Maritime Capital Eric W. Sager, Gerald E. Panting, 1996 In this final volume of the Atlantic Canada Shipping Project Sager and Panting argue that the decline of the shipping industry was not as has commonly been assumed the inevitable result of the conversion from wood and sail to iron and steam They show that the merchant class in failing to maintain a merchant marine built and owned in their region contributed in no small way to the Maritimes present state of underdevelopment Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Seafaring Labour Eric W. Sager, 1996 Sager argues that sailors were not misfits or outcasts but were divorced from society only by virtue of their occupation The wooden ships were small communities at sea fragments of normal society where workers lived struggled and often died With the coming of the age of steam the sailor became part of a new division of labour and a new social hierarchy at sea Sager shows that the sailor was as integral to the transition to industrial capitalism as any land worker

A Game of Chance Andrea Kirkpatrick, 2023 It's almost impossible to imagine spending eight months at sea without once putting foot on land But that's exactly what whalers experienced when playing the dangerous game of chance hunting down leviathans for oil and bone all for a lay or share of the vessel's spoils A Game of Chance is the first comprehensive in depth study of British North American South Seas whaling Author Andrea Kirkpatrick takes readers on a series of fascinating and sometimes fantastical journeys as she chronicles in great detail the story of a largely forgotten industry that operated out of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick ports from the 1760s to 1850 Kirkpatrick plumbed the depths of myriad logbooks and journals to piece together the often murky tales of an astonishing number of ships In this treatise covering a century of whaling she shares details such as ownership tonnage voyages captains pedigrees and names of crewmen including nascent whaler Herman Melville author of Moby Dick Hoping for greasy luck the men who manned these ships found both camaraderie and competition as they hunted the world's whaling grounds from Cape Horn to Kamchatka many circumnavigating the globe during their careers They battled squalls and high seas scurvy and venereal disease heartbreak and homesickness and sometimes each other Many never returned home their bodies committed to the deep or buried on foreign land Written in two parts landward and seaward Kirkpatrick's clear prose and adoption of whaling lingua franca brings this high risk venture to the fore with authenticity newly revealed facts and remarkable stories of adventure Poetic Values John G. Neihardt, 1925 The Divine Enchantment John Gneisenau Neihardt, 1989-01-01 The creative energy that would in time produce A Cycle of the West and Black Elk Speaks is apparent in his first book The Divine Enchantment published in 1990 when he was nineteen years old It can be viewed as an early version of the philosophy of spiritual awareness that Neihardt articulated twenty five years later in Poetic Values They are reprinted together for the first time in this Landmark Edition A narrative poem bursting with youthful enthusiasm The Divine Enchantment reveals Neihardt not as an ordinary poet but as a visionary bard Inspired by his reading of Eastern philosophy it is a Hindu myth with Christian parallels The virgin heroine Devanaguy fulfills prophecy in bearing Krishna the incarnation of Vishnu in spite of imprisonment by a jealous and fearful king Neihardt's vision of the union of spirit and matter of reason and higher consciousness introduces themes he was to expand on in his later writings Poetic Values a series of lectures published in 1925 speaks of the common need for self enlightenment Drawing on sources ranging from the Upanishads to psychology textbooks Neihardt argues that poetry can provide a balanced philosophy to live by in bridging the gap between Western materialism and Eastern otherworldliness Poetry links the objective with the subjective the real with the imaginary and for the reader of Poetic Values as for the heroine of The Divine Enchantment the highest self enlightenment comes with self forgetfulness Blair Whitney writes that in comparing these two works one can see Neihardt's strong consistent development from a boy who loved words and had big dreams to a mature poet who found ways to realize his ideals and to communicate
