

The Spirit of Laws*, 1748 by Baron de Montesquieu

➔ Directions: Read through the biographical information about each of the Enlightenment Thinkers and excerpts from their writing, then complete the tasks accompanying the information.

"Political liberty is to be found only in moderate governments; and even in these it is not always found. It is there only when there is no abuse of power; but constant experience shows us that every man invested with power is apt to abuse it, and to carry his authority as far as it will go. To prevent this abuse, it is necessary, from the very nature of things, that power should be a check to power...In order to have this liberty, it is requisite [required] the government be so constituted [created] as one man need not be afraid of another. When the legislative and executive powers are united in the same person, or in the same body of magistrates [government employees], there can be no liberty. . . . Again, there is no liberty if the judiciary power be not separated from the legislative and executive..."
