Canadian History: Confederation to the present

Martin Brook Taylor,Doug Owram,1994-01-01 In these two volumes which replace the Reader s Guide to Canadian History experts provide a select and critical guide to historical writing about pre and post Confederation Canada with an emphasis on the most recent scholarship Cover

Capitalism and Colonialism: The Making of Modern Canada 1890-1960 Bryan D. Palmer,2025-09-02 This second volume of Bryan Palmer s history of Canada covers 1890 to 1960 Weaving together themes that include business labour politics and social history this account brings the experiences of Indigenous peoples into the centre of the narrative Canada experienced extraordinary growth during these decades notably after the Second World War when many Canadians quickly became far better off Yet vast inequalities persisted Indigenous peoples experienced ongoing and often worsening deprivation and ordinary people saw little or no real improvement in their lives These realities set the stage for the interplay of reform resistance and reaction that followed after 1960 Palmer examines the continuing role of capitalism and colonialism in structuring Canada in the period between 1890 and 1960 from capital s conflicts and fragile ententes with labour to the struggles of Indigenous Peoples and francophone Canada and the changing role of Canadian capital internationally Relying on the work of scholars who have produced a vast academic literature on a wide range of topics in Canadian history Bryan Palmer offers a new history of Canada which reflects the knowledge and values of 21st century Canadians

The State, Business, and Industrial Change in Canada Michael M. Atkinson,William D. Coleman,1989-12-15 The late twentieth century has seen profound changes in the character of the international economic order According to the authors of this study Canada has failed to come to terms with those changes Our industrial policy is diffuse ad hoc and sectoral Michael Atkinson and William Coleman argue that in order to analyse Canada s industrial policy effectively particular attention must be given to industry organization state structures and systems of interest intermediation at the sectoral level To make such an analysis they introduce the concept of policy network and apply it to three types of industrial sectors the research intensive sectors of telecommunications manufacturing and pharmaceuticals the rapidly changing sectors of petrochemicals and meat processing and the contracting and troubled sectors of textiles clothing and dairy processing Through the lens of these sectors Coleman and Atkinson shed considerable light on the intersection of political considerations and policy development and offer a new base on which to move forward in planning for economic growth

The Banking and Financial Structure in the Nafta Countries and Chile George M. von Furstenberg,2012-12-06 Since the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA took effect at the start of 1994 production and trade in goods and services have become ever more integrated in the region Banking and financial systems thus also must increasingly inform adjudicate transact invest insure and intermediate all across North America Presently however there is no single or up to date source of information on the banking and finance systems of current Canada the United States and Mexico and prospective Chile NAFTA countries This volume presents the first report on the banking and financial structure of each of the three NAFTA countries and Chile Canadian Multinationals and International Finance Gregory P. Marchildon, Duncan McDowall, 2013-12-02 Seven studies explore the modest but significant role of Canadian multinational enterprises in world finance trade and direct investment Presents a historical overview analyses of individual companies and considerations of whole industries

A History of Law in Canada, Volume Two Jim Phillips, Philip Girard, R. Blake Brown, 2022-11-01 This is the second of three volumes in an important collection that recounts the sweeping history of law in Canada The period covered in this volume witnessed both continuity and change in the relationships among law society Indigenous peoples and white settlers The authors explore how law was as important to the building of a new urban industrial nation as it had been to the establishment of colonies of agricultural settlement and resource exploitation The book addresses the most important developments in the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries including legal pluralism and the co existence of European and Indigenous law It pays particular attention to the Métis and the Red River Resistance the Indian Act and the origins and expansion of residential schools in Canada The book is divided into four parts the law and legal institutions Indigenous peoples and Dominion law capital labour and criminal justice and those less favoured by the law A History of Law in Canada examines law as a dynamic process shaped by and affecting other histories over the long term

Evolving Financial Markets and International Capital Flows Lance E. Davis, Robert E. Gallman, 2001-05-07 This study examines the impact of British capital flows on the evolution of capital markets in four countries Argentina Australia Canada and the United States over the years 1870 to 1914 In substantive chapters on each country it offers parallel histories of the evolution of their financial infrastructures commercial banks non bank intermediaries primary security markets formal secondary security markets and the institutions that provide the international financial links connecting the frontier country with the British capital market At one level the work constitutes a quantitative history of the development of the capital markets of five countries in the late nineteenth century At a second level it provides the basis for a useable taxonomy for the study of institutional invention and innovation At a third it suggests some lessons from the past about modern policy issues
