Taste of the Nation Camille Bégin, 2016-06-15 During the Depression the Federal Writers Project FWP dispatched scribes to sample the fare at group eating events like church dinners political barbecues and clambakes Its America Eats project sought nothing less than to sample and report upon the tremendous range of foods eaten across the United States Camille Bégin shapes a cultural and sensory history of New Deal era eating from the FWP archives From ravioli the diminutive derbies of pastries the crowns stuffed with a well-seasoned paste to barbecue seasoning that integrated salt black pepper dried red chili powder garlic oregano cumin seed and cayenne pepper while tomatoes green chili peppers onions and olive oil made up the sauce Bégin describes in mouth-watering detail how Americans tasted their food They did so in ways that varied and varied widely depending on race ethnicity class and region Bégin explores how likes and dislikes cravings and disgust operated within local sensory economies that she culls from the FWP's vivid descriptions visual cues culinary expectations recipes and accounts of restaurant meals She illustrates how nostalgia prescriptive gender ideals and racial stereotypes shaped how the FWP was able to frame regional food cultures as American

A Taste of South Africa with the Kosher Butcher's Wife Sharon Lurie, 2019-06-01 After highly successful outings with her first two books Sharon Lurie aka the Kosher Butcher's Wife decided that it was time to make it official and combine the influences of her culinary heritage as both a kosher cook and a proud South African As she says South African cuisine is as deliciously diverse as its inhabitants from the many indigenous peoples to the waves of immigrants and settlers who have made the southern part of Africa their home In A Taste of South Africa with the Kosher Butcher's Wife Sharon Lurie takes you on an adventure through South Africa's diverse and iconic dishes but with traditional Jewish culinary twists The mouth-watering recipes often include non-dairy options And don't think because Sharon is the Kosher Butcher's Wife that she only thinks about meat dishes there are ideas from starters to sweets with everything in between. In her inimitable style Sharon will keep you laughing along the way. The Taste of American Place Barbara G. Shortridge, James R. Shortridge, 1999-09-01 Tracing the intertwined roles of food, ethnicity and regionalism in the construction of American identity, this textbook examines the central role food plays in our lives. Drawing on a range of disciplines—including sociology, anthropology, folklore, geography, history and nutrition—the editors have selected a group of engaging essays to help students explore the idea of food as a window into American culture. The editors' general introductory essay offers an overview of current scholarship and part introductions contextualize the readings within each section. This lively reader will be a valuable supplement for courses on American culture across the social sciences. A Taste of the Country: A Collection of Calvin Beale's Writings Peter A. Morrison, 1990 The Taste of Longing Suzanne Evans, 2020-09-21 Half a world away from her home in Manitoulin Island, Ethel Mulvany is starving in Singapore's infamous Changi Prison along with hundreds of other women jailed there as POWs during the Second World War. They beat back pangs of hunger by playing decadent games of make-believe and writing down recipes filled with cream, raisins, chocolate, butter, cinnamon, ripe fruit—the unattainable ingredients of peacetime, of home, of memory. In this novelistic, immersive biography, Suzanne Evans presents a truly individual account of WWII through the eyes of Ethel, mercurial, enterprising, combative, stubborn and wholly herself. The Taste of Longing follows Ethel through the fall of Singapore in 1942, the years of her internment and beyond. As a prisoner, she devours dog biscuits and book spines, befriends spiders and smugglers and endures torture and solitary confinement. As a free woman back in Canada, she fights to build a life for herself in the midst of trauma and burgeoning mental illness. Woven with vintage recipes and transcribed tape recordings, the story of Ethel and her fantastical POW Cookbook is a testament to the often overlooked strength of women in wartime. It's a story of the unbreakable power of imagination, generosity and pure heart. The Taste of Place Amy B. Trubek, 2008-05-05 While much has been written about the concept of terroir as it relates to wine, this book expands the concept into cuisine and culture more broadly. Bringing together stories of people farming, cooking and eating, the author focuses on a series of examples ranging from shagbark hickory nuts in Wisconsin to wines from northern California. The Politics of Taste in Antebellum Charleston Maurie D. McInnis, 2015-12-01 At the close of the American Revolution, Charleston, South Carolina, was the wealthiest city in the new nation with the highest per capita wealth among whites and the largest number of enslaved residents. Maurie D. McInnis explores the social, political and material culture of the city to learn how and at what human cost Charleston came to be regarded as one of the most refined cities in antebellum America. While other cities embraced a culture of democracy and egalitarianism, wealthy Charlestonians cherished English notions of aristocracy and refinement, defending slavery as a social good and encouraging the growth of southern nationalism. Members of the city's merchant-planter class held tight to the belief that the clothes they wore, the manners they adopted and the ways they designed house lots and laid out city streets helped secure their place in social hierarchies of class and race This pursuit of refinement McInnis demonstrates was bound up with their determined efforts to control the city s African American majority She then examines slave dress mobility work spaces and leisure activities to understand how Charleston slaves negotiated their lives among the whites they served The textures of lives lived in houses yards streets and public spaces come into dramatic focus in this lavishly illustrated portrait of antebellum Charleston McInnis s innovative history of the city combines the aspirations of its would be nobility the labors of the African slaves who built and tended the town and the ambitions of its architects painters writers and civic promoters
