Talking Snooker:

Talking Snooker Fred Davis, 1983      Snooker's World Champions Luke Williams, Paul Gadsby, 2012-10-05 The top snooker players in the world compete for several trophies every year but one carries more prestige than all the others put together the World Championship No other tournament in the sport carries with it so much history so many golden moments of spectacular success and dramatic failure Meticulously researched and including exclusive interview material with Steve Davis Stephen Hendry and 2005 world champion Shaun Murphy among others Masters of the Baize is a comprehensive guide to the men who have lifted the greatest prize in snooker From the legendary Joe Davis the first champion in 1927 to modern day masters like Mark Williams all the sport's world champions are put under the microscope while the colourful careers of forgotten figures such as Walter Donaldson and John Pulman and rogue heroes like Alex Higgins and Ronnie O'Sullivan are brought vividly to life After uncovering the inauspicious origins of the game in nineteenth century India the authors examine every former world champion in his own comprehensive chapter Additionally a special section focuses on the extraordinary popularity of Jimmy White by far the greatest player never to have won the title and one of the most emotive names in the sport

London and the South-East David Szalay, 2017-10-03 Never before published in the United States the debut novel by the wildly talented author of Booker Prize Finalist All That Man Is That clattering noise you hear is the sound of critics and readers racing to find David Szalay's earlier books an activity worth the effort wrote Dwight Garner in his New York Times review of Szalay's All That Man Is And now American readers finally have their chance with his debut novel London and the South East Paul Rainey the hapless antihero at the center of this compulsively readable Independent on Sunday story works miserably in ad sales He sells space in magazines that hardly exist and through a fog of booze and drugs dimly perceives that he is dissatisfied with his life professionally sexually recreationally the whole nine yards If only there were something he could do about it and something seems to fall into his lap when a meeting with an old friend and fellow salesman Eddy Jaw leads to the offer of a new job But when that offer turns out to be as misleading as Paul's own sales patter his life is transformed in ways very much more peculiar than he ever thought possible London and the South East which won the Betty Trask Prize and the Geoffrey Faber Memorial Prize is both a gloriously told shaggy dog story about the compromising inanities of office life and consumer culture and the perfect introduction to one of the best writers at work today

Clips of the Week Paul Hawksbee, Andy Jacobs, 2013-11-07 Every Friday afternoon at 3.30 the whole office at talkSPORT Towers stops to listen to the station's most popular feature Clips of the Week presented by Paul Hawksbee and Andy Jacobs For all the professionalism of the presenters there are always those moments when things don't quite go right and words get jumbled up or a guest on a phone in says something so extraordinary you have to stop and think did he really just say that For 13 years now the hosts of the afternoon show have been running this feature in the process collecting almost 4000 hilarious clips In this book we get to read the very best of the best they include Alan Brazil's occasional on air lapses as when he introduced

Man Talk - The Sequel David Hughes,2018-05-01 This is the second book by David Hughes on the subject of his own personal feelings and opinions of the world he lives and exists in covering 2010 to 2017 with updates and new and more interesting personal thoughts experiences and actual true facts The book details his acquired knowledge and the beliefs that he has obtained as he trawled through the world around him His life has been totally different and is far more complex in comparison to the world in which most persons will exist The world has had the little red book and the little black book and now there is the little blue book

Can I Carry Your Bags? Martin Johnson,2015-06-04 In nearly 25 years as a sports journalist for the Independent Daily Telegraph and The Sunday Times Martin Johnson has covered sporting events all over the world including cricket and tennis in Australia golf in America Formula One in Kuala Lumpur boxing in Cairo petanque in Gran Canaria beach volleyball in Brazil Olympics in Sydney football in China and rugby in South Africa Sounds like a nice job You must be joking Get the true story from sports journalism's equivalent of Victor Meldrew Ever tried to get a phone call out of Nagpur Make contact with the office from Norfolk Island Trudged several miles up a Japanese mountain to watch Britain's No 1 woman skier plough straight through the first gate Attempted to write a semi coherent report after a night out with Ian Botham Nearly frozen to death at a cricket match in New Zealand Been hijacked in Moscow by a drunken Russian It's hell out there says Martin who makes out his case for a life of hardship deprivation and a breathless dedication to duty in the face of overwhelming odds Frankly however we still think it reads more like the Life of Riley

Team Talk Julian Walker,2013-01-20 Have you ever wondered why we talk about a handicap in sport why boxing is so named or whether a dumbbell ever rang It was during the nineteenth century that hitherto local games with relaxed and varying rules were formalized During this process terminologies developed to refer to these new standardized sports borrowing modifying and redefining words from all walks of life in sometimes strange and unexpected ways Considering such subjects as why sport shares so many words with the fields of hunting and conflict and how English sports terms have been both adopted from and given to other languages this book looks at how words have come into the field of sport and how they have developed and changed
