The Making And Unmaking Of Whiteness:

The Making and Unmaking of Whiteness Birgit Brander Rasmussen, 2001-09-07 A collection of new essays in race theory drawn from the 497 Berkeley conference

Reading, Writing, and the Rhetorics of Whiteness Wendy Ryden, Ian Marshall, 2013-03 In this volume Ryden and Marshall bring together the field of composition and rhetoric with critical whiteness studies to show that in our post race era whiteness and racism not only survive but actually thrive in higher education As they examine the effects of racism on contemporary literacy practices and the rhetoric by which white privilege maintains and reproduces itself Ryden and Marshall consider topics ranging from the emotional investment in whiteness to the role of personal narrative in reconstituting racist identities to critiques of the foundational premises of writing programs steeped in repudiation of despised discourses Marshall and Ryden alternate chapters to sustain a multi layered dialogue that traces the rhetorical complexities and contradictions of teaching English and writing in a university setting Their lived experiences as faculty and administrators serve to underscore the complex code of whiteness even as they push to decode it and demonstrate how their own pedagogical practices are raced and racialized in multiple ways Collectively the essays ask instructors and administrators to consider more carefully the pernicious nature of whiteness in their professional activities and how it informs our practices

Unsettling Whiteness Lucy Michael, Samantha Schulz, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Unsettling Whiteness brings together an international collection that considers anew the politics practices and representations of whiteness at a time when nations worldwide continue to grapple with issues that are underwritten by whiteness

Law, Migration, and the Construction of Whiteness Dagmar Rita Myslinska, 2024-03-15 This book addresses the hidden dynamics of race within the European Union Brexit supporters frequent targeting of European Union EU movers especially those from Central and Eastern Europe has been popularly assumed as at odds with the EU project s foundations based on equality and inclusion This book dispels that notion By interrogating the history wording omissions assumptions and applications of laws policies and discourses pertinent to mobility and equality the argument developed throughout the book is that the parameters of CEE nationals status within the EU have been closely circumscribed in line with the entrenched historical positioning of the west as superior to the east Engaging current legal economic political and moral issues against the backdrop of Brexit and contestations over EU integration and globalisation this work opens avenues of thought to better understand law s role in producing and sustaining social stratifications Europe is a postcolonial space as this book demonstrates By addressing fractures within the construct of whiteness that are based on ethnicity class and migrant status the book also provides a theoretically nuanced and politically useful understanding of contemporary European racisms This book will appeal to scholars students and others interested in migration EU integration and EU citizenship equality law race and ethnicity social policy and postcolonialism whiteness and the history of European colonialism as well as the status of whiteness in the contemporary postcolonial world. It addresses two fundamental questions: What happens to whiteness after empire and to what extent do white cultural norms or imperatives remain embedded in the postcolonial or postindependence state as a part acknowledged or not of the colonial legacy? Presenting a wide range of critical and theoretical responses, the contributors explore these questions by focusing on such diverse topics as the legacy of Princess Diana, queer self-expression, the changing situation of Gypsy or Romani minorities in Eastern Europe, literature including Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, Caryl Phillips's Cambridge and Gothic, impact on the literature of Australia, reconstruction of white South African social identity, cross-cultural discussions of mental illness, Freud's case history of the Wolfman, and Australia's national anthems.

Postcolonial Whiteness Alfred J. Lopez, 2012-02-01 Postcolonial Whiteness examines the interrelations between

The Construction of Whiteness Stephen Middleton, David R. Roediger, Donald M. Shaffer, 2016-04-13 A CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2017 This volume collects interdisciplinary essays that examine the crucial intersection between whiteness as a privileged racial category and the various material practices social, cultural, political, and economic that undergird white ideological influence in America. In truth, the need to examine whiteness as a problem has rarely been grasped outside academic circles. The ubiquity of whiteness, its pervasive quality as an ideal that is at once omnipresent and invisible, makes it the very epitome of the mainstream in America. And yet the undeniable relationship between whiteness and inequality in this country necessitates a thorough interrogation of its formation, its representation, and its reproduction. Essays here seek to do just that work. Editors and contributors interrogate whiteness as a social construct, revealing the underpinnings of narratives that foster white skin as an ideal of beauty, intelligence, and power. Contributors examine whiteness from several disciplinary perspectives, including history, communication, law, sociology, and literature. Its breadth and depth makes The Construction of Whiteness a refined introduction to the critical study of race for a new generation of scholars, undergraduates, and graduate students. Moreover, the interdisciplinary approach of the collection will appeal to scholars in African and African American studies, ethnic studies, cultural studies, legal studies, and more. This collection delivers an important contribution to the field of whiteness studies in its multifaceted impact on American history and culture.

