The Making Of Europe Conquest Colonization And Cultural Change 950 135:

The Making of Europe Robert Bartlett, 1993 This provocative book shows that Europe in the Middle Ages was as much a product of a process of conquest and colonization as it was later a colonizer Will be of great interest to those interested in cultural transformation colonialism racism the Crusades or holy wars in general William C Jordan Princeton University 12 halftones 12 maps 6 diagrams The Cambridge History of Christianity: Volume 4, Christianity in Western Europe, c.1100-c.1500 Miri Rubin, Walter Simons, 2014-07-31 During the early middle ages Europe developed complex and varied Christian cultures and from about 1100 secular rulers competing factions and inspired individuals continued to engender a diverse and ever changing mix within Christian society This volume explores the wide range of institutions practices and experiences associated with the life of European Christians in the later middle ages The clergy of this period initiated new approaches to the role of priests bishops and popes and developed an ambitious project to instruct the laity For lay people the practices of parish religion were central but many sought additional ways to enrich their lives as Christians Impulses towards reform and renewal periodically swept across Europe led by charismatic preachers and supported by secular rulers This book provides accessible accounts of these complex historical processes and entices the reader towards further enquiry

Germany Today Christiane Lemke, Helga A. Welsh, 2017-12-01 This book analyzes the major post unification developments that have tested and shaped the new Germany from a multilevel perspective The authors argue that domestic transformation and a heightened role in international politics are consequences often unintended of unification Europeanization and globalization Informed by the authors intimate knowledge of Germany this book offers a comprehensive in depth analysis of a pivotal global player at a critical economic political social and environmental juncture Conquests and Cultures Thomas Sowell, 2021-08-10 This book is the culmination of 15 years of research and travels that have taken the author completely around the world twice as well as on other travels in the Mediterranean the Baltic and around the Pacific rim Its purpose has been to try to understand the role of cultural differences within nations and between nations today and over centuries of history in shaping the economic and social fates of peoples and of whole civilizations Focusing on four major cultural areas that of the British the Africans including the African diaspora the Slavs of Eastern Europe and the indigenous peoples of the Western Hemisphere Conquests and Cultures reveals patterns that encompass not only these peoples but others and help explain the role of cultural evolution in economic social and political development The March of Wales 1067-1300 Max Lieberman, 2018-06-15 By 1300 a region often referred to as the March of Wales had been created between England and the Principality of Wales This March consisted of some forty castle centred lordships extending along the Anglo Welsh border and also across southern Wales It took shape over more than two centuries between the Norman conquest of England 1066 and the English conquest of Wales 1283 and is mentioned in Magna Carta 1215 It was a highly distinctive part of the political geography of Britain for much of the Middle Ages yet the medieval March has long vanished and today expressions like the marches are used rather vaguely to refer to the Welsh Borders What was the medieval March of Wales How and why was it created The March of Wales 1067 1300 A Borderland of Medieval Britain provides comprehensible and concise answers to such questions With the aid of maps a list of key dates and source material such as the writings of Gerald of Wales c 1146 1223 this book also places the March in the context of current academic debates on the frontiers peoples and countries of the medieval British Isles Political Culture in the Latin West, Byzantium and the Islamic World, c.700–c.1500 Catherine Holmes,Jonathan Shepard,Jo van Steenberg,Björn Weiler,2021-08-26 This comparative study explores three key cultural and political spheres the Latin west Byzantium and the Islamic world from Central Asia to the Atlantic roughly from the emergence of Islam to the fall of Constantinople These spheres drew on a shared pool of late antique Mediterranean culture philosophy and science and they had monotheism and historical antecedents in common Yet where exactly political and spiritual power lay and how it was exercised differed This book focuses on power dynamics and resource allocation among ruling elites the legitimisation of power and property with the aid of religion and on rulers interactions with local elites and societies Offering the reader route maps towards navigating each sphere and grasping the fundamentals of its political culture this set of parallel studies offers a timely and much needed framework for comparing the societies surrounding the medieval Mediterranean Writing and Fantasy Ceri Sullivan,2014-06-11 Writing and Fantasy brings together essays which restore a sense of the fantastic as a political response to cultural opportunities and pressures It moves on from two conventional fields of discussion the psychoanalytic where phantasies are produced by the emergence of the consciousness and the social where fantasies are the production of nineteenth century individualism Chapters run from the classical period to the twentieth century each focusing on a local reading of how fantasy acts as a strategy to contain or exploit specific historical and cultural moments A wide variety of sites are investigated including the feminization of the wild west originary and maternal spaces highwaywomen financial credit and the ideal home Multiple genres containing fantasy are explored ranging from ghost stories to feminist utopias Aids to the reader include an introduction summarising recent discussions of fantasy illustrations dealing with visual fantasies and an annotated bibliography The new research presented here will be of great interest to academics and students in literature history and cultural studies departments who are working in the field of the historical development of concepts of fantasy cultural opposition and the imbrication of politics and modes of representation Imaginary Cartographies Daniel Lord Smail,2018-10-18 How in the years before the advent of urban maps did city residents conceptualize and navigate their communities In his strikingly original book Daniel Lord Smail develops a new method and a new vocabulary for understanding how urban men and women thought about their personal geography His thorough research of property records of late medieval Marseille leads him to conclude that its inhabitants charted their city its social structure and their own identities within that structure through a set of cartographic grammars which powerfully shaped their lives Prior to the fourteenth century different interest groups notaries royal officials church officials artisans developed their own cartographies in accordance with their own social political or administrative agendas These competing templates were created around units ranging from streets and islands to vicinities and landmarks Smail shows how the notarial template which privileged the street as the most basic marker of address gradually emerged as the cartographic norm This transformation he argues led to the rise of modern urban maps and helped to inaugurate the process whereby street addresses were attached to citizen identities a crucial development in the larger enterprise of nation building Imaginary Cartographies opens up powerful new means for exploring late medieval and Renaissance urban society while advancing understanding of the role of social perceptions in history

