Surviving The Prison Place Narratives Of Suicidal Prisoners:

Surviving the Prison Place Diana Medlicott, 2024-07-01 Suicide in prison is a growing problem across the developed world Originally published in 2001 this book sets out to enlarge understanding of the complexities of suicidal feelings and of the part played by some inalienable features of prison life It does this by presenting and analysing prisoners accounts of their most intimate responses to the deprivations of prison in particular the stringent control and management of their personal time and space These accounts show in more graphic form than previous literature the depth of suffering as well as the range of creative responses produced in prisoners through interaction with the prison environment Prisoners themselves have enormous need for more humane and interactive management of the problem and their accounts show clearly how prisoner expertise could be utilised in profoundly significant ways This book will be of interest to all who research live or work in prison as well as to students and practitioners in criminology penology criminal justice sociology psychology psychiatry and health , Understanding the Educational Experiences of Imprisoned Men Helen Nichols, 2021-02-28 Understanding the Educational Experiences of Imprisoned Men explores how adult male prisoners interpret and give value to their experiences of education presenting an opportunity to consider how education can be beneficial to prisoners including and beyond the enhancement of employability skills While the primary aim for education in prison has been to increase employability skills to prevent reoffending further attention needs to be given to the broader outcomes of educational experiences and the importance of the development of other personal attributes including self confidence empowerment and the ability to engage in positive relationships This book considers how education is also used by men in prison to cope with prison life to reconsider their identity and to develop and maintain relationships It also discusses the relationships that prisoners have with their teachers and other prison staff as well as the relationships that different types of prison staff have between each other In addition the role that education can play in the process of desistance from crime is discussed to provide an understanding of what changes occur in men who participate in educational courses This book will be of interest to not only students and scholars with an interest in imprisonment rehabilitation and criminal justice practice but also educationalists those who work in the prison setting and in social work It may also appeal to those involved in community development programmes and broader sociological research Controversial Issues In Prisons Scott, David, Codd, Helen, 2010-05-01 Controversial Issues in Prisons is a textbook designed to explore eight of the most controversial aspects of imprisonment in England and Wales today It is primarily a book about the people who are sent to prison and what happens to them when inside Each chapter examines a different dimension of the prison population and draws upon the sociological imagination to make connections between the personal troubles and vulnerabilities of those incarcerated with wider structural divisions which plague the society we live in The book investigates controversies surrounding the incarceration of people with mental health problems women children foreign nationals offenders with suicidal ideation sex offenders drug takers and the collateral consequences of incarceration on prisoners families Each chapter on these eight substantive topics shares a common structure and answers the following key questions How have people conceptualised this penal controversy What does the official data tell us and what are its limitations What is its historical context What are the contemporary policies of the Prison Service Are they legitimate and if not what are the alternatives Ultimately the authors argue that in combination these controversial issues raise fundamental concerns about the legitimacy of the confinement project and the kind of society in which it is deemed essential The book concludes with a discussion of why it remains important to make penal controversies visible challenge penological illiteracy and provide alternative means of responding to human wrongdoing rooted in the principles of human rights and social justice

Young Men's Experiences of Long-Term Imprisonment Rachel Tynan, 2019-01-15 Long sentenced young people are a small but significant part of the juvenile prison population The current approach to young people convicted of serious crime speaks to wider issues in criminal and social justice including the idealisation of some childhoods processes of racialisation and identity and the sociology of the body Analysing the relationships between biography trauma and habitus reveals the ways in which class racial and legal status are experienced and resisted Young Men's Experiences of Long Term Imprisonment Living Life considers the need for the reinvigoration of prison ethnography and calls for a phenomenological approach to understanding youth crime and punishment An insightful ethnographic study on imprisoned 15 to 17 year olds in England this volume examines how young people experience long term imprisonment manage their time and imagine and shape their futures Drawing on observations interviews and correspondence Tynan situates long term imprisonment of young men within the wider social context of criminal and social justice and analyses constructs and practices that locate responsibility for crime with individuals and communities Young Men's Experiences of Long Term Imprisonment Living Life will be of interest to students and researchers interested in the sociology of prisons punishment and youth justice and qualitative research methodology

