Phillips,Oliver E. Williamson,2016-11-11 The sixteen essays in this collection are organized around five themes The first group is concerned with the pricing implications of recent developments in the theory of the firm The subject of the second group is wage price guidelines in theory and practice The third set deals with pricing in regulated industries with special attention to marginal cost pricing Marketing models and empirical studies of pricing behavior are considered in the fourth set of essays And the final group closely related to this deals with the rationality properties of business pricing decisions and the implications of pricing practices for antitrust enforcement If a common view on pricing emerges from these provocative and timely papers it is that an eclectic approach to pricing theories policies and practices appears at this stage to be appropriate since neither neoclassical theory nor recent amendments extensions or alternatives to it appear individually rich enough to embrace the full range of variety that pricing behavior affords The Flat Earth Trilogy Book of Secrets I

Tending to the Past Karen Michele Chandler, 2024-01-18 In many popular depictions of Black resistance to slavery stereotypes around victimization and the heroic efforts of a small number of individuals abound These ideas ignore the powers of ordinary families and obscure the systematic working of racism Tending to the Past Selfhood and Culture in Children s Narratives about Slavery and Freedom examines Black authored historical novels and films for children that counter this distortion and depict creative means by which ordinary African Americans survived slavery and racism in early America Tending to the Past argues that this important understudied historical writing freedom narratives calls on young readers to be active critical thinkers about the past and its legacies within the present The book examines how narratives by children's book authors such as Joyce Hansen Julius Lester Marilyn Nelson and Patricia McKissack and the filmmakers Charles Burnett and Zeinabu irene Davis were influenced by Black cultural imperatives such as the Black Arts Movement to foster an engaged culturally aware public Through careful analysis of this rich body of work Tending to the Past thus contributes to ongoing efforts to construct a history of Black children's literature and film attuned to its range specificity and depths Tending to the Past provides illuminating interpretations that will help scholars and educators see the significance of the freedom narratives reconstructions in a neoliberal era a time of shrinking opportunities for many African Americans It offers models for understanding the powers and continuing relevance of the Black child's creative agency and the Black cultural practices that have fostered it

The Utility of Force Rupert Smith, 2007-01-16 From a highly decorated general a brilliant new way of understanding war and its role in the twenty first century Drawing on his vast experience as a commander during the first Gulf War and in Bosnia Kosovo and Northern Ireland General Rupert Smith gives us a probing analysis of modern war He demonstrates why today s conflicts must be understood as intertwined political and military events and makes clear why the current model of total war has failed in Iraq Afghanistan and other recent campaigns Smith offers a compelling contemporary vision for how to secure our world and the consequences of ignoring the new shifting face of war The Origins of Self Martin P. J.

Edwardes, 2019-07-22 The Origins of Self explores the role that selfhood plays in defining human society and each human individual in that society It considers the genetic and cultural origins of self the role that self plays in socialisation and language and the types of self we generate in our individual journeys to and through adulthood Edwardes argues that other awareness is a relatively early evolutionary development present throughout the primate clade and perhaps beyond but self awareness is a product of the sharing of social models something only humans appear to do The self of which we are aware is not something innate within us it is a model of our self produced as a response to the models of us offered to us by other people Edwardes proposes that human construction of selfhood involves seven different types of self All but one of them are internally generated models and the only non model the actual self is completely hidden from conscious awareness We rely on others to tell us about our self and even to let us know we are a self Varieties of Personal Theology David T. Gortner,2016-02-17 Varieties of Personal Theology starts from the premise that all human beings are folk theologians active not only in constructing selves but also in constructing worlds and guiding philosophies of life Through fascinating indepth interviews and surveys David Gortner looks specifically at emerging adults aged 18 25 as young theologians who regardless of religious background wrestle with fundamental questions of place purpose ultimate cause and ultimate aims in life This book charts the subtle and significant influences of social class family school work peer relationships religion and intrinsic attitudes and dispositions on young adults personal theologies and traces the ways their personal theologies connect with choices they make in their daily lives in education jobs leisure and relationships Intentionally crossing boundaries between religious and social science fields Gortner combines perspectives from both to demonstrate how theological diversity persists in America despite some clear culturally dominant trends This book reveals how American young adults are active theologians forging diverse ways of seeing and being in the world shaped by their experiences and in turn continuing to shape their choices in life *Printers' Ink; the ...
