Vanishing British Columbia Michael Kluckner, 2011-11-01 The old buildings and historic places of British Columbia form a kind of roadside memory a tangible link with stories of settlement change and abandonment that reflect the great themes of our history With small towns declining and old rural properties changing so little of the history of these places has been recorded in museums or archives and so much of it may disappear as families disperse and memories dim More than a decade ago Michael Kluckner began painting these dots on his personal map of the province in a watercolour sketchbook In 1999 after he put a few of the sketches on his website a network of correspondents emerged that eventually led him to the family letters photo albums and memories all from a disappearing era of the province Vanishing British Columbia is a record of these places and the stories they tell It combines engaging and insightful historical commentary with over 160 of the author's original paintings It has an exceptional assortment of historic imagery including old postcards architectural plans and photographs The study of roadside memory demonstrates the visceral connection that people especially those who are part of the rural to urban diaspora of modern times have for the sites of their family memories On a grander scale this approach leads to a broader understanding of more abstract historical themes and of the province's history and culture It also presents a compelling argument for stewardship of regional history in the face of urbanization and globalization

Following the Curve of Time Cathy Converse, 2011-02-01 Cathy Converse has given us a welcome commentary on Capi Blanchet and her world one that enriches our understanding of both The Tyee A paperback edition of the BC Book Award nominated biography of Capi Blanchet the author of the BC coastal classic The Curve of Time After her husband died in 1926 from a suspected drowning Capi Blanchet spent every summer cruising BC's west coast with her five children and their dog in the family's 25 foot boat The Curve of Time is the book Capi wrote chronicling these adventures and it remains a bestseller and a classic in the annals of nautical literature But little is known about the rest of her life Cathy Converse found herself asking who was this skipper this mother this writer In this biography Converse offers insiders recollections of this enigmatic woman along with family photos and updated information about the villages inlets and islands described in The Curve of Time Following the Curve of Time is essential reading for anyone who has ever been captivated by the book the West Coast or Capi herself

The Royal Fjord Ray Phillips, 2015-05-02 The most accessible and popular of British Columbia's great scenic fjords Jervis Inlet punches 60 kilometres into the Coast Mountains a day's cruising north of Vancouver It deserves to be called the Royal Fjord on two counts the long zigzagging watercourse is comprised of four segments all with royal names Prince of Wales Reach Princess Royal Reach Queen's Reach and Princess Louisa Inlet and second the inlet possesses a scenic majesty that has made it one of the prime boating destinations on the Inside Passage Author Earle Stanley Gardner was so moved by the beauty of Jervis Inlet that he penned There is no scenery in the world that can beat it Not that I've seen the rest of the world I don't need to Almost deserted now except for Young Life's Malibu Club youth summer camp Jervis Inlet was once the home of large Sechelt Nation villages and later of innumerable homesteads logging camps and fishing communities and even the occasional hangout of golden age Hollywood stars That colourful past comes to life again in this new book by Ray Phillips who grew up in the area and descended from local pioneers Featuring original photos and the rough hewn memories of some of those early inhabitants along with personal accounts by the author and his father The Royal Fjord makes fascinating reading and fills an important gap in the written history of the BC coast Jay-Z Richard

Spilsbury,2012-07 Profiles the life and career of rap musician and businessman Jay Z The Intemperate Rainforest Bruce Braun,2002 Braun geography U of Minnesota provides a new viewpoint on the complex cultural political and intellectual forces involved in the forest policies of British Columbia Employing poststructuralist theory and using the 1993 protests over logging in Clayoquot Sound as his starting point Braun assesses the colonial thinking behind 19th century forest policies the struggles of native peoples to regain their spaces the assertion of so called rational forest management as a new version of colonialism the Western Canada Wilderness Committee's use of nature photography to promote their notion of pristine wilderness ecotourism and the continued impact of the vision of early 20th century painter Emily Carr Annotation in printing technology saw an emergence of publishing ventures in France and Britain dedicated to the production of albums and travel accounts featuring images of Muslim Egypt and Islamic architecture and catering to a growing European fascination with the East Visualizing Egypt analyzes the context and process of production of these highly illustrated publications from their conceptualization to the finished product and its afterlife from marketing to the sales of these books and from circulation to their reception by nineteenth century audiences By tracing the long arduous and often risky publishing journeys of the makers of these books including publishers writers and artists such as the Frenchman mile Prisse d Avennes Paulina Banas reveals a complex terrain of changing market demands collaborations and conflicting views and the unsettled authorship of these works prompting us to think more profoundly about artistic and intellectual exchange in the world of nineteenth century Orientalist book production Visualizing Egypt considers nineteenth century book illustrations on Egypt and the Orient not merely as expressions of enduring ideology and colonial propaganda but as representations shaped by the often overlooked commercial exigencies of the growing publishing industry and the reckless competition within it

Media Law Sallie Spilsbury, 2013-03-04 The aim of this book is to analyse media law in relation to specific areas both in terms of its practical application and its theoretical framework Part 1 concentrates on the regulation of media content and is largely written from a pro media point of view Its central tenet is how far does the English media enjoy freedom of expression and the way in which that impacts on how the media operates It considers how the Human Rights Act 1998 impacts on the media Part 2 moves on to look at the regulation of the media industries as a whole Part 3 focuses on day to day transactions for the media In particular it focuses on provisions from typical media agreements and aims to provide a context for the law which has been outlined in Parts 1 and 2 The structure of this book bridges the gap between a traditional textbook and practitioner work and provides a book which will be of interest to law degree and LPC students and practitioners