Abolitionist Voices David Gordon Scott, 2025-03-19 Why have so many radical thinkers advocated for the abolition of prisons and punishment And why have their ideas been so difficult to popularize or garner the political will for change This book outlines several different approaches to penal abolitionism and showcases their calls for the ending of legal coercion domination and repression This exciting and innovative edited collection shows how abolitionist ideas have continued topicality and relevance in the present day and how they can collectively help with devising new ways of thinking about social problems as well as suggesting alternatives to existing penal policies practices and institutions

Gender, Prison and Reentry Experiences Silvia Gomes, Dixie Rucker, 2024-04-30 This book explores the unique reentry experiences of incarcerated men and women who are about to be released from prisons in Portugal By analysing gendered reentry experiences through the narratives of men and women Gender Prison and Reentry Experiences sheds light on current practices and strategies adopted in prisons regarding reentry and examines the structural institutional and personal barriers that influence the reentry outcome Gender Prison and Reentry Experiences examines the narratives built around an individual's prison experiences, their perception of the prison's impact on reentry and their expectations after release. It reveals how men and women narrate and attribute meaning to their time in prison and how they navigate their prisoner and gendered identities. In doing so, this book demonstrates the importance of these identities in relation to recidivism and desistance while also questioning the role incarceration has in further criminalising and obstructing an individual's reentry process. It puts forward recommendations that aim to improve the lives of all incarcerated individuals within the current system in addition to advocating for decarceration and prison abolition. It presents a novel contribution to the internationalisation of knowledge across multiple disciplinary subfields, namely critical reentry studies and feminist criminology, filling a gap in the current knowledge as few studies focus on prison experiences as a core aspect of understanding the reentry process. An accessible and compelling read, this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology, sociology, law, desistance studies, and those interested in gaining a unique insight into the experience of incarcerated individuals.

Dictionary of Prisons and Punishment Yvonne

Jewkes, Jamie Bennett, 2013-01-11 Covers the rapidly developing and increasingly professionalized field of contemporary prison practice with its increased emphasis on skills and qualifications and its new set of ideas and concepts.

The Practice of Correctional Psychology Marguerite Ternes, Philip R. Magaletta, Marc W. Patry, 2018-11-24

This highly accessible volume tours the competencies and challenges relating to contemporary mental health service delivery in correctional settings. Balancing the general and specific knowledge needed for conducting effective therapy in jails and prisons, leading experts present eclectic theoretical models, current statistics, diagnostic information, and frontline wisdom. Evidence-based practices are detailed for mental health assessment, treatment, and management of inmates, including specialized populations: women, youth, and offenders with specific pathologies, sexual offenders, psychopaths. And readers are reminded that correctional psychology is in an evolutionary state, adapting to the diverse needs of populations and practitioners in the context of reducing further offending. Included in the coverage: Assessing and treating offenders with mental illness; Substance use disorders in correctional populations; Assessing and treating offenders with intellectual disabilities; Assessing and treating those who have committed sexual offenses; Self-harm, suicidality in corrections; Correctional staff; The issue of job stress. The Practice of Correctional Psychology will be of major interest to psychologists, social workers, and master's level clinicians and students who work in correctional institutions and settings with offenders on parole or probation, as well as other professionals within the correctional system who work directly with offenders, such as probation officers, parole officers, program officers, and corrections officers.

