Surviving The Leaving Certificate Points For Parents:

Surviving the Leaving Cert Marie Murray, 2002 Surviving the Leaving Cert Points for Parents is a comprehensive guide for parents and students to help them navigate the daunting territory of the Leaving Cert year. Psychologist Marie Murray provides new and important insights into the needs of young people preparing to sit the Leaving Cert. Designed to help parents to distinguish between issues that are exam related and those that are part of this age and stage, the book outlines the signs and symptoms of a student under pressure, stressed, distressed or depressed. Every aspect of the Leaving Cert is covered: the CAO, time management, study strategies, family problems, specific learning studies. Parents are helped to be supportive, encouraging and motivating right up to the day students receive their exam results. The book includes suggestions from students as to how parents could be more helpful to them. The author in turn provides pointers for students on how to communicate effectively with parents. Written in a lively and accessible style with many user friendly bullet points, Surviving the Leaving Cert Points for Parents is an indispensable resource for every Irish family. Coping with Depression in

Young People Carol Fitzpatrick, John Sharry, 2004-06-25 Depressive disorders can produce dramatic and frightening changes in young people's behaviour but while parents may suspect something is wrong they are often at a loss to know what. This book shows parents how to tell the difference between the ordinary ups and downs and true depression, helping them better understand clinical warning signs and the various approaches to treatment. Dealing sensitively with how depression sometimes manifests itself, self-harm, alcohol and drug abuse and suicide attempts, the book offers parents practical guidance on how they can reach out to their children and find professional assistance. Books Ireland, 2003 Sorted! Andrée Harpur, Mary Quirke, 2011 Written by two experienced career guidance counsellors in an honest and clear style, Sorted helps parents and secondary school students to negotiate the tricky process of choosing a career. With the intention of removing the stress and complications of making career decisions, Sorted outlines all the different options upon leaving school: higher education, further education, studying abroad, apprenticeships and professional training. Explains how to make informed decisions around key areas such as the CAO process and choosing school subjects. Explores how natural interests and abilities can lead to an enjoyable and successful career. Sorted is an essential guide to the world beyond school, primarily for parents but will also prove useful for students, teachers and career guidance counsellors. About the authors: Andrée Harpur and Andrée Harpur and Associates is an established guidance counsellor. She writes columns on career development in the Irish Times and the Sunday Business Post and is on the staff of the Masters in Career Guidance in Dublin City University. Mary Quirke is a private guidance counsellor with Career Confidence and assistant director of the Association of Higher Education Access and Disability (AHEAD). All in all, it is a fine product with a clearly defined audience. For any parent of a Leaving Cert student, this would make ideal reading. While a lot of information is shared on the parental network and grapevine, it is often not always reliable information and this very readable book along with an approachable Guidance Counsellor should help fill the
