The Origins Of Violence Approaches To The Study Of Conflict:

The Origins of Violence Anatol Rapoport, 1989 The Origins of Violence Anatol Rapoport, 1994-12-31 In this fundamental analysis Rapoport asks Why do we have wars Doesn't humanity always seem on the verge of self annihilation Is there something in human genetic structure that makes people want to kill each other Perhaps this impulse is a matter of good versus evil or just plain human nature Rapoport moves beyond clichés by claiming that the sources of modern violence reside in the imbalance between a lag in the system of values inherited from the past and the structure of science and technology that awaits no revision of values to move ahead As a result Rapoport argues that the study of war and peace should be considered a science just like biology or for that matter political science The same rules of empirical engagement and experimentation should apply Before we can have a theory of peace we need a methodology of conflict Using the writings of thinkers who have made significant contributions to the predominant ideas and ideals of our society Rapoport weaves together the strands of independent thought and research into a single thought provoking work After investigating the whys of violence using ideological psychological strategic and systemic perspective Rapoport moves to an in depth analysis of possible varieties of conflict resolution He explores such mechanisms as mediation education and applying the results of scientific research He documents the impact of ideologies countervailing dominant ones that place obstacles in the way of peacemaking Rapoport argues that conciliation and game theories can be utilized to replace the concept of winner take all or total victory The Origins of Violence is a needed contribution to our understanding of warfare and provides a forward looking perspective that can be of wide use to each of the policy sciences starting with military strategy and ending with international development The Universitas Project Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 2006 This volume publishes in their entirety the various components of a conference hosted by MoMA in 1972 The Universitas Project The distinguished participants drawn from a wide range of scholarly and artistic disciplines engaged in a multidisciplinary debate on the future of design and design institutions in the postindustrial era Addressing issues and ideas still relevant today this book makes a particularly fertile chapter in the intellectual history of the Museum available for the first time to scholars the architecture and design community and the general public Computational Conflict Research Emanuel Deutschmann, Jan Lorenz, Luis G. Nardin, Davide Natalini, Adalbert F. X. Wilhelm, 2019-11-09 This open access book brings together a set of original studies that use cutting edge computational methods to investigate conflict at various geographic scales and degrees of intensity and violence Methodologically this book covers a variety of computational approaches from text mining and machine learning to agent based modelling and social network analysis Empirical cases range from migration policy framing in North America and street protests in Iran to violence against civilians in Congo and food riots world wide Supplementary materials in the book include a comprehensive list of the datasets on conflict and dissent as well as resources to online repositories where the annotated code and data of individual chapters can be found and where agent based models can be re produced and altered These materials are a valuable resource for those wishing to retrace and learn from the analyses described in this volume and adapt and apply them to their own research interests By bringing together novel research through an international team of scholars from a range of disciplines Computational Conflict Research pioneers and maps this emerging field The book will appeal to students scholars and anyone interested in the prospects of using computational social sciences to advance our understanding of conflict dynamics

Understanding the Military Design Movement Ben Zweibelson, 2023-06-09 This book explains the history and development of the military design movement featuring case studies from key modern militaries Written by a practitioner the work shows how modern militaries think and arrange actions in time and space for security affairs and why designers are disrupting challenging and reconceptualizing everything previously upheld as sacred on the battlefield It is the first book to thoroughly explain what military design is where it came from and how it works at deep philosophically grounded levels and why it is potentially the most controversial development in generations of war fighters The work explains the tangled origins of commercial design and that of designing modern warfare the rise of various design movements and how today's military forces largely hold to a Newtonian stylization built upon mimicry of natural science infused with earlier medieval and religious inspirations Why does our species conceptualize war as such and how do military institutions erect barriers that become so powerful that efforts to design further innovation require entirely novel constructs outside the orthodoxy The book explains design stories from the Israel Defense Force the US Army the US Marine Corps the Canadian Armed Forces and the Australian Defence Force for the first time and includes the theory doctrine organizational culture and key actors involved Ultimately this book is about how small communities of practice are challenging the foundations of modern defence thinking This book will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies defence studies and security studies as well as design educators and military professionals

