Luther, 2025-09-09 From unstoppable blitzkrieg to brutal defeat follow Guderian's panzers as they race toward Moscow and collide with disaster On June 22 1941 Nazi Germany launched Operation Barbarossa the surprise invasion of the Soviet Union that opened the Eastern Front in World War II With lightning speed and devastating success the German army tore through Soviet territory and rolled over the Red Army scoring some of the most dramatic victories in military history until the blitzkrieg bogged down during the approach on Moscow At the spearhead of the attack was General Heinz Guderian one of the most celebrated and controversial commanders of the war who commanded a tank group in the center of the German front that stretched from the Baltic to the Black Sea Guderian's Panzers reconstructs Barbarossa from the perspective of Generaloberst Guderian and his 2nd Panzer Group With the German war machine at the height of its martial prowess in June 1941 Guderian's group of 250 000 men and 900 tanks rapidly broke through the Soviet frontier defenses and thrust some 600 kilometers into Soviet Russia in a matter of weeks in doing so playing an integral part in the successful encirclement cauldron battles of Belostok Minsk June July 1941 and Smolensk July August 1941 each of these battles resulting in the loss of several Soviet armies and hundreds of thousands of prisoners Despite having sustained alarming losses of personal and equipment in these opening battles Guderian pushed his men and himself to even greater achievements culminating in the triumphant cauldron Battle of Kiev in the Ukraine September 1941 that obliterated Soviet Southwestern Front and resulted in the capture of over 600 000 Red Army POWs It was perhaps Germany's greatest victory in WWII and Guderian had made it happen In October November 1941 the German Ostheer Eastern Army launched a desperate attempt to seize Moscow and once again Heinz Guderian and his tank troops were at the forward edge of battle Yet by the end of November the entire German offensive exhausted stretched thin dangerously reduced in strength and suddenly largely paralyzed by the fall rain and snow had ground to a halt Meanwhile in early December the resurgent Red Army launched a major counteroffensive that in the weeks ahead not only threatened Guderian's forces with annihilation but those German Army Group Center writ large Guderian and the Ostheer as a whole were now trapped in a remorseless war of attrition they could never win Refusing his superiors orders to stand fast in the face of the advancing Soviet juggernaut Guderian continued to jerk back in retreat with the remnants of his forces and thus was relieved of his command on 26 December 1941 Military historian and Eastern Front expert Craig Luther draws on new material from letters to diaries to tell the story of Guderian's armored force during Operation Barbarossa and fleshes out the story with vivid firsthand accounts from the soldiers who slugged it out with the Red Army on the Eastern Front The book traces the ups and downs of Guderian and his panzer group during six pivotal months of World War II and explains why and how the Germans especially its panzers achieved such impressive successes only to be defeated on Moscow's doorstep
