theoretical constructs explaining the behavioral and organizational phenomena of teamwork borrowed from theories of group dynamics, communication, organizational development, and general systems. Further, few reliable, validated instruments existed to evaluate team process, function, or effectiveness. The best early efforts at research and evaluation came from academic centers funded by the Office of Interdisciplinary Programs of the Bureau of Health Professions, 1975-78, and from the Veterans Affairs Interprofessional Team Training Development Program. Safer Systems Felix Redmill, Tom Anderson, 2012-12-06 The contributions to this book are the invited papers presented at the fifth annual Safety critical Systems Symposium. They cover a broad spectrum of issues affecting safety, from a philosophical appraisal to technology transfer, from requirements analysis to assessment, from formal methods to artificial intelligence, and psychological aspects. They touch on a number of industry sectors, but are restricted to none, for the essence of the event is the transfer of lessons and technologies between sectors. All address practical issues and offer useful information and advice. Contributions from industrial authors provide evidence of both safety consciousness and safety professionalism in industry. Smith's on safety analysis in air traffic control and Rivett's on assessment in the automotive industry are informative on current practice. Frith's thoughtful paper on artificial intelligence in safety critical systems reflects an understanding of questions which need to be resolved. Tomlinson's, Alvery's, and Canning's papers report on collaborative projects: the first on results which emphasise the importance of human factors in system development; the second on the development and trial of a comprehensive tool set; and the third on experience in achieving technology transfer, something which is crucial to increasing safety. Sustainable Buildings and Structures: Building a Sustainable Tomorrow Konstantinos Papadikis, Chee Chin, Isaac Galobardes, Guobin Gong, Fangyu Guo, 2019-09-26 Sustainable Buildings and Structures: Building a Sustainable Tomorrow collects the contributions presented at the 2nd International Conference on Sustainable Buildings and Structures, Suzhou, China, 25-27 October 2019. The papers aim at sharing the state of the art on sustainable approaches to engineering.

An erster Stelle ist hierbei die Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft zu nennen die das Projekt durch ein Stipendium unterstützt hat. An zweiter Stelle möchte ich mich bei meinem Doktorvater Prof. Dr. Peter Nippel für die stets kooperative Betreuung sowie für die gewährten Freiheiten bei der Ausgestaltung des Projektes bedanken. Herrn Prof. Dr. Sönke Albers danke ich nicht nur für die Übernahme des Koreferates sondern darüber hinaus auch für die intensive Diskussion des empirischen Teils der Arbeit in verschiedenen Stadien des Projektes. Zum Gelingen der Arbeit ebenfalls erheblich beigetragen hat die angenehme und kollegiale Atmosphäre am Institut für BWL sowie innerhalb des Graduiertenkollegs an der Universität Kiel. Von meinen Kollegen möchte ich insbesondere Dr. Jens Langholz sowie Dr. Mathias Ridiger hervorheben deren Ideenreichtum dem Skript sicherlich gut getan hat und deren wissenschaftliche Arbeiten mir in mancher Hinsicht ein Vorbild waren.
