Banks, 2011-03-16 Scholar Adam J Banks offers a mixtape of African American digital rhetoric in his innovative study Digital Griots African American Rhetoric in a Multimedia Age Presenting the DJ as a quintessential example of the digital griot high tech storyteller this book shows how African American storytelling traditions and their digital manifestations can help scholars and teachers shape composition studies thoroughly linking oral print and digital production in ways that centralize African American discursive practices as part of a multicultural set of ideas and pedagogical commitments DJs are models of rhetorical excellence canon makers time binders who link past present and future in the groove and mix and intellectuals continuously interpreting the history and current realities of their communities in real time Banks uses the DJ s practices of the mix remix and mixtape as tropes for reimagining writing instruction and the study of rhetoric He combines many of the debates and tensions that mark black rhetorical traditions and points to ways for scholars and students to embrace those tensions rather than minimize them This commitment to both honoring traditions and embracing futuristic visions makes this text unique as do the sites of study included in the examination mixtape culture black theology as an activist movement everyday narratives and discussions of community engagement Banks makes explicit these connections rarely found in African American rhetoric scholarship to illustrate how competing ideologies vernacular and academic writing sacred and secular texts and oral print and digital literacies all must be brought together in the study of African American rhetoric and in the teaching of culturally relevant writing A remarkable addition to the study of African American rhetorical theory and composition studies Digital Griots African American Rhetoric in a Multimedia Age will compel scholars and students alike to think about what they know of African American rhetoric in fresh and useful ways How Like a Leaf Donna Haraway, Thyrza Goodeve, 2013-10-11 The author of four seminal works on science and culture Donna Haraway here speaks for the first time in a direct and non academic voice How Like a Leaf will be a welcome inside view of the author s thought Suffering in the Face of Death Bryan R. Dyer, 2017-04-20 Suffering and death are two topics that are frequently referred to in the Epistle to the Hebrews but have rarely been examined within scholarship on this important New Testament text Dyer redresses the balance in this study of these topics conducting a thorough investigation using semantic domain analysis He incorporates recent advancements in modern linguistics in particular the context of situation and then connects these topics to the social situation addressed in Hebrews In so doing he is able to reveal how the author is responding to the reality of suffering in the lives of his audience With this awareness it becomes clear how the author also responds to his audience's pain by creating models of endurance in suffering and death These serve to motivate his audience toward similar endurance within their own social context Dyer shows that it is possible to make significant determinations about the social setting of Hebrews based upon an examination and analysis of the language used therein Clothing the Body of Christ at Colossae Rosemary Canavan, 2012 What we think of our bodies and what we wear says something about who we are and how we belong This was the same in the ancient world Rosemary Canavan explores the imagery of clothing and body in the first century CE Christian writing An examination of statuary funerary monuments and coins in this geographical location contemporaneous with the letter's writing reveals how clothing and body images were understood This is then placed in dialogue with the metaphorical use of clothing and body in other texts especially the Letter to the Colossians Social identity and rhetorical studies draw on archaeological epigraphical iconographical and literary sources to formulate a new approach to biblical interpretation aptly named visual exegesis Matthew's Parable of the Royal Wedding Feast Ruth Christa Mathieson, 2023-06-02 Ruth Christa Mathieson's unique reading of Matthew's parable of the royal wedding feast Matt 22 1-14 which concludes with the king's demand that one of the guests be bound and cast out into the outer darkness focuses on the means of the underdressed guest's expulsion Using sociorhetorical interpretation Mathieson draws the parable into conversation with early Jewish narratives of the angel Raphael binding hands and feet 1 Enoch Tobit and the protocol for expelling individuals from the community in Matt 18 She asserts that readers are invited to consider if the person who is bound and cast out is a danger to the little ones of the community of faith unless removed and restrained C. Wright Mills and the Criminological Imagination Jon Frauley, 2016-03-03 In spite of its widespread use within criminology the term criminological imagination as derived from C Wright Mills classic The Sociological Imagination has yet to be fully developed and clarified as an analytic concept capable of guiding theorizing or empirical enquiry This volume with a preface by Elliot Currie engages with and reflects on this concept exploring C Wright Mills work for criminological enquiry Bringing together the latest work of leading scholars in the fields of criminology and sociology from around the world C Wright Mills and the Criminological Imagination investigates the emergence and lineage of a criminological concept indebted to Mills thought adapting and applying it to a specifically criminological context With attention to theoretical concerns and as well as the application of the criminological imagination in concrete empirical research this volume sheds new light on the methodological and analytical aspects of the criminological imagination as a multifaceted concept and explores the possibilities that it offers for the emergence of an imaginative criminological practice As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in sociology and social theory criminology criminal justice studies law and research methods Introduction to Afrofuturism DuEwa M.

Future Texts
Vicki Callahan, Virginia Kuhn, 2015-10-25 Future Texts Subversive Performance and Feminist Bodies sketches several possibilities for future texts those that imagine new pathways through the forms used to express contemporary questions of race gender and identity Future Texts Subversive Performance and Feminist Bodies area of investigation is situated within popular culture not as a place of critique or celebration but rather as a contested site that crosses an array of media forms from music video to games to global journalism While there is an established tradition in feminist writing founded on experimental expression that disrupts patriarchal culture it has too often failed to consider issues of race and class This is evident in the dilemma faced by black feminists who alienated from dominant feminism s failure to consider their experience have been forced to choose whether they were black or women first To push back against such identity splintering Future Texts Subversive Performance and Feminist Bodies begins with the politics and aesthetics of Afrofuturism which sets the stage for the dialogue around contemporary feminism that runs through the collection With a paradigm of remix as linguistic play and reconfiguration the chapters confront the question of narrative codes and conventions These new formats are crucial to rewriting the relationship between hegemonic and resistant texts
