Women and the Nigeria-Biafra War Sussie U. Aham-Okoro, Gloria Chuku, 2020-10-07 This first comprehensive study of the Nigeria Biafra War 1967-1970 through the lens of gender explores the valiant and gallant ways women carried out old and new responsibilities in wartime and immediate postwar Nigeria The book presents women as embodiments of vulnerability and agency who demonstrated remarkable resilience and initiative waging war on all fronts in the face of precarious conditions and scarcities and maximizing opportunities occasioned by the hostilities Women's experiences are highlighted through critical analyses of oral interviews memoirs life histories fashion and material culture international legal conventions music as well as governmental and non governmental sources The book fills the gap in the war scholarship that has minimized women's complex experiences fifty years after the hostilities ended It highlights the cost of the conflict on Nigerian women their participation in the hostilities and their contributions to the survival of families communities and the country The chapters present counter narratives to fictional and nonfictional accounts of the war especially those written by men which often peripheralize or stereotypically represent women as passive spectators or helpless victims of the conflict and also highlight and exaggerate women's moral laxity and sensationalize their marital infidelities

From Biafra to the Niger Delta Conflict Edlyne Eze Anugwom, 2018-11-23 This book analyzes the influence of memory on social conflict as well as the role of ethnicity in state formation and governance in Nigeria It examines the nexus between the Nigerian civil war and the conflict in the oil rich Niger Delta against the background of memory and ethnicization of the state Ultimately both social conflicts though separated by decades profit from shared memories in a largely ethnicized state structure Nigeria emerges as a centrifugal state characterized by bias in resource distribution and concentration of power in the center These forces create the perception of marginalization and sponsor enduring memory of a biased state not helped by failure of the state to ensure closure of the civil war The book argues that the non systematic closure of the civil war has generated memory lapse which has given rise to social conflicts and dissension in the socio geographical region of the erstwhile Biafra republic These conflicts in the contemporary history of Nigeria include the persistent Niger Delta oil conflict and recurrent struggle for the realization of a sovereign state of Biafra In effect these conflicts are products of structural bias and distributional injustice and both can be related to the social memory lag of the civil war and weak Nigerian state The book traces how memory is produced and disseminated within social groups in Southeastern Nigeria which is the theater of both the civil war and youth driven oil conflict in the Niger Delta While these conflicts have without doubt benefitted from memory lapse of the past they have equally drawn momentum from ethnicity which has significantly and negatively affected the role of the state

1967-1970 Al J. Venter, 2016-02-19 Almost half a century has passed since the Nigerian Civil War ended But memories die hard because a million or more people perished in that internecine struggle the majority women and children who were starved to death Biafra's war was modern Africa's first extended conflict It lasted almost three years and was based largely on ethnic by inference tribal grounds It involved on the one side a largely Christian or animist southeastern quadrant of Nigeria which called itself Biafra pitted militarily against the country's more populous and preponderant Islamic north These divisions almost always brutal persist Not a week goes by without reports coming in of Christian communities or individuals persecuted by Islamic zealots It was also a conflict that saw significant Cold War involvement the Soviets and Britain siding and supplying Federal Nigeria with weapons aircraft and expertise and several Western states Portugal South Africa and France especially providing clandestine help to the rebel state For that reason alone this book is an important contribution towards understanding Nigeria's ethnic divisions which are no better today than they were then Biafra was the first of a series of religious wars that threaten to engulf much of Africa Similar conflicts have recently taken place in the Ivory Coast Kenya Southern Sudan the Central African Republic Senegal Cassamance both Congo Republics and elsewhere As the war progressed Biafra also attracted mercenary involvement many of whom arriving from the Congo which had already seen much turmoil Western pilots were hired by Lagos and they flew the first Soviet MiG 17 jet fighters to have played an active role in a Western war Al Venter spent time covering this struggle He left the rebel enclave in December 1969 only weeks before it ended and claims the distinction of being the only foreign correspondent to have been rocketed by both sides first by Biafra's tiny Swedish built Minicon fighter planes while he was on a ship lying at anchor in Warri harbour and thereafter by MiG jets flown by mercenaries Among his colleagues inside the beleaguered territory were the celebrated Italian photographer Romano Cagnoni as well as Frederick Forsyth who originally reported for the BBC and then resigned because of the partisan pro Nigerian stance taken by Whitehall He briefly shared quarters with French photographer Giles Caron who was later killed in Cambodia Prior to that Venter had been working for John Holt in Lagos It is interesting that his office at the time was at Ikeja International Airport Murtala Muhammed today where the second Nigerian army mutiny was plotted and from where it was launched From this perspective he had a proverbial ringside seat of the tribal divisions that followed as hostilities escalated Venter took numerous photos while on this West African assignment both in Nigeria while he was based there and later in Biafra itself Others come from various sources including some from the same mercenary pilots who originally targeted him from the air Biafra Genocide Al J. Venter, 2018-08-30 One of the great tragedies of Africa is not only the fact that a million people mostly civilians and a large proportion of them children died in one of Africa's first post independence wars but that until it happened the world thought Nigeria was immune from the wasting disease of tribalism It certainly was not because the Biafran War is still the most expansive tribal conflagration that the continent has experienced barring perhaps the ongoing Great Lakes conflict involving the forces of East and West only this time with the British siding with the Soviets Worse some of the religious differences that emerged before and after that dreadful carnage are still with us today During the course of hostilities that lasted almost four years a lot of other shortcomings surfaced in Africa's most populous nation including the kind of corruption that until then had always been linked to countries rich in oil Disunity incompetence and instability from which Nigeria never really recovered also emerged Two bloody army coups followed after the rebels capitulated together with an appalling series of massacres mostly of southern Christians by Muslim northerners Half a century later the slaughter continues Torn Apart Francoise UGOCHUKWU, 2010-11-30 The Nigerian Civil War 1967-1970 also known as the Biafran War has been described as a forgotten war Yet it led to the birth of the NGO Doctors without Borders Medecins sans frontieres and equipped journalists with the intercultural skills they later used in their coverage of other African conflicts The Biafran conflict equally ended up strengthening the special relationship between France and Nigeria From 1970 in particular the Nigerian education sector was taken up with a wave of francophilia which boosted the teaching of French in Language programmes at the secondary school level The Civil War which ravaged the South Eastern part of the federation was above all a collective experience which inspired poets novelists and playwrights Achebe Soyinka Okigbo Saro Wiwa Okpewho Adichie and others while bringing about a massive religious revival which affected the whole region The war mobilised politicians and NGOs it changed the country and brought it into the limelight This book reveals through the study of oral genres radio bulletins and the impact of the conflict on literature and the Web the human history of the war the role played by the media and the deep scar the conflict left on the bodies and minds of survivors
