Design of Intelligent Applications using Machine Learning and Deep Learning Techniques Ramchandra Sharad Mangrulkar, Antonis Michalas, Narendra Shekokar, Meera Narvekar, Pallavi Vijay Chavan, 2021-08-15 Machine learning ML and deep learning DL algorithms are invaluable resources for Industry 4.0 and allied areas and are considered as the future of computing A subfield called neural networks to recognize and understand patterns in data helps a machine carry out tasks in a manner similar to humans The intelligent models developed using ML and DL are effectively designed and are fully investigated bringing in practical applications in many fields such as health care agriculture and security These algorithms can only be successfully applied in the context of data computing and analysis Today ML and DL have created conditions for potential developments in detection and prediction Apart from these domains ML and DL are found useful in analysing the social behaviour of humans With the advancements in the amount and type of data available for use it became necessary to build a means to process the data and that is where deep neural networks prove their importance These networks are capable of handling a large amount of data in such fields as finance and images This book also exploits key applications in Industry 4.0 including Fundamental models issues and challenges in ML and DL Comprehensive analyses and probabilistic approaches for ML and DL Various applications in healthcare predictions such as mental health cancer thyroid disease lifestyle disease and cardiac arrhythmia

Industry 4.0 applications such as facial recognition, feather classification, water stress prediction, deforestation control, tourism, and social networking. Security aspects of Industry 4.0 applications suggest remedial actions against possible attacks and prediction of associated risks. Information is presented in an accessible way for students, researchers, and scientists, business innovators, and entrepreneurs, sustainable assessment and management professionals. This book equips readers with a knowledge of data analytics, ML, and DL techniques for applications defined under the umbrella of Industry 4.0. This book offers comprehensive coverage, promising ideas, and outstanding research contributions supporting further development of ML and DL approaches by applying intelligence in various applications.

Demographic Projection Techniques for Regions and Smaller Areas H. Craig Davis, 1995. In Chapter 3, the author outlines a four-step projection procedure which is used throughout the remainder of the book. Chapter 4 describes how to project population size by comparing the growth pattern of the population under study with that of another population. The next chapter covers one of the most commonly employed techniques of population projection, the cohort survival model, which is used not only to project the size of a population but also its composition in terms of age and sex groupings. The final chapter focuses on migration, generally the most volatile component of the basic demographic equation. Primarily written for courses in planning, this book is also useful for anyone having to make decisions affected by population trends, whether they involve planning for future growth or alerting local decisionmakers to external uncertainties that could have a serious impact on the future of their community.

Research Methods for Public Administrators Gary Russell, Suzanne Leland, Zachary Mohr, Elizabethann O'Sullivan, 2020-12-29. Research Methods for Public Administrators contains a thorough overview of research methods and statistical applications for advanced undergraduate and graduate students and practitioners. The material is based on established social science methods. Concepts and applications are discussed and illustrated with examples from actual research. The book covers research design, methods of data collection, instructions on formulating research plans, measurement, sampling procedures, and statistical applications from basic statistics to more advanced techniques. The basics of conducting experiments, survey research, case studies, and focus groups are discussed. Data organization, management, and analysis are also covered, as are data analysis and hypothesis testing. Descriptive and inferential statistics are discussed and illustrated with examples. The book also includes a chapter on obtaining and analyzing secondary data, data already collected for other purposes, and a chapter on reporting and presenting research results to a variety of audiences. This is a general textbook written primarily for students of public administration and practitioners in public and not-for-profit organizations. It includes materials shown to be useful in gathering and assessing information for making decisions and implementing policies. The material is discussed at a level to be accessible and with enough detail to be useful. New to the seventh edition: Additional and expanded material on qualitative research, big data, metadata, literature reviews, and causal inference. New material on experiments and experimental research. New examples and case studies, including those dealing with public policy. Expanded material on using computers for data management Information on new NSF and NIH ethics and protection of human subjects requirements for researchers New data sets and Power Point slides for each chapter Nutritional Screening and Assessment Tools J. M. Jones,2006 Malnutrition is a serious problem amongst many sections of the population Many screening tools have been developed for the purpose of identifying subjects who are at risk of malnutrition However selection of the appropriate instrument for use in a particular population is hampered by the sheer number of tools Cognitive and Mental Health Improvement Under- and Post-COVID-19, volume III Yuka Kotozaki,Gabriele Nibbio ,Chong Chen,2025-04-01 This Research Topic is a part of a collection on the topic of Cognitive and Mental Health Improvement Under and Post COVID 19 An increasing body of research suggests that the COVID 19 pandemic has worsened global mental health and caused more cognitive impairments Whereas the COVID 19 pandemic is still ongoing in some regions it is expected to be ending for most regions in the very near future From a psychological psychiatric and public mental health perspective it is of vital importance to conduct effective and efficient interventions to promote cognitive and mental health for they not only are essential for us to cope with the ongoing pandemic but also necessary for us to rebuild a better world post the pandemic Not to say that a healthy cognitive and mental health state is at the core of human wellbeing and deserves its own place From previous studies and everyday practices we already know that regular exercise appropriate sleep nutritious diet close social ties connection with nature mindfulness among others help improve cognition and boost mental health However the optimal regimen for each specific cognitive and mental health outcome for a specific population including both those of healthy and clinical is unclear and remain to be identified Furthermore the underlying psychological physiological and neurobiological mechanisms through which each activity or intervention improves cognition and promotes mental health are to be clarified
