Taming The Jungle In British Malaya:

Nature and Nation Jeyamalar Kathirithamby-Wells, 2005-10-31 Nature and Nation explores the relations between people and forests in Peninsular Malaysia where the planet's richest terrestrial eco system met head on with the fastest pace of economic transformation experienced in the tropical world It engages the interplay of history culture science economics and politics to provide a holistic interpretation of the continuing relevance of forests to state and society in the moist tropics Malaysia has long been singled out for emulation by developing nations an accolade contradicted in recent years by concerns over its capital rather than poverty driven forest depletion The Malaysian case supports the call for re appraisal of entrenched prescriptions for development that go beyond material needs Book cover Anderson's Travel Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson, 2016-12-05 A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non fiction presented together this companion is for all those who like travelling like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination It covers guidebooks as well as books about food history art and architecture religion outdoor activities illustrated books autobiographies biographies and fiction and lists books both in and out of print Anderson's Travel Companion is arranged first by continent then alphabetically by country and then by subject cross referenced where necessary There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects She is known by well known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse among others made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion Extreme Violence and the 'British Way' Michelle Gordon, 2020-10-29 Analysing three cases of British colonial violence that occurred in the latter half of the 19th century this book argues that all three share commonalities including the role of racial prejudices in justifying the perpetration of extreme colonial violence Exploring the connections and comparisons between the Perak War 1875-76 the Hut Tax Revolt in Sierra Leone 1898-99 and the Anglo Egyptian War of Reconquest in the Sudan 1896-99 Gordon highlights the significance of decision making processes communication between London and the periphery and the influence of individual colonial administrators in outbreaks of violence This study reveals the ways in which racial prejudices the advocacy of a British civilising mission and British racial superiority informed colonial administrators decisions on the ground as well as the rationalisation of extreme violence Responding to a neglect of British colonial atrocities within the historiography of colonial violence this work demonstrates the ways in which Britain was just as willing and able as other European Empires to resort to extreme measures in the face of indigenous resistance or threats to the British imperial project Taming the Jungle Pat Barr, 1977 Out in the Midday Sun Margaret Shennan, 2015-11-01 The story of British Malaya and Singapore from the days of Victorian pioneers to the denouement of independence is a momentous episode in Britain's colonial past Through memoirs letters and interviews Margaret Shennan chronicles its halcyon years the two World

Merchants, Bankers, Governors: British Enterprise In Singapore And Malaya, 1786-1920 Peter Joseph Drake, 2017-07-07 One of the book's several strong points are the amusing often fascinating sketches of government officials and British merchants This is a book of light touch and readable style but also of much information Especially useful to the specialist are the examination of European Chinese credit relationships and the use of merchant house archive material The book will take its place among principal works on Malayan economic history and should over the coming years further promote its ongoing revival Asian Pacific Economic Literature This is the story of British enterprise in Singapore and Malaya from 1786 to 1920 when British vision zeal and drive developed Penang then Singapore and finally the peninsular Malay States In the initial years commerce and finance were paramount The seeds of these commercial activities had been planted initially in the days of the East India Company but later and more importantly by individual merchant firms supported by credit from London These merchants were the driving force of British investment and development on the Malay Peninsula While the contributions of the Malays Indians and especially the Chinese to economic development should not be under rated in the period under review their activities were steered and monitored by the British This book presents an original and coherent account of British Enterprise in Singapore and Malaya in an important historical period and includes substantial new material from primary records of merchant firms and banks which will be of great interest to students professionals as well as the general public

Hollow Heroes Michael Arnold,2020-01-10 These revealing portraits of Churchill Montgomery and Mountbatten expose the truth about the most famous British figures in WWII history Hollow Heroes separates fact from fiction regarding three of Great Britain s most revered World War II era military leaders Winston Churchill Bernard Montgomery and Louis Mountbatten revealing that their reputations were largely built on deception and dishonesty Examining the influence of class in the British Army historian Michael Arnold notes that officer promotion was based more on social background than effectiveness Field Marshall Montgomery feared and envied Gen Patton whose rate of advance was nearly always twice that of Monty s Meanwhile the services of Field Marshals Wavell and Auchinleck two of Britain s finest commanders were largely lost to Britain because of Churchill s interfering in field matters and his contrivances to remain in power after Singapore was lost on his watch Adm Mountbatten s fumbling in India is also realistically portrayed exposing the man for the century s overly embellished reputation

British Rule in Malaya Robert Heussler,1981-04-13 From Equality to Inequality Csilla Dallos,2011-04-09 The egalitarian society once enjoyed by the Lanoh hunter gatherers of Peninsular Malaysia is quickly changing Throughout a year of ethnographic fieldwork among the Lanoh Csilla Dallos studied and interpreted social change in order to better understand the processes leading to inequality and the concurrent development of social complexity within a community From Equality to Inequality provides rich empirical data on the factors within a community that significantly affect the development of inequality including the effects of sedentism integration leadership competition self aggrandizement marginalization and feuding kinship groups In this case study Dallos argues that in order to understand emerging inequality anthropologists and social scientists need to revisit current conceptions of politics in small scale egalitarian societies Offering a new model of developing social inequality that is congruent with the principles of complexity theory From Equality to Inequality is a sterling example of how anthropological practice can further our general understanding of human behaviour
