Winnebago Nation James B. Twitchell, 2014-04-08 In Winnebago Nation popular critic James B Twitchell takes a light hearted look at the culture and industry behind the yearning to spend the night in one's car For the young the roadtrip is a coming of age ceremony for those later in life it is the realization of a lifelong desire to be spontaneous nomadic and free Informed by his own experiences on the road Twitchell recounts the RV's origins and evolution over the twentieth century its rise fall and rebirth as a cultural icon its growing mechanical complexity as it evolved from an estate wagon to a converted bus to a mobile home and its role in bolstering and challenging conceptions of American identity Mechanical yet dreamy independent yet needful solitary yet clubby adventurous yet homebound life in a mobile home is a distillation of the American character and an important embodiment of American exceptionalism Richie Rich and Hobo Hank spend time in essentially the same rig at the same campground albeit for different reasons and in different levels of comfort The frontier may be tapped out but we still yearn for the exploratory life Twitchell concludes with his thoughts on the future of RV communities and the possibility of mobile cities becoming a real part of the American landscape

Publicover, 2022-01-01 The essays collected within this volume ask how literary practices are shaped by the experience of being at sea and also how they forge that experience Individual chapters explore the literary worlds of naval ships whalers commercial vessels emigrant ships and troop transports from the seventeenth to the twentieth first century revealing a rich history of shipboard reading writing and performing Contributors are interested both in how literary activities adapt to the maritime world and in how individual and collective shipboard experiences are structured through and framed by such activities In this respect the volume builds on scholarship that has explored reading as a spatially situated and embodied practice As our contributors demonstrate the shipboard environment and the ocean beyond it place the mind and body under peculiar forms of pressure and these determine acts of reading and of writing and performing in specific ways Dante the

Emmanuel K. Anizoba,2004 The book is an attempt to describe the origin constitution and destiny of Man Using what the Ancients told us as a starting point a brief genesis of the Universe and Man is given The Universe is shown to be triune comprising a Body a Mind or Soul and a ruling Spirit Man being a miniature Universe is also shown to be triune and composed of a Body a Mind or Soul and an indwelling ruling Spirit The book goes on to show that Man is animal by his body and human by his Mind Soul or Self an organizing intelligence This is what we are partly animal by the Body and partly human by the Mind Soul or Self hence the portrayal of man as Centaur whose human torso is inseparably joined to its equine lower part The fact that Man is partly animal and partly human leads us to the acceptance of our Nature of how and what we are Our Spirit or Father made us the way we are and this is perfect Thus the human Nature needs no amendment With the acceptance of our Nature as we are the Mind realizes that its true mission in the Body is to work closely with the indwelling Spirit with a view to obtaining the latter's maximal growth Optimal growth of the Spirit is the sole objective of evolution and the Mind as husbandman of the Body is expected to contribute positively to the achievement of the growth The Mind as an organizing intelligence acts through the Body and with the help of the Spirit on the outside world This process has become almost automatic and the Mind has been deluded into believing that it can of itself do anything forgetting that it is actually the Spirit that does everything through the Mind and the Body the book goes on to show that the Paradise that Man once enjoyed can only be regained by a re-orientation of the Mind towards the Spirit within The search of the Self the I is for the Spirit within and not for some fictitious Higher Self How can the Self search for itself Who will do the searching No The search is done by the Self and for the Spirit within This search for the Spirit is indeed true religion a return to the source

Sociology in Theology K. Flanagan,2007-09-05 This is an original study of the sociological imagination in regard to visual culture It explores the reflexive dimensions of choice over seeing or not seeing in relation to paintings images and islands Bourdieu Goffman and Simmel provide the basis for insights into how reflexivity in sociology has unexplored theological implications The Future of the People of God Andrew Perriman,2010-07-01 At a time when the Western church is having to come to terms painfully and often reluctantly with its diminished social and intellectual status in the world following the collapse of Christendom we find ourselves as interpreters of Paul increasingly impressed by the need to relocate his writings in their historical context That is not a coincidence The Future of the People of God is an attempt to make sense of Paul s letter to the Romans at the intersection of these two developments It puts forward the argument that we must first have the courage of our historical convictions and read the text before Christendom from the limited shortsighted perspective of an emerging community that dared to defy the gods of the ancient world This act of imaginative critical engagement with the text will challenge many of our assumptions about Paul s gospel of God but it will also put us in a position to reconstruct an identity and purpose for the people of God after Christendom that is both biblically and historically coherent

ENDARKENMENT Shrinath Mithanthaya, 2021-11-20 Traditional religious spiritual philosophies have not achieved their acclaimed purpose of widespread individual self realization and through the same world peace and prosperity This has led to several people getting disillusioned with the prevailing philosophies Hence the need for an alternative model for spiritual uplift of people The emphasis of the book is two fold 1 Personal spiritual development This will be achieved through the contrarian model of Endarkenment as an alternative to the more popular Enlightenment 2 Global peace prosperity Widespread understanding of oneness of humanity will lead to significant global savings on arms spend These savings will then be deployed for economic and social uplift of people