Othon de Grandson John Marshall, 2025-08-30 Studies the remarkable life of Othon de Grandson crusader diplomat and close companion to King Edward I There were once two little boys they met when they were both quite young one was born in what is now Switzerland by Lake de Neuchâtel his name Othon de Grandson and the other was born in London his name Prince Edward son of King Henry the third of that name Othon was probably born in 1238 and Edward we know in June 1239 These two little boys grew up and had adventures together They took the cross together the ninth crusade in 1271 and 1272 Othon reputedly sucking poison from Edward when the latter was attacked by an assassin In 1277 and 1278 they fought the First Welsh War against the House of Gwynedd Othon doing much to negotiate the Treaty of Aberconwy in 1278 which ended hostilities When war broke out again in 1282 they fought the Second Welsh War together Othon led Edward's army across the Bridge of Boats from Anglesey and was the first to sight the future sites of castles at Caernarfon and Harlech Edward made his friend the first Justiciar Viceroy of North Wales When Edward and Othon went to Gascony in 1287 Othon stayed in Zaragoza as a hostage for Edward's good intentions between Gascony and Castille Later in 1291 when Acre was threatened by the Mamluks Edward sent Othon as head of the English delegation of knights When Acre finally fell to the Mamluks bringing the Crusades to a close who was the last knight onto the boats Othon de Grandson helping his old friend the wounded Jean de Grailly onto the boat When Othon returned from the East he found England at war with Scotland and France he would spend his last years in Edward's service building alliances and negotiating peace before retiring to his home in what is now Switzerland after the king's death in 1307 Grandson lived in the time of Marco Polo Giotto Dante Robert the Bruce and the last Templars He was right there at the centre of the action in two crusades war with Wales Scotland and France the Sicilian Vespers and suppression of the Templars he walked with a succession of kings and popes a knight of great renown This is his story

Cognition, Literature, and History Mark J. Bruhn, Donald R. Wehrs, 2013-11-26 Cognition Literature and History models the ways in which cognitive and literary studies may collaborate and thereby mutually advance It shows how understanding of underlying structures of mind can productively inform literary analysis and historical inquiry and how formal and historical analysis of distinctive literary works can reciprocally enrich our understanding of those underlying structures Applying the cognitive neuroscience of categorization emotion figurative thinking narrativity self awareness theory of mind and wayfinding to the study of literary works and genres from diverse historical periods and cultures the authors argue that literary experience proceeds from qualitatively heightens and selectively informs and even reforms our evolved and embodied capacities for thought and feeling This volume investigates and locates the complex intersections of cognition literature and history in order to advance interdisciplinary discussion and research in poetics literary history and cognitive science
