Spirit And The Drum A Memoir Of Africa:

The Spirit and the Drum Edith L. B. Turner, 1987 Victor Turner and Contemporary Cultural Performance Graham St John, 2008-04-01 Upon the 25th anniversary of his passing this collection addresses the wide application of Victor Turner's thought to cultural performance in the early 21st century From anthropology sociology and religious studies to performance cultural and media studies Turner's ideas have had a prodigious interdisciplinary impact Examining his relevance in studies of performance and popular culture media and religion along with the role of Edith Turner in the Turnerian project contributors explore how these ideas have been re-engaged renovated and repurposed in studies of contemporary cultural performance

A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2019-02-06 An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest With these subjects as a groundwork later essays address decolonization the postcolonial experience and questions of modern identity and definition providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa

Models and Mirrors Don Handelman, 1998 Ritual is one of the most discussed cultural practices yet its treatment in anthropological terms has been seriously limited characterized by a host of narrow conceptual distinctions One major reason for this situation has been the prevalence of positivist anthropologies that have viewed and summarized ritual occasions first and foremost in terms of their declared and assumed functions By contrast this book which has become a classic investigates them as epistemological phenomena in their own right Comparing public events a domain which includes ritual and related occasions the author argues that any public event must first be comprehended through the logic of its design It is the logic of organization of an occasion which establishes in large measure what that occasion is able to do in relation to the world within which it is created and practiced

Bereft of Reason Eugene Halton, 1995 We must he argues frame our questions in a way which encompasses both enchantment and critical reason and he offers an outline here for doing so A passionate plea for a fundamental reexamination of the entrenched assumptions of the modern era this book deals with issues of vital concern to modern societies and should be read by scholars across disciplines Lived Religion Meredith B McGuire, 2008-08-22 How can we grasp the complex religious lives of individuals such as Peter an ordained Protestant minister who has little attachment to any church but centers his highly committed religious practice on peace and justice activism Or Hannah a devout Jew whose rich spiritual life revolves around her women s spirituality group and the daily practice of meditative dance Or Laura who identifies as Catholic but rarely attends Mass and engages daily in Buddhist style meditation at her home altar arranged with symbols of Mexican American popular religion Diverse religious practices such as these have long baffled scholars whose research often starts with the assumption that individuals commit or refuse to commit to an entire institutionally framed package of beliefs and practices Meredith McGuire points the way forward toward a new way of understanding religion She argues that scholars must study religion not as it is defined by religious organizations but as it is actually lived in people s everyday lives Drawing on her own extensive fieldwork as well as recent work by others McGuire explores the many seemingly mundane ways that individuals practice their religions and develop their spiritual lives By examining the many eclectic and creative practices of body mind emotion and spirit that have been invisible to researchers she offers a fuller and more nuanced understanding of contemporary religion Fieldnotes Roger Sanjek, 2019-06-30 Thirteen distinguished anthropologists describe how they create and use the unique forms of writing they produce in the field They also discuss the fieldnotes of seminal figures Frank Cushing Franz Boas W H R Rivers Bronislaw Malinowski and Margaret Mead and analyze field writings in relation to other types of texts especially ethnographies Unique in conception this volume contributes importantly to current debates on writing texts and reflexivity in anthropology

Personal Knowledge and Beyond James V. Spickard, Shawn Landres, Meredith B. McGuire, 2002-02 Personal Knowledge and Beyond seeks to foster a cross disciplinary rethinking of ethnography's possibilities and limits for the study of religions It provides an overview of recent debates while also pushing them in new directions

The Transvestite Achilles P. J. Heslin, 2005-08-11 Statius Achilleid is a playful witty and open ended epic in the manner of Ovid As we follow Achilles metamorphosis from wild boy to demure girl to lover to hero the poet brilliantly illustrates a series of contrasting codes of behaviour male and female epic and elegiac This first full length study of the poem addresses not only the narrative itself but also sets the myth of Achilles on Scyros within a broad interpretive framework The exploration ranges from the reception of the Achilleid in Baroque opera to the anthropological parallels that have been adduced to explain Achilles transvestism The study's expansive approach which includes Ovid and Ovidian reception psychoanalytic perspectives and theorizations of gender in antiquity makes it essential reading not only for students of Statius but for students of Latin literature and of gender in antiquity

