Brunvand,1994-10-17 America's premier folk detective is back on the case sniffing out those zany but dubious stories that really happened to a friend of your sister's boyfriend's accountant's mechanic Jan Harold Brunvand Mr Urban Legend Smithsonian tracks the most fabulous tales making today's cocktail party circuit and shows why those stories that sound too good to be true probably are too good to be true The eponymous episode The Baby Train sheds light on certain predawn activities that have linked unusually high birth rates to the whim of train schedule makers Other stories offer a revealing peek behind the story of The Exploding Bra expose the embarrassing source of The Hairdresser's Error resurrect a Failed Suicide Buster Keaton would have died for and show why adults are better off not bringing their comic book fantasies out of the closet From Superhero Hijinx to The Shocking Videotape to The Accidental Cannibal The Baby Train uncovers the mysteries behind some of the bawdiest goriest funniest most pyrotechnic urban legends yet Out of Turmoil Dean P. Vesperman,Anne Aydinian-Perry,Matthew T. Missias,Whitney G. Blankenship,2023-01-01 It is not difficult to argue that the social sciences are in a period of transition Our day to day lives have been marked by uncertainty as our social lives have vacillated wildly between highs and lows tensions between fellow citizens have heightened along ideological fault lines and educators have been placed squarely at the center of public discourses about what and how we should be teaching By any measure we are living in a time where every moment seems to be rife with high stakes realities that must be navigated Ladson Billings 2020 called on educators to reimagine education and contest the notion of a return to normal In the current highly polarized context where we see multiple competing narratives rather than promoting a return to normal or business as usual approach we argue that educators must use the lessons of the last two years as well as draw on what we have learned from history and the social sciences By asking ourselves how we might interrogate and inform current social landscapes and the challenges that arise from them we have the opportunity to take leadership in fostering innovation building solidarity and reimagining the teaching and learning of history and the social sciences We recognize that humans live in multiple complex communities that include intersectional identities relationships with power agency and discourses and lived realities that are as unique as they are divergent Consequently the task of educators and the goal of this volume is to provide a clarion voice to a dynamic relational and undeniably human social world Booktalking Across the Curriculum Nancy J. Keane,2002-11-30 Promote fiction reading across the middle school curriculum With more than 160 booktalks and 330 book suggestions at your fingertips this invaluable resource makes it easy to pick just the right books for your students Designed to fit curricular studies the book is organized by subject area L DBLUnited States History L DBLWorld History L DBLSocial Studies L DBLLanguage Arts and Literature L DBLMathematics L DBLScience L DBLThe Arts L DBLPhysical Education and Sports L Extra chapters include booktalks that foster critical thinking and deal with humorous titles Carefully chosen based on appeal age appropriateness and positive reviews each book is designated with suggested grade and reading levels All of the booktalks are accompanied by learning extensions that can be used as assignments or as starting points for further
