David Price, Alhanoof AlDebasi, 2017-09-13 This work examines the endeavours of the Arabian Peninsula States namely the Gulf Cooperation Council member States of Bahrain Kuwait Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia and the UAE as well as Jordan and Yemen as prospective GCC members in establishing national intellectual property protection regimes which both meet their international treaty obligations and are also congruent with their domestic policy objectives It uses the WTO's TRIPS Agreement of 1995 as the universal benchmark against which the region's laws are assessed The challenges faced by the States in enforcing their intellectual property laws receive particular attention Protecting Intellectual Property in the Arabian Peninsula considers the changing nature of the States intellectual property laws since 1995 It argues that the decade immediately following the TRIPS Agreement was marked by a period of foreign forces shaping or influencing the character of the States intellectual property legislative regimes primarily through multilateral or bilateral trade based agreements The second and current decade however see a significant shift away from foreign influences and a move towards domestic and regional imperatives and initiatives taking over The work also examines regional initiatives for the protection of traditional knowledge and cultural heritage as areas of intellectual property which fall outside the parameters of the TRIPS Agreement but which are of significant concern to the States and other developing countries and to which they are giving increasing attention in terms of providing proper protection