White before whiteness in the late Middle Ages Wan-Chuan Kao, 2024-01-09 This groundbreaking book analyses premodern whiteness as operations of fragility, precarity, and raciality across bodily and nonsomatic figurations. It argues that while whiteness participates in the history of racialisation in the late medieval West, it does not denote skin tone alone. The 'before' of whiteness, presupposing essence and teleology, is less a retro-futuristic temporisation, one that simultaneously looks backward and faces forward, than a discursive figuration of how white becomes whiteness. Fragility delineates the limits of ruling ideologies in performances of mourning as self-defence against perceived threats to subjectivity, and desire, precarity registers the ruptures within normative values by foregrounding the unmarked vulnerability of the body politic, and the violence of cultural aestheticisation. Raciality attends to the politics of recognition and the technologies of enfleshment at the systemic edge of life and nonlife.

Retheorizing Race and

Whiteness in the 21st Century Charles A. Gallagher, France Winddance Twine, 2014-01-02 Retheorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century examines the role whiteness and white identities play in framing and reworking racial categories hierarchies and boundaries within the context of nation class gender and immigration It takes as its theoretical starting point the understanding that whiteness is not and nor has it ever been a static uniform category of social identification The scholarship in this book uses new empirical studies to show whiteness as a multiplicity of identities that are historically grounded class specific politically manipulated and gendered social relations that inhabit local custom and national sentiment Contributors to this book examine a wide range of issues yet all chapters are linked by one common denominator they examine how power and oppression are articulated redefined and asserted through various political discourses and cultural practices that privilege whiteness even when the prerogatives of the dominant group are contested Retheorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century is an important new contribution to the study of whiteness for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic Studies Sociology Political Science and Ethnography This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

The Nature of Whiteness Yuka Suzuki, 2016-12-01 The Nature of Whiteness explores the intertwining of race and nature in postindependence Zimbabwe Nature and environment have played prominent roles in white Zimbabwean identity and when the political tide turned against white farmers after independence nature was the most powerful resource they had at their disposal In the 1970s Mlilo a private conservancy sharing boundaries with Hwange National Park became the first site in Zimbabwe to experiment with wildlife production and by the 1990s wildlife tourism had become one of the most lucrative industries in the country Mlilo attained international notoriety in 2015 as the place where Cecil the Lion was killed by a trophy hunter Yuka Suzuki provides a balanced study of whiteness the conservation of nature and contested belonging in twenty first century southern Africa The Nature of Whiteness is a fascinating account of human animal relations and the interplay among categories of race and nature in this embattled landscape

Whiteness and Racialized Ethnic Groups in the United States Sherrow O. Pinder, 2012-01-01 Whiteness and Racialized Ethnic Groups in the United States in order to account for the never ending discrimination toward racialized ethnic groups including First Nations blacks Chinese and Mexicans revisits the history of whiteness in the United States It shows the difference between remembering a history of human indignities and recreating one that composes its own textual memory More specifically it reformulates how the historically reliant positionality of whiteness as a part of the everyday practice and discourse of white supremacy would later become institutionalized Even though whiteness studies with the intention of exposing white privilege has entered the realm of academic research and is moving toward antiracist forms of whiteness or at least toward antiracist approaches for a different form of whiteness it is not equipped to relinquish the privilege that comes with normalized whiteness Hence in order to construct a post white identity whiteness would have to be denormalized and freed of it of its presumptive hegemony