Carceral Geography Dominique Moran, 2016-04-08 The punitive turn has brought about new ways of thinking about geography and the state, and has highlighted spaces of incarceration as a new terrain for exploration by geographers. Carceral geography offers a geographical perspective on incarceration, and this volume accordingly tracks the ideas, practices, and engagements that have shaped the development of this new and vibrant subdiscipline and scopes out future research directions By conveying a sense of the debates directions and threads within the field of carceral geography it traces the inner workings of this dynamic field its synergies with criminology and prison sociology and its likely future trajectories Synthesizing existing work in carceral geography and exploring the future directions it might take the book develops a notion of the carceral as spatial emplaced mobile embodied and affective

Handbook on Prisons Yvonne Jewkes,2012-08-21 This is the most comprehensive and ambitious book on prisons to have been published a key text for anybody studying the subject and an essential work of reference for practitioners working in prisons and other parts of the criminal justice system It is especially timely in view of the many changes and debates about the role of prisons and their future organisation and management as part of the National Offender Management Service A key aim of the book is to explore a wide range of historical and contemporary issues relating to prisons imprisonment and prison management and to chart likely future trends Chapters in the book are written by leading scholars in the field and reflect the range and depth of prison research and scholarship Like the Handbook of Policing and Handbook of Crime Prevention and Community Safety the Handbook on Prisons will be the essential book on the subject

Inmates' Narratives and Discursive Discipline in Prison Jennifer Schlosser,2015-05-15 The question of what works in offender treatment has dominated the field of prisoner re entry and recidivism research for the last thirty years One of the primary ways the criminal justice system tries to reduce the rates of recidivism among offenders is through the use of cognitive behavioural programs CBP as in prison intervention strategies The emphasis for these programs is on the idea that inmates are in prison because they made poor choices and bad decisions Inmates thinking is characterized as flawed and the purpose of the program is to teach them to think and act in socially appropriate ways so they will be less inclined to return to prison after their release This book delves into the heart of one such cognitive behavioural programme examines its inner workings its effects on inmates narrated experience and considers what happens when a CBP of substandard quality and integrity is used as a gateway for inmates release Based on original empirical research this book provides realistic suggestions for improving policy for reforming current in prison programs engaging in problematic practices and for instituting alternatives that take the needs of the inmates into greater account This book is essential reading for students and academics engaged in the study of sociology criminal justice prisons social policy sentencing and punishment

Forgiveness: Promise, Possibility, & Failure ,2020-05-18 This inter disciplinary collection explores the wealth of nuances surrounding the concept and practice of forgiving The essays within this work ask what it means to forgive what constitutes an appropriate space to forgive what is to be expected of the victim and wrongdoer what actions must be connected to political forms of forgiveness

Handbook of Forensic Mental Health Keith Soothill,Paul Rogers,Mairead Dolan,2012-08-21 This is a comprehensive reference book on the subject of forensic mental health looking at what forensic mental health is and its assessment management and treatment It focuses on key topics and the issues underpinning them in contemporary society The book includes an account of the historical development of forensic mental health along with a description of the three mental health systems operating in the UK an in depth analysis of the forensic mental health process and system including an analysis of the different systems applied for juveniles and adults an examination of the main issues in forensic mental health including sex offending personality disorders and addiction a breakdown of the key skills needed for forensic mental health practice This is an authoritative reference book which will be a crucial text for practitioners academics and students in the forensic mental health field The Violence of Incarceration Phil Scraton, Jude

McCulloch, 2023-04-21 Conceived in the immediate aftermath of the humiliations and killings of prisoners in Afghanistan and Iraq of the suicides and hunger strikes at Guantanamo Bay and of the disappearances of detainees through extraordinary rendition this book explores the connections between these shameful events and the inhumanity and degradation of domestic prisons within the allied states including the USA Canada Australia the UK and Ireland The central theme is that the revelations of extreme brutality perpetrated by allied soldiers represent the inevitable end product of domestic incarceration predicated on the use of extreme violence including lethal force Exposing as fiction the claim to the political moral high ground made by western liberal democracies is critical because such claims animate and legitimate global actions such as the war on terror and the indefinite detention of tens of thousands of people by the United States which accompanies it The myth of moral virtue works to hide silence minimize and deny the brutal continuing history of violence and incarceration both within western countries and undertaken on behalf of western states beyond their national borders Marking Time in the

