colonialism and genocide and his signature approach uniting travelogues with powerful acts of historical excavation renders his books devastating and unforgettable Now for the first time Lindqvist's most beloved works are available in one beautiful and affordable volume with a new introduction by Adam Hochschild The Dead Do Not Die includes the full unabridged text of Exterminate All the Brutes called a book of stunning range and near genius by David Levering Lewis In this work Lindqvist uses Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness as a point of departure for a haunting tour through the colonial past retracing the steps of Europeans in Africa from the late eighteenth century onward and thus exposing the roots of genocide via his own journey through the Saharan desert The full text of Terra Nullius is also included for which Lindqvist traveled 7 000 miles through Australia in search of the lands the British had claimed as their own because it was inhabited by lower races the native Aborigines nearly nine tenths of whom were annihilated by whites The shocking story of how no man's land became the province of the white man was called the most original work on Australia and its treatment of Aborigines I have ever read marvelous by Phillip Knightley author of Australia The New McCulloch's Encyclopedia of Australian Art Alan

McCulloch,Susan McCulloch,Emily McCulloch Childs,2006 Widely regarded as the authoritative reference on Australian art with its extensive colour plates and 4500 entries Fully illustrated with more than 700 images on 1200 pages Entries include Aboriginal art Abstractionism art links sculptors photographers craft workers and printmakers and much more Law, Knowledge, Culture Jane E. Anderson,2009-01-01 Combining unique practical experience with a sophisticated historical and theoretical framework this impressive work offers a new basis to explore indigenous intellectual property In this wide ranging and imaginative study Anderson has laid the groundwork for future scholarship in the field Hopefully this work will set a new trajectory for how this important topic is approached and advanced with indigenous people Brad Sherman University of Queensland Australia This informative book investigates how indigenous and traditional knowledge has been produced and positioned within intellectual property law and the effects of this position in both national and international jurisdictions Drawing upon critical cultural and legal theory Jane Anderson illustrates how the problems facing the inclusion of indigenous knowledge resonate with tensions that characterise intellectual property as a whole She explores the extent that the emergence of indigenous interests in intellectual property law is a product of shifting politics within law changing political environments governmental intervention through strategic reports and innovative instances of individual agency The author draws on long term practical experience of working with indigenous people and communities whilst engaging with ongoing debates in the realm of legal theory Detailing a comprehensive view on how indigenous knowledge has emerged as a discrete category within intellectual property law this book will benefit researchers academics and students dealing with law in the fields of IP human rights property and environmental law It will also appeal to anthropologists sociologists philosophers and cultural theorists

Indigenous Archives Darren Jorgensen, Ian McLean, 2017 The archive is a source of power It takes control of the past deciding which voices will be heard and which won't how they will be heard and for what purposes Indigenous archivists were at work well before the European Enlightenment arrived and began its own archiving Sometimes at odds other times not these two ways of ordering the world have each learned from and engaged with the other Colonialism has been a struggle over archives and its processes as much as anything else The eighteen essays by twenty authors investigate different aspects of this struggle in Australia from traditional Indigenous archives and their developments in recent times to the deconstruction of European archives by contemporary artists as acts of cultural empowerment It also examines the use of archives developed for other reasons such as the use of rainfall records to interpret early Papunya paintings Indigenous Archives is the first overview of archival research in the production and understanding of Indigenous culture Wide ranging in its scope it reveals the lively state of research into Indigenous histories and culture in Australia

Australian Aboriginal Studies, 2005

Ngapartji Ngapartji Vanessa Castejon, Anna Cole, Oliver Haag, Karen Hughes, 2014-11-12 In this innovative collection Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars from Australia and Europe reflect on how their life histories have impacted on their research in Indigenous Australian Studies Drawing on Pierre Nora's concept of ego histoire as an analytical tool to ask historians to apply their methods to themselves contributors lay open their paths personal commitments and passion involved in their research Why are we researching in Indigenous Studies what has driven our motivations How have our biographical experiences influenced our research And how has our research influenced us in our political and individual understanding as scholars and human beings This collection tries to answer many of these complex questions seeing them not as merely personal issues but highly relevant to the practice of Indigenous Studies I think this rich collection will become a landmark text and a favourite within Australian scholarship I am keen to see it published so that I can recommend it to others

The Big Fish Anna J. Bonshek, Corrina Bonshek, Lee C. Fergusson, 2007 While debate continues in the fields of the sciences and humanities as to the nature of consciousness and the location of consciousness in the brain or as a field phenomenon in the Vedic tradition consciousness has been understood and continues to be articulated as an infinite field of intelligence at the basis of all forms of existence This infinite field of intelligence is accessible to human awareness being the drawn from an international galaxy of eminent critics as well as from newer talents The book proves that interest in White's work continues to grow and diversify Every essay offers a new insight some are re-evaluations by seasoned critics who revise earlier positions significantly others admit new light onto what has seemed like well-trodden terrain or focus on works perhaps undervalued in the past his poetry an early short story or novel which are now subjected to fresh attention His posthumous work has also won attention from prominent critics New comparisons with other international writers have been drawn in terms of subject matter themes and philosophy The expansion of critical attention into fields like photography and film opens new possibilities for enhancing further appreciation of his work White's interest in public issues such as the treatment of Australia's Indigenous peoples human rights and Australian nationalism is refracted through the inclusion of relevant commentaries from notable contributors For the first time in Australian literary history Indigenous scholars have participated in a celebration of the work of a white Australian writer All of this highlights a new direction in White studies the appreciation of his stature as a public intellectual The book demonstrates that White's legacy has limitless possibilities for further growth

The Making of Indigenous Australian Contemporary Art Marie Geissler, 2021-01-06 This publication brings together existing research as well as new data to show how Arnhem Land bark painting was critical in the making of Indigenous Australian contemporary art and the self-determination agendas of Indigenous Australians It identifies how when and what the shifts in the reception of the art were especially as they occurred within institutional exhibition displays Despite key studies already being published on the reception of Aboriginal art in this area the overall process is not well known or always considered while the focus has tended to be placed on Western Desert acrylic paintings This text however represents a refocus and addresses this more fully by integrating Arnhem Land bark painting into the contemporary history of Aboriginal art The trajectory moves from its understanding as a form of ethnographic art to seeing it as conceptual art and appreciating it for its cultural agency and contemporaneity