Anthropology in the City Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2016-05-23 With half of humanity already living in towns and cities and that proportion expected to increase in the coming decades society both Western and non Western is fast becoming urban and even mega urban As such research in urban settings is evidently timely and of great importance Anthropology in the City brings together a leading team of anthropologists to address the complex methodological and theoretical challenges posed by field research in urban settings clearly identifying the significance of the anthropological paradigm in urban research and its centrality both to mainstream academic debates and to society more broadly With essays from experts on wide ranging ethnographic research from fields as diverse as China Europe India Latin and North America and South East Asia this book demonstrates the contribution that empirically based anthropological analysis can make to our understanding of our increasingly urban world

Writing Women's Worlds Lila Abu-Lughod, 2008-04-07 Extrait de la couverture In 1978 Lila Abu Lughod climbed out of a dusty van to meet members of a small Awlad Ali Bedouin community Living in this Egyptian Bedouin settlement for extended periods during the following decade Abu Lughod took part in family life with its moments of humor affection and anger As the new teller of these tales Abu Lughod draws on anthropological and feminist insights to construct a critical ethnography She explores how the telling of these stories challenges the power of anthropological theory to render adequately the lives of others and the way feminist theory appropriates Third World women Writing Women's Worlds is thus at once a vivid set of stories and a study in the politics of representation

A Song of Longing Kay Kaufman Shelemay, 1994 A rich descriptive account Shelemay presents extraordinary personal experiences that shaped her research process and make reading this text pleasurable Library Journal Highly recommended to generalists in music as well as to specialists interested in Ethiopia Also makes an excellent case study text for university level courses examining fieldwork issues and conditions Notes Highly recommended for both undergraduate and graduate collections in ethnomusicology anthropology African and Judaic studies Choice Performance, Culture, and Identity Elizabeth C. Fine, Jean Haskell, 1992-10-20 This volume is based on the premise that artistic performance is epistemological a way of knowing self culture and other The nine essays in this book based on a broad range of ethnic racial and gender groups share a common interest in exploring how performance reveals shapes and sometimes transforms personal and cultural identity Editors Fine and Speer begin by examining the interdisciplinary roots of performance studies and the role of performance studies in the field of communication They also discuss the power of performance to shape personal and cultural identity The first two chapters explore the ritual nature of performance in two different cultural contexts an African American church service and an Appalachian storytelling event of the legendary Ray Hicks In both arenas the performers act as shamans transporting the audience from their everyday secular lives to the higher ground of the mythic spheres of heroic and fantastic events The next three chapters discuss the notion of place and performance in various landscapes the English countryside the Blue Ridge Mountains and the farmland of the Midwest Through analysis of the speech and songs of a modern Sussex yeoman the ghost tales of Appalachian storytellers and the narratives of Midwest farmers coping with hard times the authors reveal a variety of ways in which narrative performances function to preserve people's relationship with the land The last four chapters share a focus on women as storytellers One chapter offers a feminist critique of personal narrative research and challenges normative assumptions about the storytelling behavior of women Another chapter interprets a narration of a Galician woman's typical day to reveal how the performance expresses deeply held attitudes and beliefs of her cultural community Words are not the only medium that women use to tell their stories The next chapter examines the story cloths of Hmong women refugees from Laos as intercultural and dialogical performances The last chapter explores self discovery and identity in the storytelling of a woman in the last years of her life This volume is particularly representative of the ways in which communication scholars approach performance studies but will also interest researchers and students of folklore anthropology sociology theatre and related disciplines Anthropological Theory R. Jon McGee, Richard L. Warms, 2024-10-02 Anthropological Theory An Introductory History presents a selection of critical essays in anthropology from 1860 to the present day Classic authors such as Marx Durkheim Boas Malinowski and Douglas are joined by contemporary thinkers including Das Ortnier Boellstorff and Simpson McGee and Warms detailed introductions examine critical developments in theory introduce key people and discuss historical and personal influences on theorists In extensive footnotes the editors provide commentary that puts the writing in historical and cultural context defines unusual terms translates non English phrases identifies references to other scholars and their works and offers paraphrases and summaries

The Slain God Timothy Larsen, 2014-08-28 Throughout its entire history the discipline of anthropology has been perceived as undermining or even discrediting Christian faith Many of its most prominent theorists have been agnostics who assumed that ethnographic findings and theories had exposed religious beliefs to be untenable E B Tylor the founder of the discipline in Britain lost his faith through studying anthropology James Frazer saw the material that he presented in his highly influential work The Golden Bough as demonstrating that Christian thought was based on the erroneous thought patterns of savages On the other hand some of the most eminent anthropologists have been Christians including E E Evans Pritchard Mary Douglas Victor Turner and Edith Turner Moreover they openly presented articulate reasons for how their religious convictions cohered with their professional work Despite being a major site of friction between faith and modern thought the relationship between anthropology and Christianity has never before been the subject of a book length study In this groundbreaking work Timothy Larsen examines the point where doubt and faith collide with anthropological theory and evidence