Golden State Candace Kruttschnitt, Rosemary Gartner, 2005 In recent decades the nature of criminal punishment has undergone change in the United States This case study of women serving time in California in the 1960s and 1990s examines key points in this recent history The authors begin with a look at imprisonment at the California Institution for Women in the early 1960s when the rehabilitative model dominated official discourse They compare women s experiences in the 1990s at the California Institution for Women and the Valley State Prison when the recent get tough era was near its peak Drawing on archival data interviews and surveys their analysis considers the relationships among official philosophies and practices of imprisonment women s responses to the prison regime and relations between women prisoners The experiences of women prisoners reflected the transformations Americans have witnessed in punishment over recent decades but they also mirrored the deprivations and restrictions of imprisonment

Children's Rights Ursula Kilkelly, 2017-07-05 The articles in this volume shed light on some of the major tensions in the field of children s rights such as the ways in which children s best interests and respect for their autonomy can be reconciled challenges such as how the CRC can be made a reality in the lives of children in the face of ignorance apathy or outright opposition and critiques whether children s rights are a Western imposition or a successful global consensus Along the way the writing covers a myriad of issues encompassing the opposition to the CRC in the US gay parenting Dr Seuss s take on children s autonomy the voice of neonates on their health care the role of NGO in supporting child labourers in India and young people in detention and more Towards a Victimology of State Crime Dawn Rothe, David Kauzlarich, 2016-05-13 State crime victimization often leaves a legacy of unrecognized victims that are ignored forgotten or negated the right to be labeled as such Victims are often glossed over as the focus is on a state's actions or inactions rather than the subsequent victimization and victims Towards a Victimology of State Crime serves to highlight the forgotten victims processes and cases of revictimization within a sociological criminological framework Contributors include expert scholars of state crime and victimology from North America Europe Africa and Latin America to provide a well rounded focus that can address and penetrate the issues of victims of state crime This includes a diverse number of case study examples of victims of state crime and the systems of control that facilitate or impede addressing the needs of victims Additionally with the inclusion of a section on controls this volume taps into an area that is often overlooked the international level of social control in relation to a victimology of state criminality Young Men, Masculinities and Imprisonment Conor Murray, 2023-07-14 Given the over involvement of young men in crime and young men's disproportionately high rates of reoffending it is surprising that more research has not explored young men's experiences of prison This book is based on the findings of a nine month ethnographic case study of Hydebank Wood College a young men's prison in Northern Ireland It seeks to explore the complexity of gender construction and masculine performance during young adulthood while also exposing and dissecting the turbulent social life of a young men's prison In examining these themes the book takes account of the unique social economic and political factors that impact young men in communities in Northern Ireland paying particular attention to their feelings of powerlessness marginalisation and vulnerability and the construction of identity in cultures defined by territorialism violence masculine stoicism and an anti authority code of honour The book follows the formation of masculinities through the prison gate and considers how the penal environment contributes to the continual shaping young men's identities The book also adopts Gambetta's concept of signalling to examine how young men use different practices such as language and embodiment to communicate masculinity to their wider social audience At the same time it also considers the reluctance of young men to communicate about their sources of vulnerability Caged Emotions Ben Laws, 2022-05-04 This book focuses on the emotional experience of imprisonment In no uncertain terms prisons seethe with emotions and feelings Based on two empirically rigorous studies this book analyses how prisoners attempt to adapt and control their emotions It begins with an account of male and female prisoners held in medium security prisons and then moves to the particular case of emotions in solitary confinement There has been a turn towards emotions in criminology but this is the first book to centralize the subject of prisoner emotions in a detailed manner The ethnographic study of feelings has much to contribute to broader debates about survival in prison and pathways to desistence Most importantly it emphasizes that full blooded depictions of prisoners belong at the heart of academic inquiry
