Splendors Of Chinas Forbidden City The Glorious Reign Of Emperor Qianlong:

Splendors of China's Forbidden City Chuimei Ho, Bennet Bronson, Field Museum of Natural History, 2004 Offering an unprecedented insight into one of the most glittering courts in history this sumptuous book brings together some China's priceless national treasures housed in Beijing's royal palace complex the Forbidden City and collected by Emperor Qianlong during his sixty year reign from 1736 to 1795

Emperor Qianlong's Hidden Treasures Nicole T. C. Chiang, 2019-08-15 In this stunning reassessment Nicole T C Chiang argues that the famous Qianlong art collection is really the collection of the imperial household in the Qianlong reign The distinction is significant because it strips away the modern Eurocentric preconceptions that have led scholars to misconstrue the size of the collection the role of nationalism in its formation the distinction between art and artifact and the actual involvement of the emperor in assembling the collection No one interested in Chinese art will be able to ignore the ramifications of this important study

Emperor Qianlong's Hidden Treasures Reconsidering the Collection of the Qing Imperial Household argues that the size of the collection was actually smaller than previously stated Moreover the idea that the collection put the whole of the empire on display and thereby promoted political unity does not square with the reality that most of the collection was hidden away Instead the collection was primarily for the emperor's gaze alone Chiang further explains that the collection was largely the product of work done by many specialists working at the Qianlong court noting that the emperor often assumed a more supervisory role Preliminary drawings patterns models and prototypes of the items made in the imperial workshops also formed an important part of the collection as they served to establish standardized models used to run the imperial household The collection was thus both broader and narrower than previously stated Chiang has identified many misguided assumptions about the Qing imperial collection In their place she proposes a new definition of an imperial collection that does not give primacy to art objects This bold revisionist thesis may be controversial but it is important and deserves to be read widely for this exact reason

Dorothy Ko Barnard College Columbia University Chiang makes a new argument which will contribute to the literature on Qing imperial art She shows that a distinction should be made between the Qianlong emperor's activities in commissioning objects from the palace workshop and his activities in accumulating assessing and cataloguing objects that went into what she calls the imperial household collection This work will attract wide attention from scholars in art history

"Glass Exchange between Europe and China, 1550-1800" Emily Byrne Curtis, 2017-07-05 In this study Emily Byrne Curtis explores as her subject lenses spectacles aventurine glass and windows found in China from the sixteenth century She traces their technological development back to the glassworks in Murano Venice and explores their significance in terms of Venice's commerce with China Because glassware also figured among the gifts which three papal legates from the Vatican presented to the Kangxi and Yongzheng emperors the author examines many documents from the archives in Rome and the Vatican the study therefore touches to an extent on the history of the Catholic Church in China Curtis also discusses in the volume some contemporary Chinese references and verses to European glassware and in the case of enamel materials she discloses the pronounced effect their use had upon the decor of Chinese porcelains

Chinese-Islamic Works of Art, 1644-1912 Emily Byrne Curtis, 2019-11-27 Chinese Islamic studies have concentrated thus far on the arts of earlier periods with less attention paid to works from the Qing Dynasty 1644-1912 This book focuses on works of Chinese Islamic art from the late seventeenth century to the present day and bring to the reader's attention several new areas for consideration The book examines glass wares which were probably made for a local Chinese Muslim clientele illustrating a fascinating mixture of traditional Chinese and Muslim craft traditions While the inscriptions on them can be related directly to the mosque lamps of the Arab world their form and style of decoration is characteristically that of Han Chinese Several contemporary Chinese Muslim artists have succeeded in developing a unique fusion of calligraphic styles from both cultures Other works examined include enamels porcelains and interior painted snuff bottles with emphasis on either those with Arabic inscriptions or on works by Chinese Muslim artists The book includes a chapter written by Dr Shelly Xue and an addendum written by Dr Riccardo Joppert This book will appeal to scholars working in art history religious studies Chinese studies Chinese history religious history and material culture
