Theoretical foundations of development planning Shri Bhagwan Dahiya, 1991 Trading the Fruits of the Land

Tjalling Dijkstra, 2018-12-20 First published in 1997 this volume contributes to the knowledge for the trade of vegetables fruits and tubers so called horticultural commodities As African policy makers try to keep pace with new developments in private food trade they require knowledge of the structures of private trade systems and the factors that govern their long term development The study analyses the structure and development of horticultural marketing channels in Kenya It is based primarily on surveys of some 500 farmers in four districts and 750 horticultural traders in 18 market places Commercial horticultural farmers domestic traders export traders agents facilitators marketing cooperatives and processors are all reviewed The study devotes special attention to the efficiency of collecting wholesalers and to the development of rural assembly markets It develops a model which can elucidate vertical differentiation processes in the Kenyan horticultural channels The analyses show that marketing channel theory can be of great relevance to the developing world The proposed vertical differentiation model can aid in predicting future changes in horticultural marketing systems in Kenya as well as in other African countries

The Philippines James K. Boyce, 1993-07-01 This book analyzes the Philippine economy from the 1960s to the 1980s During this period the benefits of economic growth conspicuously failed to trickle down Despite rising per capita income broad sectors of the Filipino population experienced deepening poverty Professor Boyce traces this outcome to the country's economic and political structure and focuses on three elements of the government's development strategy the green revolution in rice agriculture the primacy accorded to export agriculture and forestry and massive external borrowing James Boyce is the author of Agrarian Impasse in Bengal and co author of A Quiet Violence View from a Bangladesh Village

Ethical Trade, Gender and Sustainable Livelihoods Kiah Smith, 2014-03-21 Fair and ethical trade is often criticized for being highly gendered and for institutionalizing the ethical values of consumers the priorities of NGOs and governments and most of all food retailers But little is known about how women smallholder farmers experience diverse ethical standards or whether and how standards reflect their values local cultural and environmental contexts or priorities for achieving sustainable livelihoods Linking gender smallholder livelihoods and global ethical trade regulations this book reveals that multiple understandings of social justice environmental sustainability and well being or ethicality exist in parallel to those institutionalized in ethical trade schemes Through an in depth case study of smallholder subsistence and French bean farming in Kenya the book grounds the analysis of livelihoods gender and ethical trade in women smallholders perspectives links the macro level of markets with the micro level of livelihoods and engenders relations of power structure and agency in food networks It brings together disparate bodies of theory to illustrate the knowledge strategies and values of women smallholder farmers that are often beyond the scope of ethical trade regulations It also provides a challenging new vision for
