David Weitzner,2019-03-05 Prescriptions for imaginative living in today's noisy and ever narrowing world Our social conversation has gone awry We are surrounded by noise and retreating to social media bubbles As conversations across ideological divides become increasingly difficult we as a society need to rethink what it means to listen to think to create and to be democratically engaged citizens Fifteen Paths documents the journey of a disillusioned business professor who came to realize that in order to transcend the noise we need more imaginative expressions and fewer argumentative ones David Weitzner sought the counsel of fourteen iconoclastic artists including Lee Ranaldo Sonic Youth Jeff Coffin Dave Matthews Band Mike Mignola Hellboy Lydia Lunch and Del the Funky Homosapien The book offers 15 concrete courses of action to reimagine a socially engaged life and an afterword documenting the surprising outcome of the author's personal journey

Acquired Tastes Colin Bannerman, Gay Bilson, 1998 Looks at culinary fare since the beginning of white settlement in Australia Sea rations Damper Billy tea Colonial cookery Early practices of the 20th century Traditional Australian meat pie Pie floater P 68 Household domestic equipment In the Jaws of the Leviathan Joya Uraizee, 2020-06-01 This book analyzes representations of mass violence in film and fiction about African South American and Asian genocides from the points of view of the bystander and the survivor It argues that in commercial film and fiction metaphors and looks represent the violence and trauma indirectly even when the representation is quite graphic whereas in experimental novels and films looks used to describe the violence are individualized or interactive Both Bapsi Sidhwa's novel Cracking India and Deepa Mehta's film Earth deal with the violence of the partition of India in 1947 While Cracking India educates us about the dangers of the beast the violence Earth shows us the impact the beast has on victims like the beautiful Ayah nanny Similarly both Buchi Emecheta's novel Destination Biafra and Charles Enonchong's videos The Nigerian Biafran War Parts I II III depict the Nigerian Civil War of 1966-69 Yet while Emecheta's metaphors of division and bestiality highlight the selfishness of politicians and the suffering of civilians like Debbie looks exchanged by the survivors and the military in Enonchong's videos highlight the tragic ways in which generals like Ojukwu betrayed and were betrayed. Metaphors and looks in Isabel Allende's novel The House of the Spirits and Bille August's movie which is based on it depict the terror of Pinochet's 1973-89 dictatorship in Chile. Allende and August use metaphors and looks of sight and blindness to describe torture survivor Alba Blanca's trauma. Alba Blanca re-tells the events of the past in order to survive. Photo-journalist Alfredo Jaar's photos and notes Let There Be Light and Terry George's feature film Hotel Rwanda both depict the Rwandan genocide of 1994 but their emphasis is on inability of the Western bystander/reader to hear or see the pain of the survivors. Accordingly Jaar and George choose dark metaphors and looks to represent the violence using diffuse lighting, fades and absences to stand for the violence and trauma. Overall representations of genocide that involve individualized metaphors and interactive looks are vitally important if the complexities of that violence are to be appreciated in the West.

Rhubarb Desoto Stephen R. Roberts, 2004-08. The Oxford Dictionary of Rhyming Slang John Ayto, 2002. Rhyming slang is a subject of perennial interest to the general language-conscious public. This book with entries arranged in topic areas such as clothing, food and drink, animals, sex and illness, illustrates how rich and entertaining a language form it is. Through extensive examples, John Ayto explores the range and development of rhyming slang during its 150-year history from the bees and honey, oily rag and Uncle Ned of traditional Cockney Rhyming Slang to the popney rhyming slang of today.
