professional teams to today's tendency to market women athletes especially Olympians as both athletic and sexual. When women actively participate in the symbols, practices and institutions of sport, what they do is often not considered real sport, nor in some cases are they viewed as real women. What follows from this notion of sport as a site of cultural struggle is that the history of women in sport is also a history of cultural resistance.

She takes on the financial responsibility of her family. Doing whatever's necessary to provide food and shelter, she uses her skills to enter a sharpshooting contest. The ruggedly handsome Henry Courtland rides into her world and orchestrates an unforgettable weekend filled with laughter and fiery passion. Will the romance stay strong or will Emma's secret create an insurmountable precipice?

Henry King Courtland, a conservative wealthy businessman, wants to hold onto his money despite an outlaw gang robbing his payroll. When the proper Miss sitting across from him in the stagecoach asks to use his gun to fight bandits, he's captivated. His attraction for the refined privileged Emma Cody is an anomaly, and he wants to invest. Unexpected feelings lead the two passionate people to rope in a relationship.
