What is international law really about? This set of lessons explains the basic workings of international law at a level high school students can easily comprehend. Through classroom activities, students learn about the history of international law, how international laws are formulated, problems with enforcing them, and the process of taking a case before an international tribunal. Human rights law, crimes of war, environmental law, and business law are also addressed. In addition, students learn about the role of the UN and regional organizations, the International Court of Justice, the International Criminal Court, and special tribunals. Lessons are standards-based. Step Into Africa Caroline Starbird, Amy Bahrenburg, 2004. Contains a series of lessons designed to provide young students with a look at contemporary Africa and give them an appreciation of the diversity of nations and cultures found on the continent. Lessons are based on readings from Africa is not a country Margy Burns Knight and Mark Melnicove Brookfield Conn Millbrook Press c2000 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa R. Sooryamoorthy, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2023. The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa presents a comparative analysis of sociological thinking in Africa. Focusing on examples from Africa, this diverse collection presents to a broad readership an accessible, comprehensive, up-to-date, and topical analysis of sociological thinking in Africa. Sociological discourse about African societies has been challenging and difficult due to a lack of both comprehensive analyses and holistic sociological evidence that covers Africa from past to present. This Handbook locates African sociological thinking in historical context and takes a critical look at its current manifestations across the continent.

The Languages of Africa and the Diaspora Jo Anne Kleifgen, George C. Bond, 2009. This book takes a fresh look at subordinated vernacular languages in the context of African, Caribbean, and US educational landscapes, highlighting the social cost of linguistic exceptionalism for speakers of these languages. Chapters describe contravening movements toward various forms of linguistic diversity and offer a comprehensive approach to language awareness in educative settings. Teaching Recent Global History Diana B. Turk, Laura J. Dull, Robert Cohen, Michael R. Stoll, 2014-03-05. Teaching Recent Global History explores innovative ways to teach world history beginning with the early 20th century. The authors' unique approach unites historians, social studies teachers, and educational curriculum specialists to offer historically rich, pedagogically innovative, and academically rigorous lessons that help students connect with and deeply understand key events and trends in recent global history Highlighting the best scholarship for each major continent the text explores the ways that this scholarship can be adapted by teachers in the classroom in order to engage and inspire students Each of the eight main chapters highlights a particularly important event or theme which is then complemented by a detailed discussion of a particular methodological approach Key features include An overarching narrative that helps readers address historical arguments Relevant primary documents or artifacts plus a discussion of a particular historical method well suited to teaching about them Lesson plans suitable for both middle and secondary level classrooms Document based questions and short bibliographies for further research on the topic This invaluable book is ideal for any aspiring or current teacher who wants to think critically about how to teach world history and make historical discussions come alive for students

Multilingualism in Mathematics Education in Africa Anthony A. Essien, 2023-12-14 This book brings together the first book collection of African research in mathematics education in multilingual societies and chronicles current research in different linguistic contexts across the African continent including Algeria Namibia Malawi Morocco Rwanda South Africa on issues of multilingualism in mathematics education but more importantly it foregrounds pertinent issues for future research With many of the authors building on earlier path breaking African research the book is a unique contribution of careful thinking through how linguistic diversity and multilingualism manifest in ways that differ from one geopolitical context to another This volume is an important contribution to the growing recognition of multilingualism as the global linguistic dispensation in mathematics education It is an invitation to how we might as an international community where more and more multilingualism is the norm rather than an exception pay more attention to the multilingual agency and capabilities of both students and teachers in order to better harness the epistemic potential of multiple languages in contexts of language diversity in mathematics education Teaching Africa George J. Sefa Dei, 2009-12-04 One is always struck by the brilliant work of George Sefa Dei but nothing so far has demonstrated his pedagogical leadership as much as the current project With a sense of purpose so pure and so thoroughly intellectual Dei shows why he must be credited with continuing the motivation and action for justice in education He has produced in this powerful volume Teaching Africa the same type of close reasoning that has given him credibility in the anti racist struggle in education Sustaining the case for the democratization of education and the revising of the pedagogical method to include Indigenous knowledge are the twin pillars of his style A key component of this new science of pedagogy is the crusade against any form of hegemonic education where one group of people assumes that they are the masters of everyone else Whether this happens in South Africa Canada United States India Iraq Brazil or China Dei s insights suggest that this hegemony of education in pluralistic and multi ethnic societies is a false construction We live pre eminently in a world of co cultures not cultures and sub cultures and once we understand this difference we will have a better approach to education and equity in the human condition Media Skills for Middle Schools Lucille W.
