The Old and New World Romanticism of Washington Irving Stanley Brodwin,1986-10-16 The Old and New World Romanticism of Washington Irving Stanley Brodwin,1986-10-16 Washington Irving's Critique of American Culture J. Woodrow McCree,2021-06-24 Washington Irving's Critique of American Culture Sketching a Vision of World Citizenship challenges long standing views of Washington Irving He has been portrayed as writing in the 18th century style of Addison and Goldsmith without having much substance of his own Irving has also been accused of being insufficiently American and adrift in an identity crisis The author argues that Irving addressed the American cultural context very extensively he was a writer of substance who articulated an ethic of world citizenship that was found in the philosophy of ancient Greek cynics and stoics This ethic was united with a love of picturesque travel which emphasized variety and texture in experience resulting in an extraordinary affirmation of the value of cultural diversity in the new Republic Irving was in fact a liminal figure straddling Romantic and neoclassical modes of writing and acting The author draws attention to Irving's success as a writer in the pictorial mode Irving also expressed a critique of cultural loss and environmental destruction like that articulated by the artist Thomas Cole The work embraces an interdisciplinary approach where insights from philosophy religion art history and social history shed light on an underestimated writer West of Emerson Kris

Fresonke,2003-01-06 Where did American literature start The familiar story of Emerson and Thoreau has them setting up shop in Concord Massachusetts and determining the course of American writing West of Emerson overhauls this story of origins as it shifts the context for these literary giants from the civilized East to the wide open spaces of the Louisiana Purchase Kris Fresonke tracks down the texts by explorers of the far West that informed Nature Emerson's most famous essay and proceeds to uncover the parodic Western politics at play in classic New England works of Romanticism Westerns this book shows helped create Easterns West of Emerson roughs up genteel literary history Fresonke argues for a fresh mix of American literature one based on the far reaches of American territory and American literary endeavor Reading into the record the unexplored writings of Lewis and Clark Zebulon Pike Stephen Long and William Emory Fresonke forges surprising connections between the American West and the American visions emanating from the neighborhood of Walden Pond These connections open a new view of the politics and by way of the notion of design the theological lineage of manifest destiny Finally Fresonke's book shows how the cast of the American canon no less than the direction of American politics came to depend on what design one placed on the continent Writers of the American Renaissance Denise Knight,2003-12-30

The American literary canon has undergone revision and expansion in recent years and our notions of the 19th century renaissance have been reevaluated Mainstream anthologies have been revised to reflect the expanding literary canon yet resources for readers have remained widely scattered This book expands earlier definitions of the 19th century American Renaissance as represented by canonical writers such as Emerson and Poe covering writers who published popular fiction and dominated the literary marketplace of the day Included is generous coverage of women writers and writers of color The volume provides alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 writers of the period including Louisa May Alcott Emily Dickinson Frederick Douglass Margaret Fuller Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Harriet Beecher Stowe Henry David Thoreau Walt Whitman and many more Each entry was written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies

Reading Houses and Building Books Adam W. Sweeting, 1996 Portrays an author architect and landscape architect who greatly influenced antebellum American culture Eclipse of Empires Patricia Jane Roylance, 2013-10 This book analyzes the nineteenth century American fascination with what the author calls narratives of imperial eclipse texts that depict the surpassing of one great civilization by another The central claim in this book is that historical episodes of imperial eclipse for example Incan Peru yielding to Spain or the Ojibway to the French heightened the concerns of many American writers about specific intranational social problems plaguing the nation at the time race class gender religion and economics

American Gothic Art and Architecture in the Age of Romantic Literature Kerry Dean Carso, 2014-11-15 American Gothic Art and Architecture in the Age of Romantic Literature analyses the influence of British Gothic novels and historical romances on American art and architecture in the Romantic era Making America / Making American Literature, 2021-11-01 If 1776 heralds America's Birth of the Nation so too it witnesses the rise of a matching and overlapping American Literature For between the 1770s and the 1820s American writing moves on from the ancestral Puritanism of New England and Virginia though not as yet into the American Renaissance so strikingly called for by Ralph Waldo Emerson Even so the concourse of voices which arise in this period that is between and including Benjamin Franklin and James Fenimore Cooper mark both a key transitional literary generation and yet one all too easily passed over in its own imaginative right This collection of fifteen specially commissioned essays seeks to establish new bearings a revision of one of the key political and literary eras in American culture Not only are Franklin and Cooper themselves carefully re-evaluated in the making of America's new literary republic but figures like Charles Brockden Brown Washington Irving Philip Freneau William Cullen Bryant the other Alexander Hamilton and the playwrights Royall Tyler and William Dunlop Other essays take a more inclusive perspective whether American epistolary fiction a first generation of American women authored fiction the public discourse of The Federalist Papers the rise of the American periodical or the founding African American generation of Phillis Wheatley What unites all the essays is the common assumption that the making of America was as much a matter of creating its national literature as the making of American literature was a matter of shaping a national identity A study guide for American Literature to 1900 M^a Teresa Gibert Maceda, 2009-01-27 Esta guía está pensada para utilizarse conjuntamente con el libro American literature to 1900 de la misma autora y editado por la misma editorial Ofrece los siguientes recursos adicionales como un extenso material complementario que ayuda y guía al alumno a lo largo de las 24 unidades una colección