The Science of Synthesis Debora Hammond, 2011-05-18 Debora Hammond's The Science of Synthesis explores the development of general systems theory and the individuals who gathered together around that idea to form the Society for General Systems Research In examining the life and work of the SGSR's five founding members Ludwig von Bertalanffy Kenneth Boulding Ralph Gerard James Grier Miller and Anatol Rapoport Hammond traces the emergence of systems ideas across a broad range of disciplines in the mid twentieth century Both metaphor and framework the systems concept as articulated by its earliest proponents highlights relationship and interconnectedness among the biological ecological social psychological and technological dimensions of our increasingly complex lives Seeking to transcend the reductionism and mechanism of classical science which they saw as limited by its focus on the discrete component parts of reality the general systems community hoped to complement this analytic approach with a more holistic orientation As one of many systems traditions the general systems group was specifically interested in fostering collaboration and integration among different disciplinary perspectives with an emphasis on nurturing more participatory and truly democratic forms of social organization The Science of Synthesis documents a unique episode in the history of modern thought one that remains relevant today This book will be of interest to historians of science system thinkers scholars and practitioners in the social sciences management organization development and related fields as well as the general reader interested in the history of ideas that have shaped critical developments in the second half of the twentieth century Peace, Literature, and Art - Volume II Ada

Aharoni,2009-08-30 Peace Literature and Art is the component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Culture is the essence of individual and national identity What children and people read and watch and the kind of Culture Literature and Media they are exposed to through home education and society provide them with basic values attitudes and norms which affect and motivate them throughout their lives It is of crucial importance therefore that those stories we are exposed to at the socio cultural and educational levels which we watch on television in films and on the Internet and which we read should be peaceful ones which open our eyes to a humane world that can prosper from peace and harmony This Theme on Peace Literature and Art deals in two volumes and cover several topics related to Peace Education Definition Approaches and Future Directions Importance of a Literature and a Culture of Peace These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs Neuropsychology of Criminal Behavior Feggy Ostrosky,Alfredo

Ardila,2017-10-04 This book draws on findings from psychology neurology and genetics to offer a multi dimensional analysis of criminal behavior It explores the biological bases of emotions such as aggression anger and hostility and how they combined with social psychological influences such as family history and environmental conditions may lead to violence Specific case studies including serial killings mass murders family violence cannibalism and hitmen are referenced throughout providing real world examples of these theories in action Issues of free will and the law are discussed as well as suggestions for curbing violent behavior Counterterror Offensives for the Ghost War World Richard J. Chasdi,2010-07-06

In Counterterror Offensives for the Ghost War World The Rudiments of Counterterrorism Policy Richard J Chasdi has written a groundbreaking quantitative analysis that provides new insight into which types of counterterror practices work best and which types perform poorly in particular operational environments and circumstances For Chasdi effectiveness is defined as the capacity of counterterror practices to work with stealth namely without eliciting high amounts of related follow up terrorist assaults He moves beyond individual country analyses to tackle an analysis of counterterror practice effectiveness based on the type of political system of the country carrying out counterterror offensives and the power level of that country within the international political system Chasdi furthermore provides essential qualitative descriptions of national security institutions stakeholders and processes to frame his quantitative results in ways that tie those findings to historical and contemporary political developments China between Peace and War Victor Cheng,2023-11-30 In China between Peace and War Victor S C Cheng explores the gripping history of peace talks and international negotiations from 1945 to 1947 that helped determine the shape of the Chinese Civil War The book focuses on the efforts of the two belligerent parties the Chinese Nationalists or Guomindang and the Communists to achieve an enduring peace It presents previously unexplored major elements of the peace talks ambiguous treaties package deals and short term solutions It identifies the burning challenges that confronted attempts at peacemaking including the two warring parties high risk decision making styles and the temptation to veto agreements and resume fighting Cheng argues against popular notions that differences between the two belligerents in the Chinese Civil War were irreconcilable that the failure of the peace talks was predetermined and that the US government mediators needed to remain neutral Because the actions around the negotiating table occurred in a developing theatre of war Cheng also explores the military decision making of the opposing sides as well as the conflicts that ultimately plunged China into the world s largest military engagement of the seven plus decades since World War II China between Peace and War highlights the contradictory role of political leaders who micromanaged the military including their struggle to connect political objectives and military power their rhetorical use of the decisive war concept and their pursuit of radical military political goals at the expense of a negotiated peace
