The Making Of A Syrian Identity Intellectuals And Merchants In Nineteenth Century Beirut:

The Making of a Syrian Identity Fruma Zachs, 2005-05-01 Exploring the origins and development of the Syrian identity during the 18th and 19th centuries through the role of Christian Arab intellectuals and merchants Ottomans and American missionaries this volume examines its background stages of evolution and components It shows that the contribution of these Christian Arabs despite their relatively small number lies in the processes they set in motion being the first to promote territorial concepts along with a secular interpretation of Arab culture This Syrian identity constitutes an innovative case study in the broader discipline of proto national identity and the study of the development of local identities in Middle Eastern countries It is also a vital basis for research of 20th century Syrian nationalism The Origins of Syrian Nationhood

Adel Beshara, 2012-04-27 The Syria idea emerged in the nineteenth century as a concept of national awakening superseding both Arab nationalism and separatist currents Looking at nationalist movements ideas and individuals this book traces the origin and development of the idea of Syrian nationhood from the perspective of some of its leading pioneers Providing a highly original comparative insight into the struggle for independence and sovereignty in post 1850 Syria it addresses some of the most persistent questions about the development of this nationalism Chapters by eminent scholars from within and outside of the region offer a comprehensive study of individual Syrian writers and activists caught in a whirlwind of uncertainty competing ideologies foreign interference and political suppression A valuable addition to the present scholarship on nationalism in the Middle East this book will be of interest to many professionals as well as to scholars of history Middle East studies and political science The Contested Origins of the 1865 Arabic Bible David D.

Grafton, 2015-11-09 This study examines the history of an Arabic Bible translation of American missionaries in late Ottoman Syria Comparing the history of this project as recorded by the American missionaries with private correspondence and the manuscripts of the translation The Contested Origins of the 1865 Arabic Bible provides new evidence for the Bible s compilation including the seminal role of Syrian Christians and Muslims This research also places the project within the wider social political framework of a transforming Ottoman Empire where the rise of a literate class in Beirut served as a catalyst for the Arabic literary renaissance Nah a and within the international field of New Testament textual studies

Freedom in the Arab World Wael Abu-'Uksa, 2016-07-04 An examination of the concept of freedom in nineteenth century Arabic political thought and how it relates to other modern ideologies Who Needs Arab-Jewish Identity?

Reuven Snir, 2015-02-24 In Who Needs Arab Jewish Identity Interpellation Exclusion and Inessential Solidarities Professor Reuven Snir Dean of Humanities at Haifa University presents a new approach to the study of Arab Jewish identity and the subjectivities of Arabized Jews Against the historical background of Arab Jewish culture and in light of identity theory Snir shows how the exclusion that the Arabized Jews had experienced both in their mother countries and then in Israel led to the fragmentation of their original identities and encouraged them to find refuge in inessential solidarities Following double exclusion intense globalization and contemporary fluidity of identities singularity not identity has become the major war cry among Arabized Jews during the last decade in our present liquid society In Who Needs Arab Jewish Identity Reuven Snir brings out an important contribution to studies of the history literature and identity of Arabized Jews showing the significant shifts these communities have undergone in the ways their identities have been defined and constructed in the modern period Lisa Bernasek University of Southampton in Journal of Modern Jewish Studies 18 2 2019 Reading Darwin in Arabic, 1860-1950 Marwa Elshakry, 2014-01-06 In Reading Darwin in Arabic Marwa Elshakry questions current ideas about Islam science and secularism by exploring the ways in which Darwin was read in Arabic from the late 1860s to the mid twentieth century Borrowing from translation and reading studies and weaving together the history of science with intellectual history she explores Darwin s global appeal from the perspective of several generations of Arabic readers and shows how Darwin s writings helped alter the social and epistemological landscape of the Arab learned classes Providing a close textual political and institutional analysis of the tremendous interest in Darwin s ideas and other works on evolution Elshakry shows how in an age of massive regional and international political upheaval these readings were suffused with the anxieties of empire and civilizational decline The politics of evolution infiltrated Arabic discussions of pedagogy progress and the very sense of history They also led to a literary and conceptual transformation of notions of science and religion themselves Darwin thus became a vehicle for discussing scriptural exegesis the conditions of belief and cosmological views more broadly The book also acquaints readers with Muslim and Christian intellectuals bureaucrats and theologians and concludes by exploring Darwin s waning influence on public and intellectual life in the Arab world after World War I Reading Darwin in Arabic is an engaging and powerfully argued reconceptualization of the intellectual and political history of the Middle East Global Muslims in the Age of Steam and Print James L. Gelvin, Nile Green, 2013-12-07 The second half of the nineteenth century marks a watershed in human history Railroads linked remote hinterlands with cities overland and undersea cables connected distant continents New and accessible print technologies made the wide dissemination of ideas possible oceangoing steamers carried goods to faraway markets and enabled the greatest long distance migrations in recorded history In this volume leading scholars of the Islamic world recount the enduring consequences these technological economic social and cultural revolutions had on Muslim communities from North Africa to South Asia the Indian Ocean and China Drawing on a multiplicity of approaches and genres from commodity history to biography to social network theory the essays in Global Muslims in the Age of Steam and Print offer new and diverse perspectives on a transnational community in an era of global transformation Arab liberal thought in the modern age Meir Hatina, 2020-01-15 The provides in depth analysis of Arab liberalism which although lacking public appeal and a compelling political underpinning still sustained viability over time and remained a constant part of the Arab landscape The Economy as an Issue in the Middle Eastern Press Gisela Procházka-Eisl, Martin Strohmeier, 2008 This volume comprises papers delivered at the sixth meeting
