Tara, a Mahratta Tale Meadows Taylor, 1864

Tara: A Mahratta Tale Philip Meadows Taylor, 2020-09-28 The promise of the child was more than fulfilled in the girl now budding into early womanhood and her appearance was so remarkable that while many of her old friends in the bazaar now rarely ventured to accost her and even turned aside their heads reverently as she passed she could not traverse the crowded street which led from her house to the temple or indeed move anywhere during the day without attracting admiration from the crowds of strangers who from all parts of India visited that renowned shrine of which her father was the chief priest and manager Many a pilgrim and worshipper gazed wonderingly upon the calm gentle face which met him at the earliest dawn in its devotional perambulation round the temple or followed with his eye the graceful figure which carrying the daily sacrificial offerings descended the flights of steps by which the shrine was approached and far away in his native village under the snows of Himalaya the burning sands of Ram shwur or the green plains of Bengal told of the beautiful vision and never forgot it Tara has been up since before the false dawn She has assisted her father with water to bathe and in his private worship of the household gods She has bathed herself and is now dressed in the simple saree or robe of all Hindu females It is of dark blue silk striped with a fainter blue and has a broad border of a light but rich pattern harmonizing with the colours of the garment which consisting of one long piece only is wound round her several times to form a skirt then passed about her body and over her head on the left side whence the end which is of rich gold tissue interwoven with crimson flowers and green leaves hangs heavily over her right shoulder and back Below the garment is a closely fitting bodice of striped orange silk only but no portion of it is visible except a little of the sleeve above the elbow Tara is holding the border of her dress close to her cheek as if to conceal it even from her mother and the graceful outline of her arm may be followed from the tips of the taper fingers past the wrist partly covered with purple bangles and a massive gold ring along the soft round arm to the dimpled elbow whence it is lost among the folds of the saree which falls over it Tara Meadows Taylor,1879 Tara And The Friendship Theorem Chitra Soundar,2022-07-25 Tara and her best friend Farida are experts at the traditional Indian game of Pallanguzhi But when Tara s family relocates to the UK Tara has to say goodbye to her best friend Who shall she beat at Pallanguzhi now As Appa and Amma get the new home ready Tara and her brother check in to a weekend retreat Camp Wilderness Wow Do Tara s parents even know who she is She s more what you d call an indoorsy person with her love of coding and maths To distract herself from all the trees and animals and general wildlife shudder she sets out to find a new friend No one can ever replace Farida but Tara s determined to find someone almost as awesome This is the perfect opportunity to test her Friendship Theorem Maths has never let Tara down before surely it can help now But as Tara applies her theorem at Camp Wilderness could she miss a friendship that is blossoming right under her nose Towards a Theory of Montage Sergei Eisenstein,2010-06-30 I B Tauris is delighted to announce the reissue in paperback in three volumes of the definitive most comprehensive edition in the finest translations and fully annotated of the writings of this great filmmaker theorist and teacher of film and one of the most original aesthetic thinkers of the twentieth century The name of Sergei Eisenstein 1898 1948 is synonymous with the idea of montage as exemplified in his silent classics such as The Battleship Potemkin 1925 and October 1927 In the 1930s his style changed partly to accommodate the arrival of sound and his ideas on audio visual counterpoint developed Between 1937 and 1940 he elaborated his ideas on montage in a series of essays most of which remained unpublished until after his death and which are published in English for the first time in this volume They present the essence of Eisenstein s thinking on cinema and
