Talking Pictures Riemke Ensing, 2000 Contains a collection of what some consider are the finest poems from the pen of this distinguished New Zealand poet Navajo Talking Picture Randolph Lewis, 2012-07-01 Navajo Talking Picture released in 1985 is one of the earliest and most controversial works of Native cinema It is a documentary by Los Angeles filmmaker Arlene Bowman who travels to the Navajo reservation to record the traditional ways of her grandmother in order to understand her own cultural heritage For reasons that have often confused viewers the filmmaker persists despite her traditional grandmother's forceful objections to the apparent invasion of her privacy What emerges is a strange and thought provoking work that abruptly calls into question the issue of insider versus outsider and other assumptions that have obscured the complexities of Native art Randolph Lewis offers an insightful introduction and analysis of Navajo Talking Picture in which he shows that it is not simply the first Navajo produced film but also a path breaking work in the history of indigenous media in the United States Placing the film in a number of revealing contexts including the long history of Navajo people working in Hollywood the ethics of documentary filmmaking and the often problematic reception of Native art Lewis explores the tensions and mysteries hidden in this unsettling but fascinating film
