Zaloga, 2011-07-20 A thorough examination of one of the most controversial operations in World War 2 Operation Pointblank was the code name for the United States Army Air Force s attempt to destroy German fighter capability through the use of daylight strategic bombing in advance of the D Day landings Launched in 1943 the operation immediately met with severe problems most notably the horrible attrition experienced by the US bomber forces. However with the arrival of the P 51 Mustang the United States was able to equip the fighters to fly on long range bomber escort missions and take the fight to the Luftwaffe in the skies over Germany. Complete with maps, illustrations and photographs, this book examines the entire operation from both the Allied and the German perspectives, covering all the main decisions and technological innovations made by both sides in this epic struggle.

Free French Spitfire Hero Dilip Sarkar, Jan Leeming, 2023-02-16

Ren Mouchotte was born on 21 August 1914 at Saint Mande Paris. He joined the Armée de l'Air for his period of military service in 1934, obtaining his flying brevet. Though Mouchotte returned to civilian life, he was called up at the outbreak of war in 1939, becoming a Sergeant Pilot instructor in North Africa. When France capitulated in June 1940, Mouchotte and fellow pilot Charles Guerin decided to make their way to the United Kingdom. Along with four other French pilots, Mouchotte made the short flight to Gibraltar on the morning of 30 June. From there, he traveled on to Britain, being accepted into the RAF soon after their arrival. The Battle of Britain was already several weeks old when Mouchotte was posted to 245 Squadron, then based at Aldergrove, on 11 September 1940. A week later, he transferred to 615 County of Surrey Squadron at Prestwick, flying Hurricanes. It was with 615 Squadron that Mouchotte became a flight commander, shot down a Junkers Ju 88 and earned a Croix de Guerre. He moved to Turnhouse as Deputy A Flight Commander with 340 Free French Squadron. He was promoted to captain in March 1942 and awarded the DFC. On 18 January 1943, Mouchotte returned to Turnhouse to form and command 341 Squadron, which transferred to Biggin Hill. On 15 May 1943, Mouchotte and Squadron Leader E F J Charles shared the sector's 1000th victory. Two days later, Mouchotte destroyed a Me 109. Mouchotte failed to return from a bomber escort to the proposed V2 launch site at Eperlecques near St Omer on 27 August 1943. He was reported missing. Later evidence emerged that his body had been washed up on the beach at Middelkerke, Belgium, on 3 September, and that he was buried in the town's cemetery.

Commandant Ren Gaston Octave Jean Mouchotte DFC CdeG, one of The Few of the Battle of Britain, became one of the most famous Free French pilots of the Second World War, during which he served alongside such notables as the legendary Group Captain Sailor Malan and the Wing Commander Al Deere. It is Commandant Mouchotte's diaries, written between 1940 and 1943, that form the basis of this book. The diaries are introduced and contextualized by the renowned aviation historian Dilip Sarkar, who also forensically examines the story behind Biggin Hill's 1000th kill and the circumstances of Ren's last flight, adding new detail to both events. The TV presenter and newsreader Jan Leeming also reveals her journey into Mouchotte's courageous and inspirational story, one that began with sponsoring a name on the Sir Christopher Foxley Norris Wall of Remembrance at the Battle of Britain Memorial Chapel, Le Ferne, leaving a letter in the Mouchotte Family Tomb in the famous Père Lachaise Cemetery in Paris, a meeting with Ren's 101-year-old Sister Jacqueline, the realization that his Battle of Britain Medals had never been forwarded to his family, an omission which was happily rectified. Jacqueline lived long enough to receive the medals, which after her death were presented to the Mouchotte family by the British Ambassador Sir Lord Peter Ricketts at the Ambassador's Residence in Paris. Finally after many years of research and perseverance Jan had a documentary about her Search for Ren Mouchotte broadcast in 2013 on BBC South East BBC South and BBC North. Later that year she was invited to Gibraltar where the RAF HQ was renamed Mouchotte Buildings.

Na nebi hrdého Albionu Jiří Rajlich, 2003 Overlord's Eagles John J. Sullivan, 2015-09-18 On June 6 1944 the Allies launched Operation Overlord the largest most hazardous amphibious assault in history. The objective establishment of a lodgment area in Normandy from which the Allies could strike at the heart of Germany and destroy the German armed forces. Air supremacy over northwest Europe was an absolute prerequisite for the success of the invasion and to achieve it the U S Army Air Forces launched two campaigns aimed at destroying the Germans transportation advantages in the area. In the months and days leading up to the assault the Army Air Forces ceaselessly bombed rail centers rendering most of the railways in northern France and Belgium unusable. Once the actual invasion was underway the Allies shifted to an interdiction campaign using precise air attacks on critical transportation installations near the battlefield to neutralize Germany's efforts to resupply and reinforce their troops. This work makes use of many wartime records that had remained classified until recently. Flypast ,2005 Airpower Journal ,1997 Air Power History ,1993 The Secret Horsepower Race Calum E. Douglas, 2020-12-02 The piston engines that powered Second World War fighters the men who designed them and the secret intelligence work carried out by both Britain and Germany would determine the outcome of the first global air war. Advanced jet engines may have been in development but every militarily significant air battle was fought by piston engined fighters. Whoever designed the most powerful piston engines would win air superiority and with it the ability to dictate the course of the war as a whole. This is the never before told story of a high tech race hidden behind the closed doors of design offices and intelligence agencies to create the war's best fighter engine. Using the fruits of extensive research in archives around the world together with the previously unpublished memoirs of fighter engine designers author Calum E Douglas tells the story of a desperate contest between the world's best engineers the Secret Horsepower Race.