Telepathic Tales Daniel Bourke, 2025-07-08 Provides accounts of ESP ranging from ancient Greek myth traditional North and South American African and Polynesian stories to individuals like Rumi Charles Dickens and Carl Jung Considers unexplained ESP related happenings including bilocation the ability to locate lost items early knowledge of one s own death and perceptions regarding the well being of loved ones Whether a premonition of an impending event a warning of potential danger or an unlikely synchronistic experience such things are surprisingly common even if they often cannot be clearly explained Taking readers on a historical and cross cultural voyage through extrasensory experiences Daniel Bourke documents contextualizes and sheds light on these mysterious phenomena From the plains of Peru and the haunted highlands of Scotland to the snowy taiga forests of the Far North and the Indigenous cultures of Australia and America Bourke examines the strange psychic occurrences that seem to appear in all places at all times These include instances of bilocation premonitions about the coming of visitors intuitions of the location of lost items or treasures the discovery of cures by telepathic means and even accurate pre perceptions about one s own demise or the perilous situation of a loved one He looks at the renowned Greek seers including Iamos who announced the death of Hercules at the moment it occurred the far reaching visions of the shaman in a trance who might warn his tribe of danger and the witches wizards and heroes of legend and romance who were privy to secret knowledge through magical means Bourke's survey incorporates rare accounts from people all around the world and across the ages including figures like Rumi Saint Anthony Charles Dickens Mark Twain and Carl Jung Shedding light on our cultural and mythic past Bourke shows that wherever you look in the world whatever culture or time telepathic tales are unfolding all around us

They Lie, We Lie Peter Metcalf, 2003-09-02 They Lie We Lie is an attempt by an experienced fieldworker to engage recent critiques in ethnography that is the writing of culture made both from within anthropology and from such disciplines as cultural studies and post colonial theory This is necessary because there has been a polarization within anthropology between those who react dismissively to what Marshall Sahlins calls afterology and those who find the critiques so crippling as to make it hard to get on with anthropology at all Metcalf bridges this divide by analyzing the contradictions of fieldwork in connection with a particular informant a formidable old lady who tried for twenty years to control what he would and would not learn At each stage the author draws out the general implications of his predicament by making comparisons to the most famous of all fieldwork relationships that between Victor Turner and Muchona The result is an account that is accessible to those unfamiliar with the current critiques of ethnography and helpful to those who are only too familiar to them His discussion shows not how to evade the critiques but how in fact anthropologists have coped with the existential dilemmas of fieldwork

Anthropology in Theory Henrietta L. Moore, Todd Sanders, 2014-01-28 This second edition of the widely praised Anthropology in Theory Issues in Epistemology features a variety of updates revisions and new readings in its comprehensive presentation of issues in the history of anthropological theory and epistemology over the past century Provides a comprehensive selection of 60 readings and an insightful overview of the evolution of anthropological theory Revised and updated to reflect an on going strength and diversity of the discipline in recent years with new readings pointing to innovative directions in the development of anthropological research Identifies crucial concepts that reflect the practice of engaging with theory particular ways of thinking analyzing and reflecting that are unique to anthropology Includes excerpts of seminal anthropological works key classic and contemporary debates in the discipline and cutting edge new theorizing Reveals broader debates in the social sciences including the relationship between society and culture language and cultural meanings structure and agency identities and technologies subjectivities and trans locality and meta theory ontology and epistemology

Gender and Genre in Ethnographic Writing Elisabeth Tauber, Dorothy L. Zinn, 2021-06-07 This book provides new insights into an intense and long standing debate on women gender and masculinity with an explicit focus on ethnographic writing The six contributors to this book investigate and discuss the multiple connections between ethnographic writing and gender in both the history of anthropology and contemporary anthropology underlining problems potentialities stereotypes experiments continuities changes and challenges Building on a prologue by two Malinowski grandchildren and an exploration of the role that Bronislaw Malinowski's first wife Elsie Masson played in his literary presentation the anthropologists collected here problematize writing gender and gendered writing in ethnography revealing how these twin themes touch the history of the discipline itself and the classics of anthropology Has the legacy of Writing Culture and Women Writing Culture obviated the need to consider gender in writing Or could it be that the very mechanics of ethnographic writing are still imbued with hidden gendered divisions of labor Following the editors extensive overview of the question the contributing authors tackle gender and ethnographic writing from various vantages with a view to the past but also to the influence of previous feminist critiques in the present and with accounts of the issues they themselves have faced and the solutions they have devised
