The Articulate Classroom Prue Goodwin, 2017-02-21 This is a classic edition of Prue Goodwin's acclaimed collection of articles by leading educationalists on the place of talk in the primary curriculum which now includes a preface from Lyn Dawes. A talking classroom is both a crucial part of every subject area and a subject in its own right. For all primary teachers committed to deepening their understanding of the pivotal role talk plays in learning, this book focuses attention on the importance of fully enabling pupils' learning potential. Articles grouped according to a flexible framework explore the importance of talk in learning, discursive and interactive classrooms, talking and learning in the early years, talk across the curriculum, the importance of storytelling and drama. The new introduction reflects on key research developments since the book was first published. The Articulate Classroom is an engaging introduction to the field which is still very relevant to today's readers. It will remain an indispensable guide for teachers looking to extend their skills and a unique chance for education researchers to gain an overview from experts in the field.

Treating Traumatic Stress in Children and Adolescents Margaret E. Blaustein, Kristine M. Kinniburgh, 2010-03-18 This book has been replaced by Treating Traumatic Stress in Children and Adolescents Second Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 3704 4

Time to Talk Jean Gross, 2013-05-21 Time to Talk provides a powerful and accessible resource for practitioners to help develop their own skills as well as supporting a whole school or setting approach to speaking and listening. Written by the government's former Communication Champion for children, it showcases and celebrates effective approaches in schools and settings across the country. Jean Gross helpfully summarises research on what helps children and young people develop good language and communication skills and highlights the importance of key factors: a place to talk, a reason to talk and support for talk. This practical and engaging book also provides whole class approaches to developing all children and young people's speaking and listening skills, catch-up strategies for those with limited language, ways in which settings and schools can develop an effective partnership with specialists such as speech and language therapists to help children with more severe needs, examples of good practice in supporting parents/carers to develop their children's language skills, answers to practitioners' most frequently asked questions about speech and language. This book is for all school leaders, teachers and Early Years practitioners concerned about the growing number of children and young people with limited language and communication skills.

Dialogic: Education for the Internet Age Rupert Wegerif, 2013-01-04 Dialogic Education for the Internet Age argues that despite rapid advances in communications technology, most teaching still relies on traditional approaches to education built upon the logic of print and dependent on the notion that there is a single true representation of reality. In practice, the use of the Internet disrupts this traditional logic of education by offering an experience of knowledge as participatory and multiple. This new logic of education is dialogic and characterises education as learning to learn, think and thrive in the context of working with multiple perspectives and ultimate uncertainty The book builds upon the simple contrast between observing dialogue from an outside point of view and participating in a dialogue from the inside before pinpointing an essential feature of dialogic the gap or difference between voices in dialogue which is understood as an irreducible source of meaning Each chapter of the book applies this dialogic thinking to a specific challenge facing education re thinking the challenge and revealing a new theory of education Areas covered in the book include dialogical learning and cognition dialogical learning and emotional intelligence educational technology dialogic spaces and consciousness global dialogue and global citizenship dialogic theories of science and maths education The challenge identified in Wegerif s text is the growing need to develop a new understanding of education that holds the potential to transform educational policy and pedagogy in order to meet the realities of the digital age Dialogic Education for the Internet Age draws upon the latest research in dialogic theory creativity and technology and is essential reading for advanced students and researchers in educational psychology technology and policy Subject
